MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

February 8, 9, 11, 13 and 14.

THERE is still gloom in Wall Street this week, and at the moment it is impenetrable. Fear of everything is still further increased by what is a practical triple holiday, of which operators are always afraid, because something untoward may happen. Speculation there is none. Wall Street is poor, and is sitting up counting its losses of the past twelve months, during which time stocks in the main steadily declined, while the bull conditions steadily increased. Nothing like it has ever before been known, and it is small wonder that people hesitate to predict the outcome, and hold themselves ready to believe any forecast offered to them. Of course, it is just out of such conditions that past bull markets have started, and the great bourses the world over may have the courage to shake off this state of mind at any day—for that is all that it is, a state of mind. The fundamental conditions are sound and unshaken in their soundness, and presently the pendulum should sway as far as it has gone in the other direction. As matters stand it would appear that good stocks are a purchase at going prices, particularly those of the standard railroads, because, measured by earnings, the intrinsic value of the actual properties they represent have never before been as cheap even at their cheapest in the past. While in this column we give the actual situation, it may not be out of place to mention some of the alleged immediate causes of the irregularity in prices of certain stocks. In most cases they are explanations that do not explain. The heavy selling of Union Pacific was said to be the result of differences of opinion as to the effect of what would be Mr. Harriman's statement before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Yet Union Pacific at its present quotation is practically a 6 per cent. stock—certainly a good rate of interest. The granger stocks and steel, it is said, are being bought in London and other European centers; but still these issues do not advance. It is also asserted that some of that illusory element known as "the public" is making secret purchases of stocks through banks, thus enabling some insiders to liquidate considerably. What, however, most concerns real estate and building interests is the money market. There has been but little change this week, though the call loan rate again touched 5½ per cent. A significant utterance of James J. Hill may here be given for what it is worth: "I tell you that the railroad facilities of the country have been paralyzed by the growth of business. All the figures show it, and they cannot be answered. Not alone more cars, but more tracks and more terminals. This is what is needed."

WITH all its apparent solicitude for business, Congress persistently neglects one necessary subject of legislation reform which, if properly treated, would be of the utmost benefit to the business interests of the country. We refer, of course, to a change in the national currency, which would permit it to expand when business demands its expansion and contract when such a large volume of currency is no longer necessary. It is an extraordinary fact that business men do not seem to realize the peculiar importance of their interests in this matter. They allow a currency system to exist which encourages the rates on call money to vary in one year between two and fifty per cent., and which does them far more harm than it does to the banks. The banks, of course, profit from the high rates at which they can lend their money, and they are not, consequently, very eager to secure the passage of a currency reform bill. They doubtless realize that they run the risk of a panic; but they would rather assume that risk than forego the benefit which they derive from high interest rates in times of stringency. But business men have both to pay the high interest rates and run the grave risks which would befall all but the strongest of them from the violent contraction of credit which accompanies a panic. And among the business men who suffer most are real estate operators and builders. In times of stringency, such as the present, it is real estate loans which are most difficult to secure; and while under any system there would, of course, be periods in which interest rates were higher than others, the extreme scarcity which now lasts for years at a time, would be impossible. Organizations of business men all over the country should take the matter out of the hands of the banks, and agitate for a plan of currency reform which would really cure the existing evil.

EVERY plan proposed by the banks, merely arranges for an expansion of bank notes in times of stringency, without providing for any corresponding increase in the reserves which would safeguard the issue of such notes, and without providing for any diminution in the volume of existing bank notes during periods of easy money. The plain fact is that the conditions under which the existing national bank notes are issued make a flexible currency impossible, and that as long as these national bank notes constitute the only kind or the bulk of note issue, no permanent cure is possible. A national bank circulates its notes, not because there is a special demand for such circulation, but because the price of government bonds enables it to make a profit by so doing. The consequence is that these notes are not increased to any considerable extent when they are needed. Neither are they diminished when they are not needed. Hence, periods of extreme stringency, which place a heavy burden on all business transactions, requiring the use of credit alternate with periods of an over-plentiful supply which encourages unwholesome speculation. A radically different method of issuing notes is consequently a condition of a wholesome and flexible currency system, and it is just such a method which both Congress and the banks are loth to introduce. Congress avoids the matter because the existing bond-secured circulation makes the price of government bonds artificially low and any change would necessarily mean a fall in the price of United States securities. The national banks are equally reluctant to deal with the matter, because they would be the chief losers from such a fall in the price of government bonds. It is safe to say that nothing will be done until business men insist upon some thorough-going remedial action.

ANY one who has ever had experience in investigating the cause of a railroad disaster in which passengers have been killed and injured is aware of the difficulty of eliciting true facts bearing upon the responsibilities of the case. If the railroad officers know, they won't tell, and sometimes they don't care to know. A number of possible causes have been suggested for the Bronx Park derailment of last Saturday night, but in all probability it was simply due to the fact that the Harlem River division, or, to say the least, the curve at the Woodlawn Avenue bridge, was not fitted or adapted to the combination of heavy weights and high flights of speed as represented by the new electric engines. (1) The train was late and by impartial testimony was at a speed never seen on that stretch of road under steam power. (2) Any one who will look at the curve will see that the tracks are almost flat and are not banked sufficiently for a 90-ton engine running a mile-a-minute, or more. (3) The driver had never been obliged to stiffen his train on this curve when running a steam locomotive, no matter how high the speed, and either from force of habit or non-realization of the limitations of trackage, he hit the curve with brakes off and the full power of his giant motor turned on, with the result that either the engine mounted the rail, or the rail gave way—probably both.

—No agreement has been reached between the city's Bureau of Franchises and the City Interborough Co. as to the franchises for new surface roads and extensions of existing lines in the Bronx. Engineer Nichols, of the Franchise Bureau, recommends the running of surface cars from the Bronx across the Willis av bridge and the bridges at 138th st and Madison av, at 149th st, and at 207th st for sufficient distances in Manhattan to make direct connection with the subway, surface and elevated systems.

DINNER FOR REAL ESTATE BROKERS

WALDORF-ASTORIA,
FEBRUARY 18, 1907

Notable Assemblage of Real Estate Leaders —Commissioner Purdy Speaks on Tax Matters—Unique Incidents of a Pleasant Night

MONDAY night's banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria was the handsomest, as it was the largest, that the Brokers have given. So many pleasant particulars have been left unsaid from the reports in the general press, the public could scarcely have realized in all respects how satisfactorily the occasion comported with the importance of the real estate interests of the city. It is always a problem how to direct an affair of this kind—what new fun to spring, what new thing to do, that it will have a color and distinction quite its own. But a prince of toastmasters and a committee imbued with very original ideas fully succeeded in making the occasion as distinctive as it was enjoyable. In another view it was a very impressive assemblage, including some of the foremost men in real estate, and if the Board had chosen it might have taken up for discussion high questions affecting property interests and pronounced judgment thereon. Real estate is to-day the most powerful interest in New York—should it not be the most authoritative? The broker is the most responsible member of the real estate family; he touches more points of the situation than anyone else, and for this reason his organization is particularly fitted to lead all other real estate organizations and guide them in their special concerns—taxpayers' associations, local improvement societies, and also the municipal authorities, especially the enlightened head of the tax department whose views on taxation and condemnation proceedings deserve to be strongly supported. It is inevitable that the Brokers should represent all the interests they serve.

Plan of the Banquet Field.

For this occasion the beautiful banquet hall was laid out in streets and avenues typifying the Real Estate Field, so that each table represented a City Block, and each seat a Lot. In more respects than one the scene was laid in the choicest part of the city—or somehow all the choice parts were brought into the picture. There was "Central Park," wherein the guests and speakers sat; also "Fifth avenue," "Riverside Drive," "Broadway" and "Madison avenue." Lamp-posts bearing street signs and sometimes letter boxes and fire boxes, together with symbols of other things one encounters in the street, heightened the typical effects. "Loaded Vehicles Keep to the Right," "To the Menagerie," and other directions aided the company in finding their way around. Every block had a number and every lot a name printed on a "For Sale" sign. Notices to attend the festivities had been sent out in the form of an original and duplicate contract; the cards of admission were in the form of a diagram with the guest's name written in and numbered, and upon applying to the Registrar every one received a Mortgage and a Lease, both uniquely printed, and bearing the emblem of the Exchange, the menu, a list of the toasts and toasters, and the names of the members of the committee and the officers of the Board.

The Center of the World.

For a real estate brokers' banquet all these little embroideries were as appropriate as they were pleasant matters of diversion, and must have required from the officers and committeemen long forethought united to good taste and a sincere desire to please. After a time New York looks upon things most impressive and beautiful without emotion, almost with indifference. Nevertheless, it is a very great privilege and pleasure to attend a banquet in the most palatial hotel of the finest city of the most progressive land. A man so seated, Brethren, with the real estate representatives of this mighty city, is in the very throne-room of modern civilization. The scene was very beautiful. My neighbor remarked as he looked up into the boxes, that the Waldorf-Astoria was the center of the world, and the women of New York the most beautiful. The Waldorf waiters are skilful, but they are not beautiful. Before the dinner the music (that is to say, the colored music, inasmuch as we say "colored tenements") was in the ante-room, and then in the gallery, where from its perch it shouted down:

"Laugh, laugh, laugh!
Get on the floor and roll aroun'
Have a good time, and get yoursel' all mussed up,
And just laugh, laugh, laugh!"

Beside the Prince of Toastmasters and President David A. Clarkson, sat the Hon. Lawson Purdy, the new head of the Tax Department, which is the only department in the city the taxpayer is afraid of. Not even the Department of Law, of which the Hon. William B. Ellison is the head, inspires so much nervousness. Mr. Ellison was also there, but said nothing about the proposed widening of Fifth avenue. Mr. William H. Britigan, who as the educational director of the Y. M. C. A. has brought Property Interests as a subject of study very prominently before the country, was an honored guest of the Board of Brokers on this occasion. Likewise, Hon. Thomas Darlington, the head of the Health Board, which is another department the taxpayer pays respects to. Mr. Ezra P. Prentice was not present to explain the Torrens system, nor did the Board have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Edgar J. Levey, representative of large financial interests, and one of the framers of the present Building Code. These several absent gentlemen, together with Mayor McClellan, Comptroller Metz, Clinton W. Sweet, Rev. Madison C. Peters and others, sent letters of regret.

Among men prominent in real estate and allied affairs who were present were: Messrs. William H. Chesebrough, T. B. Ackerson, Robert E. Simon, Ex-Chief of Police John McCullagh, Charles E. Schuyler, John R. Foley, Major Ernestus Gulick, Charles H. Israels, David H. Scully, Raphael Prager, William Shaw, Jr., E. A. Tredwell, B. Mordecai, David Lippman, Walter Lindler, F. R. Houghton, Emanuel Tanenbaum, Joseph L. Buttenwieser, Henry Harmon Neill, Charles Griffith Moses, C. F. Parish, J. S. deSelding, W. H. Folsom, M. A. Mikkelson, Herbert Gulick, R. O. Haubold, R. O. Chittick, F. S. Goodwin, Hon. Guy C. Dempsey, Capt. C. A. Dubois, Capt. James Schuyler, Cyrille Carreau, Hon. T. L. Hamilton, Hon. John P. Dunn, Hon. Herman Joseph, Major A. White, Hon. E. G. Whitaker.

Sale of Lamp-Posts.

An amusing feature of the evening was the sale of lamp-posts, a proceeding with which Mr. Day wound up a speech to the toast of "The Auctioneer's Point of View." He sold every lamp-post in the room for a good price, as follows:

Fire alarm post	Bryan G. Hughes	$20
Bleecker and Broadway	S. E. Toussaint	9

Clarkson, Pres.; Thomas C. Smith; William C. Lester, Vice-Pres.; John P. Kirwan, Edwin H. Hess, David H. Scully, Frank E. Smith, Joseph P. Day, M. V. Lenane, A. N. Gitterman.

Officers—David A. Clarkson, President; William C. Lester, Vice-President; Edward L. King, Secretary; Thomas W. Folsom, Treasurer.

Honorary Governors—Wm. Henry Folsom, John F. Doyle, Francis E. Ward.

The presiding officer was Mr. Francis E. Ward and the speakers of the evening were Dr. Darlington, president of the Health Department; Lawson Purdy, president of the Tax Board; Edward L. King, of the dinner committee; Joseph P. Day; William H. Britigan, of the Y. M. C. A. real estate class, and Joseph L. Buttenwieser.

Dr. Thomas Darlington, Health Commissioner, discussed the health statistics of New York City. He referred especially to tuberculosis and his measures for checking its spread. Speaking of inadequate school seating facilities, he said that selfishness of residents of some parts of the city in seeking school improvements in their particular sections, regardless of the general needs, was responsible for the slowness in providing for the pupils of the city as a whole.

"The Education of Real Estate Brokers."

Mr. W. H. Britigan, of the West Side Y. M. C. A., in his address, speaking to the toast as quoted, said:

"Of the actual benefit of our Real Estate School to the realty profession of the city of New York, you, gentlemen, are yourselves the best judges. During the three years of its existence we have enrolled in its classes, in all, six hundred different men, each of whom is an ardent advocate of real estate instruction. The majority of these men were experienced real estate dealers who found in these lectures by experts the best means of keeping posted in the latest developments in their field. And without this very potent aid of the real estate men of New York, this first real estate school must have failed. To every real estate organization and interest we are more or less indebted, and I am pleased to say that our debt to the Real Estate Board of Brokers is a very large one. A number of your members have taken time from their busy lives to act without fee as members of our faculty and have given some of our most valuable lectures. Those of you who have not appeared on our platform, or been in close touch with the classes, I trust the real estate school can number among its friends and supporters now and for the future."

Tax Department of the City of New York.

The address of the Hon. Lawson Purdy follows:

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen:—This is the eighth Annual Banquet at which you have honored me by an invitation to address you, and looking back over the activities of the years since 1900 I feel very grateful for the good work you have done to bring about a better system of taxes and assessment in the City and State of New York. I feel grateful, too, for the hearty cooperation you have given me in like efforts. In 1900 a bill was pending for the annual taxation of all mortgages without any deduction for debt, and it seemed well-nigh impossible to arouse the people of the State to the far-reaching importance and danger of such a law. You gave me an opportunity to present an analysis of the measure in a public way. With your cooperation public interest was excited and the bill was defeated.

In 1903, a serious effort was made by the Tax Department to assess real estate at actual value, and a good deal of opposition developed. You gave me the chance to present an argument for obedience to law in this matter, and to advocate the separate statement of the value of land in assessments and the publication of the roll. The amendment to the Charter to carry out this recommendation received your approval and became a law in that year.

To-night, instead of speaking for a voluntary Association, I come as one of your servants to represent a Department of the City. The Tax Department has an honorable record, and among the Commissioners have been men of distinguished ability, who have rendered great public service. In the early seventies Commissioner George H. Andrews frequently advocated such Home Rule for the City of New York as would make it possible to abolish the general property tax on personal property. His arguments are found to-day in many libraries, and have been many times quoted. Mr. Michael Coleman was a Deputy under Commissioner Andrews, and later became President of the Department. His testimony before the Joint Committee of the Legislature on Taxation in 1892 is fully in harmony with the views of Commissioner Andrews. Mr. Barker, who was President of the Department under two administrations, is well remembered for his knowledge of the law and for his intelligent criticism of the archaic personal property tax.

Few people realize the tremendous problems that confronted Mr. Feitner, when he became President of the Department at the time of the consolidation of the City. Even in the Borough of Brooklyn 1,700 acres were not assessed at all, and for 9,000 acres there were no maps. In the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond there was chaos. Complete maps had to be made, new deputies appointed, and for their instruction a school was established. Within two years maps were made and the system of assessment of the new boroughs was raised to the standard of the old City of New York. It was a great task well accomplished and speaks well for the organization of the old Department and for the ability and industry of the Bureau Chiefs, who fortunately still remain in the City service.

Under the Presidency of Mr. Wells a vigorous effort was made to assess real estate at its true value. Although he had to endure much misunderstanding and criticism it is now generally recognized that an honest attempt to obey the law is essential to secure that equality which the law contemplates and justice requires. The attitude of Mr. Wells toward the personal property tax was in harmony with his vote as an Assemblyman in 1892, for the Bill for Home Rule in Taxation designed to carry out the recommendations of Mayor Hewitt in his message to the Board of Aldermen in 1888.

Mr. O'Donnel, the last President of the Department, will long be remembered both within and without the Department for his consistent kindliness and courtesy, and for the careful conservatism of his administration.

The faithful and intelligent work of the past has done much to lighten the burden upon the Board now in office. At the same time, however, a standard of accomplishment has been established which it is far from easy to maintain.

THE ASSESSMENT OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The duties of the Commissioners in acting on applications for the reduction of personal assessments are easier to perform because of the assessment of real estate at approximately its full value and the consequent reduction of the tax rate. The old rate frequently took one-half the income of interest bearing securities, and there was practically no avenue of escape for executors and trustees. Under the old conditions the Commissioners exercised a wise and justifiable discretion. Assessments were frequently reduced when persons consented to pay on some satisfactory amount without a strict examination as to the facts. If this course had not been pursued many persons and much property would have been driven from the City; moreover, the severity of the law was mitigated in the case of helpless beneficiaries of trust estates.

Now that assessment of real estate at full value has reduced the tax rate and trust funds may be invested in exempt mortgages, it seemed wise to the present Board to adopt a rule that no assessment shall be reduced unless a thorough examination as to the facts shows that a reduction is legally justified. No threat of removal or of change of investment influences our action, and no one through ignorance of the law or for any other reason should be assessed for a larger sum than is warranted by the law and the facts.

The law makes the Commissioners judges; they are neither prosecutors nor beggars. It is their duty to ascertain the facts and apply the law impartially. People are under no obligation to assess themselves. If they apply for a reduction of an assessment the law requires them to answer truthfully all questions as to their property. They are not presumed to know the law, and in most cases they do not. The Commissioners are obliged to know the law and to apply it. Attorneys are welcome, for the presence of counsel makes the work of the Commissioners easier, especially in complicated cases, but no one need feel that counsel is necessary, for if a person has no legal adviser the Commissioners will be the more vigilant to see that justice is done. In this respect the attitude of the Board is unchanged. I have never known of a case where the Commissioners have allowed any one through ignorance of the law to pay more than his share.

Inventors of the Skyscraper

Serious Illness of W. L. B. Jenney.

A LETTER from Pasadena, Cal., makes known that on February 9 Mr. W. L. B. Jenney suffered a stroke of paralysis, and now lies so seriously ill that it is feared he will not recover. In the architectural profession Mr. Jenney is known by reputation throughout the country. Born at Fair Haven, Conn., in 1832, he went to Chicago in 1867, and was foremost among architect-engineers in rebuilding the city after the fire. Following an attack of pneumonia three years ago Mr. Jenney retired from business and, leaving Chicago, took up his residence at Pasadena, Cal. In the long period of his activity he was highly preferred as an architect and was a leader in the great architectural evolution which produced the skyscraper.

From some quarters Mr. Jenney even receives the credit of being the architect of "the first modern steel building erected in this country." Reference is in such cases made to the Home Insurance Company's building at Adams and La Salle sts, Chicago, which was erected in 1884-5. But the Home Building is not of the type of modern braced skeleton construction, nor was it the first of its own type. It has simply iron columns built into the walls and piers for the support of walls and floors above. It has party walls of solid brick, no braced skeleton and no veneer on shelves. At the base the piers are six feet thick. It is in fact of similar construction to the West Hotel in Minneapolis, which L. R. Buffington finished the year previous, and also similar to the famous Boston Block in Minneapolis, which appeared in 1880-1 from Buffington's plans. All three have practically the same construction. The Tower Building at 50 Broadway, which was reared in 1888-9, alleges itself to be "the earliest example of the skeleton construction." Mr. Buffington himself when in New York a few years ago inspected the plans of this edifice and reported to the Record and Guide that "the building bearing this tablet is not of 'skeleton construction' so called, for the entire front was constructed independently, of brick; iron columns are let into and secured to the old party walls for six stories (the height of the wall at that time), and on top of these columns is erected a 5-sty brick building in the ordinary way. There is no bracing and no shelves supporting veneer."

For what is known as the modern steel skeleton type of construction (consisting of the "continuous braced skeleton of metal, the tapering post, the laminated column, the fireproofing material protecting the metal, the shelves secured to the framing at each story, the veneer walls supported by the shelves—the braces, the girders, beams and angle plates")—for this type of construction a patent (No. 383,170) was granted in 1888 by the United States Government to Leroy S. Buffington, of Minneapolis, as the first inventor.

It will thus appear that Chicago has claimed for Jenney the same honor and distinction which New York in times past set up for another. A certain credit was deserved by both, but the originator of the plan of construction which makes possible such high buildings as the Singer, the Metropolitan and the City Investing, was Buffington. Others may have suggested and experimented—the possibility of a 25-sty building may have been a subject for fantastical prophecies and writings, as the airship to-day is, and as the submarine thirty years ago was—but Holland and not the novelist Jules Verne invented the ship that travels under the sea, and Buffington—not some whimsical essayist—invented the workable and essential method that is followed to-day for the skyscraper.

It is computed by large steel and fabricating interests that a total of 250,000 tons of structural steel for buildings was contracted for in the Metropolitan district during the year 1906, an amount which exceeded by 50,000 the total number of tons arranged for during the previous year, 1905. For the City Investing Building the contractors arranged for 13,000 tons; for the Metropolitan tower, 8,000 tons; for the Pennsylvania terminal, 12,000; for the twin terminal buildings of the lower McAdoo tunnel, 26,000, and for the Singer Building, 8,000. This present year cannot require a tonnage so enormous, but a conservative estimate is 160,000 tons of structural steel for buildings projected in New York and vicinity; though it is foreseen that eventually there will annually be needed for this purpose a tonnage much greater than the record of 1906; because ground values, steadily increasing, will ultimately compel a steel building on every site in the financial district, so that enormous investments may be justified by proportionate revenues. While there may be a possibility of an over-supply of apartment houses on Manhattan Island, there is none at all for commercial buildings rightly positioned. We are no nearer satisfying the necessity for office space than before all these great quantities of structural metal were mined and wrought into shapes, or before the steel-skeleton building was invented. With all the skyscrapers now under construction (about thirty) and with all those projected, the requirements for business space cannot be met, even with office rentals in the financial district averaging $2.50 a square foot.

What prophetic pencil can sketch the giant buildings of a generation hence, can count their stories, or measure their cubical contents? He who designs and he who builds them, more useful to his kind than a captain of war or a leader of parliaments, will be the hero of the coming age. In truth no one man is entitled to all the honor of inventing the modern Monarch of Construction. Buffington, Jenney and Gilbert no doubt contributed each a part, but had they never been born we still should have had the Skyscraper, and with about the same internal principles. They were in the van of the Pushing Ahead in the era when the great thing was due to arrive. In times of resistless evolutions one cannot distinguish the led from the pushed. In the building up of Chicago it naturally fell to Jenney to carry on great works, and his name became linked with the beginning of skyscrapers. Taking a large view of the case no one should deny either to Jenney or any of the great architectural forces—in the Northwest, in Chicago and New York—the highest honors for the part which each had in developing this present skyscraper era.

—After a careful review of its twenty-five years of activity, the Charity Organization Society has decided, while in no way lessening its work with individual families and persons or in other directions, to devote greater attention to the improvement of the living and working environment of the people. To that end it has determined to establish a new department or separate division of its work, to be known as the Department for the Improvement of Social Conditions. The society is especially fortunate in being able to secure for the leadership of this work the services of Mr. Lawrence Veiller, to whose efforts the results achieved in recent years in tenement house reform have been largely due, and whose work in the community during the last fifteen years for social and municipal reform has been so productive in practical results. The new work will be done under the direction of the society's executive committee. Among the persons prominently interested in this movement, in addition to Mr. deForest and other members of its council, are Jacob H. Schiff, Paul D. Cravath, Edward T. Devine, Felix M. Warburg, Miss Lillian D. Wald and others.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Plans for Perry Belmont's Washington Mansion.

Plans have been completed by Horace Trumbauer, Land Title Building, Philadelphia, Pa., for the new Louis XVI. mansion, 152x109 ft., which Hon. Perry Belmont, 580 5th av, Manhattan, is to erect at New Hampshire av, 18th and R sts, Washington, D. C., as previously announced in the Record and Guide. Excavating and building operations will be commenced immediately. The site, which was purchased by Mr. Belmont last spring for $90,000, is one of few plots of unimproved property left in the Dupont Circle. Indiana limestone will be the material used, with the facades carved by hand. The house will be 2-stys in height with a main entrance on New Hampshire av. The plans provide for a ballroom, drawing-rooms, library and dining-rooms, all on the first floor. There will be 30 ft. of parking on the 18th st and New Hampshire av side. The general contract has not yet been issued.

George Washington University Plans.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—George Washington University plans for the erection of a magnificent group of buildings on historic Van Ness Park, at 17th and B sts northwest, have undergone a change, and it now seems probable that the large plot will be sold and that "Oaklawn," the estate of Mrs. A. M. Dean, on the crest of the hill on Connecticut av, just above Florida av, will be purchased. The announcement of the change comes simultaneously with the well-defined rumor that Van Ness Park will probably become the site for the magnificent new building of the Bureau of American Republics, for the construction of which Andrew Carnegie donated $750,000, which has been augmented by the government's appropriation of $250,000 for the ground necessary for the building.

Particulars of G. B. Seely's Sons' Factory.

15TH ST.—At the office of G. B. Seely's Sons', No. 336 West 23d st, on Wednesday, the Record and Guide was informed with reference to the reported purchase of No. 325 West 15th st by them, for additional factory purposes, that the daily papers had misstated the facts. They are, however, now building a 5-sty reinforced concrete factory 50x100 ft. on the north side of 15th st, 425 ft. east of 9th av, but this does not take in No. 325 West 15th st. The excavations and foundations have been completed, and structural operations are well under way. The Turner Construction Co., No. 11 Broadway, is general contractor. (See also issue Nov. 17, 1906.)

Particulars of Greenwich Bank Site.

6TH AV.—An official of the Greenwich Bank, 402 Hudson st, has assured the Record and Guide that the rumors crediting the Greenwich Bank with the purchase of the northeast corner of 6th av and 35th st, as a site for the erection of a skyscraper bank and office building, are most decidedly incorrect. He added: "It is true that real estate operators have come with numerous sites and plans to offer, but to this date no definite step in this direction has been determined." The property in question is that on which the Engel chop house is situated.

William Crawford to Build the Carroll Residence.

57TH ST.—A general contract has been awarded to William Crawford, No. 5 East 42d st, for the new fireproof 6-sty residence, 26.6x83.3 ft., which John F. Carroll, of the Hotel Savoy, 59th st and 5th av, is to erect at No. 40 West 57th st, at a cost of $75,000. The exterior will be of limestone, with bluestone coping, copper and tile roof, and one building will be demolished. Messrs. Kirby, Petit & Green, 37 West 31st st, are the architects.

Seven-Story Factory for Canal Street.

CANAL ST.—Isaac Shrieber, 93 Canal st, has commissioned Architect Harry Zlot, 230 Grand st, to prepare plans for a 7-sty factory, 22.6x70 ft., with stores on the ground floor, to be erected at 73 Canal st, and 17 Allen st, to cost about $16,000. Figures will be received in about one week. Plans specify brick, metal ceilings, sidewalk vaults, elevator hoist, electric lights, etc. No building contracts have yet been awarded.

Auditorium Building for Milwaukee.

Architects are invited to compete for the selection of plans for a handsome auditorium building to be erected this year at Milwaukee, Wis. The sum of $500,000 will be expended for the structure, and $2,500 will be awarded in the form of prizes for the best designs. For further information address Wm. Geo. Bruce, Sec'y Milwaukee Auditorium Board, 45 University Building, Milwaukee, Wis.

Federal Brass & Bronze Co. to Build.

Plans are now being drawn by the Federal Brass & Bronze Co., through its own forces, No. 1133 Broadway, Manhattan, for the erection of a factory building for the manufacture of architectural brass and bronze work. The building will be situated at Hopkins av and Broadway, Astoria, on a plot of seven city lots. No building contracts have yet been issued.

Marble for Metropolitan Tower.

The Waverly Marble Co., No. 1 Madison av, has the contract to furnish and set the exterior marble for the new Metropolitan tower. The marble will be the same as used in the main building, constituting about 200,000 cubic feet. The order for the interior marble has not been let.

Housekeeping Apartment for Fifty-sixth Street.

56TH ST.—J. C. Lyons Building & Operating Co., 4-6 East 42d st, will erect on a plot 50x100.5 ft., at Nos. 55 to 57 East 56th st, a 12-sty high-class housekeeping elevator apartment house. Messrs. Buchman & Fox, of No. 11 East 59th st, have been architects in previous operations.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

CROTONA AV.—Harry T. Howell, 3d av and 149th st, has on the boards plans for three 5-sty apartment houses to be built on the southeast corner Crotona and Wilkins av for the Jerry Altieri Co. Total cost, $115,000.

Churches.

MORRIS PARK AV.—Presbytery of New York, 156 5th av, has purchased a plot 100x100 ft. at the southeast corner of Morris Park and Barnes avs, Van Nest, the Bronx, on which a church building will be erected. No contracts have yet been given out.

138TH ST.—Hoppin, Koen & Huntington, 244 5th av, have plans ready for the 3-sty church and rectory, 45x100 ft., and 20x54 ft., for the Rev. John J. Owens, 225 Henry st, to be erected on the north side of 138th st, 125 ft. east of Lenox av, at a cost of $43,000. Brick, terra cotta trimmings, bluestone coping, tin roof, etc.

Mercantile.

42D ST.—Robert Miller's Sons, 643 8th av, state that they will build at 244-246 West 42d st, a 6 or 7-sty fireproof business building for their own occupancy. No plans have yet been drawn, architect selected, or contracts let.

53D ST.—Sebastian Wagon Co., 224 East 44th st, will begin immediately the erection of a 5-sty loft building, 75x90.5, on the north side of 53d st, 294 ft. east of 1st av, to cost $70,000. Architect G. Knoche, 516 East 72d st, has plans ready.

26TH ST.—S. B. Ogden & Co., 954 Lexington av, have been commissioned to prepare plans for the 11-sty fireproof loft building which John J. Geraty, 429 6th av, is about to erect on a plot 50x98.9 ft. at Nos. 109-115 West 26th st, referred to in issue of Feb. 16. Work will start immediately, Mr. Geraty being the general contractor. There will be one passenger and one freight elevator, steam heat, electric lights, marble and tile work, etc.

The American Lumber Co. will be pleased to see their old friends in their new quarters, or to hear from them by telephone. Their new call is "629 Cortlandt."

The new Plaza Hotel, 5th av and 59th st, will be completed and ready to open by Sept. 1. The Geo. A. Fuller Co. is general contractor, and Henry J. Hardenbergh the architect. Work on interior decorations is under way. They will be the most elaborate ever put in a hotel. The woodwork throughout will be in breche violette marble. A feature of the building will be the twenty elevators, said to be the greatest number in any hotel in the world. They are of the modern plunger type, borings for which have just been completed.

Public School No. 3, at Hudson and Grove sts, is in use, though not entirely finished. It is fireproof and modern in all respects, and when the auditorium is built in Hudson st, No. 3 will be one of the most thoroughly equipped elementary school houses in the city. Superintendent Snyder strove to preserve the general form of the old building. It has a frontage of 60 ft. on Hudson st, 220 ft. on Grove and 85 on Bedford. The style is Renaissance, with a Colonial feeling. The ornamentation up to the second floor is a facing of Indiana limestone, rusticated. Above it is brick and terra cotta trimmings. The roof is pitched. No. 3 has 46 class rooms, with science, working and cooking rooms on the top floor. In their general arrangement the rooms are satisfactory. They are large, airy and well lighted. The cost of the building was $231,500.

Thomas's Acme Air-Purifying and Cooling System.

Science has revealed the conditions and facts concerning impure air and is constantly protesting against its evil consequences, and yet a great number of people are denied a proper supply of clean, fresh and pure air, a condition of affairs architects, engineers and men of science are correcting as rapidly as the general public can be brought to comprehend its importance.

All authorities recognize the fact that anything like thorough air cleaning with coke, cloth or fibrous screens, such as would rid it of microbic matter, is almost impossible in any building occupied by fifty or more persons, owing to the large filtering surfaces demanded. As a velocity or flow of air of more than 15 cubic feet per minute may not be effective, either from a hygenic or economic standpoint, Thomas & Smith, of Chicago, Ill., and 288 Hudson st, Manhattan, have made years of study and practice on this important subject, and are producing a device involving the well known Acme System, which has been received with favor wherever used. This Acme System permits velocities as high as 600 cubic feet per minute for practically perfect work. The apparatus consists of a spray chamber, a storage and settling tank and eliminator, together with a pump and system of water circulating pipes.

The outside air first passes through the spray chamber containing a number of specially designed nozzles that are placed in such relation to each other that no air can pass through without being washed.

After the air has passed through the spray chamber, and after depositing all the heavy particles like soot, dust, etc., at the bottom of the tank, and after absorbing all the moisture it will hold, the air passes on to the eliminator.

The eliminator consists of a number of baffles so constructed and set as to accomplish the results for which the eliminator has been designed. The air, striking the first row of baffles, rebounds in a direction toward the second row and from these to the third and so on, each time depositing the moisture and small particles of dirt it has carried along against the baffles, which are so made and placed in the eliminator that they will prevent water, excessive moisture or atoms of dirt being retained in the air. A tempering coil is usually placed in front of the spray chamber to prevent the water from freezing in the winter time.

Rookwood Faience.

The ideals adhered to by the Rookwood Faience since its inception are generally known. In this development of its work in architectural faience it continues to make sacrifices essential to realize the highest standards. Particular attention is given to the execution of architects' details in any color, whether brilliant for exterior effect or delicate and refined for interior use. Rookwood Architectural Faience is as hard and durable as any of the structural terra cottas, but has entirely different glaze and color qualities. Strong reds, yellows, blues and greens are as attainable in this non-reflecting glaze as are the most subtle and light color tones.

As Rookwood Faience is available for almost any decorative project in building, its uses are practically unlimited. While more costly than ordinary terra cotta, it is less so than marble or any other permanent material for the enrichment of buildings. Being a plastic medium, it is capable of taking on any form and color desired by the architect or decorator in the execution of a general project.

The following-named buildings contain some of the representative work: Forty-first Precinct Police Station, Mosholu Parkway, New York City; subway stations at Fulton, 23d, 79th, 86th and 91st sts, the West st building and the Prince George Hotel. New York office at No. 1 Madison.

Property to be Taken for the Manhattan Bridge Approach.

(With map.)

The appointment of commissioners in condemnation proceedings (as noted in last week's Record and Guide) for the Manhattan approach to Bridge No. 3, makes the annexed map of property to be taken of timely interest. There is to be an amended map (not yet printed) which will show, in addition to the properties on the printed map, the entire blocks bounded by the Bowery, Canal, Bayard and Chrystie sts, and by Chrystie, Canal and Forsythe sts. Also parts of Nos. 70, 86 and 88 East Broadway, 57 and 84 Division st, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 Forsythe st, and No. 35 Bayard st.

It was first suggested that the property to be acquired have a width of 160 ft., being 120 ft. for the bridge proper and 20 ft. on each side of the bridge as a protecting or marginal street.

LINES OF APPROACH TO MANHATTAN BRIDGE—NEW YORK SIDE.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment referred the question of marginal streets to a committee of engineers, and their report has been made. A new plan has been suggested which is the most practical of any that has been offered, and it suggests that a marginal street be made on each side of the bridge structure of 50 ft., making a total of 220 ft. to be acquired. If this plan is adopted the structure will become more secure from fire and will give the fire department greater room to operate their apparatus.

The elevated railroad in Division st is to be lowered 6 ft. at the point where the bridge crosses Division st. This will necessitate the change of grade of Division st between Chrystie and Allen sts, and will cause considerable damage to the property in Division st between these points. The alteration of the surface grade of Division st will naturally turn the traffic of Canal, Forsythe and Eldridge sts to the marginal streets, but if these are made only 20 ft. wide, they will be wholly inadequate.

The only reasonable improvement is a marginal street 50 ft. wide on each side of the bridge, as it can then meet all demands made upon it.

The bridge is to come to grade at the Bowery, where an immense plaza is to be made, consisting of two square blocks bounded by the Bowery, Bayard, Forsythe and Canal sts, and is to provide the bridge outlet, depots for the underground railroad lines and a depot for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Railroad.

It is proposed to widen Bayard st, between Forsythe st and the Bowery, from 50 ft. to 60 ft., taking the additional 10 ft. from the plaza, and to widen Forsythe st, between Canal and Bayard sts, from 50 to 60 ft., also taking the required 10 ft. from the plaza, and Eldridge st, a 50-ft. street, could then be turned into the new marginal street, and if it is made 50 ft. wide as proposed, it will make an excellent traffic outlet. It is also proposed to utilize the space under the bridge for the push-cart markets so necessary to this section of the city and other portions for comfort stations and storage yards.

Attorney Edward W. Murphy (of the New York Life Building) says the assessed valuation of the property affected furnishes absolutely no idea of its market value, and after an experience of years in these proceedings he is inclined to believe the value to be millions in excess of the assessed valuation.

A meeting of the Harlem Property Owners' Association was called for Friday evening, Feb. 22, in the Twelfth Ward Bank Building, 147 East 125th st.

Prospect of Bridge Affecting North Jersey Realty.

Agitation for a Hudson River Bridge is exerting a strengthening effect on the value of northern New Jersey real estate. It is generally conceded that the building of such a structure would be the means of opening up much desirable property along the west shore of the central and lower Hudson. Since the report of the Interstate Bridge Commission recommending the project, considerable New York capital has found investment in vacant land in the Palisades district, from Union Hill as far north as Englewood Cliffs, and extending to the Hackensack valley on the west. The demand for well located acreage in Bergen County has grown so raipdly owing to the improvement talked of that it is becoming a difficult matter to make purchases except at high figures. The statement is made by the president of a land company, which operates along the slope of the Palisades, that while his corporation is in the market for vacant parcels in that section they are hard to find, and cannot be bought at anything like the prices which formerly prevailed.

It has been estimated that a bridge spanning the Hudson River would draw a population from Manhattan of no less than 200,000 in ten years, and that were such an influx to settle within a radius of five miles from its New Jersey terminal it would mean the expenditure of about $80,000,000 per annum for living expenses. A population of this size would, it is said, mean the ownership of realty of about $200,000,000 in value. The commission recommends a Manhattan terminal between 14th and 72d sts. This would necessitate putting the Jersey terminal at some point between Hoboken and Woodcliff. Real estate men say that this would mean that lots now bringing from $900 to $1,800 each would sell for at least five times as much. Development companies are beginning to report the sales of lots in large numbers, and there is every indication that the Palisades district is about to experience the long looked for boom, though the first cause will be the McAdoo tunnel facilities.

Meeting of Washington Heights Taxpayers' Association.

The next business meeting of the Washington Heights Taxpayers' Association will be held Monday next, Feb. 25, at 8 P. M. One of the subjects for discussion will be on the applications made by the Union Railway and Interborough companies for extensions of their present trolley roads, viz.: From 181st st and St. Nicholas av to Broadway, and round through 182d st back to St. Nicholas av, to be an overhead trolley. From 8th av, on 155th st, to Broadway, and on Broadway round through 158th st and Audubon pl (Boulevard Lafayette) back to 155th st (overhead trolley). Also from 145th st on Broadway and round through 146th st to Amsterdam av (sub-surface trolley).

Staten Island Trading.

A feature of the trading in Richmond Borough realty has been the unusual number of resales of undeveloped property. Brokers report a large demand for acreage along the lines of the trolley. Cornelius G. Kolff, who in December sold the Biddle tract of 25 acres at Tottenville to W. H. Reid, of Kentucky, has resold the property to James S. Graham, of this city. The same broker also resold the Vreeland farm of 23 acres on the Freshkill road, near Rossville, for H. Mackey to J. Kean.

—Edward L. King, in commenting on the Board of Brokers' banquet, said that the attendance exceeded the "wildest dream of the committee. Last year," said Mr. King, "we held the dinner in the art gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria, seating 165 guests. This time, owing to the large number of acceptances, which numbered about 350, we deemed it wise to engage the grand ball room."

A week in real estate from which one business day is subtracted naturally brings fewer sales to report. Some of the transactions of the past five days had all the elements of exceptional interest. Two large sales of lots occurred in the Bronx, both within the sphere of influence of the proposed Westchester av improvements. Altogether there have been 43 private sales reported in the Bronx this week and generally affecting a fair class of property. Forty-seven sales have been reported from Manhattan north of 42d st, and 38 from the section below that line. The sales of dwellings in the streets adjacent to middle 5th av continue, indicating a sure and steady market for that class of property, though not a particularly lively one. In a sense there is no market for some classes of property at this time. Values are firmly sustained, but business is comparatively quiet when the situation is compared with the great activities of the past. Conveyances recorded in New York County numbered 280, as compared with 412 in the corresponding week last year. Mortgages filed numbered 309, as compared with 311 last year. In the Bronx the conveyances recorded numbered 153 and the mortgages 117.

The corner in question is about the only large plot available for improvement in the Waldorf-Astoria section, and no doubt will shortly be improved by the erection of a modern building. Students of realty in that neighborhood predict a rapid enhancement in values owing to the many large undertakings projected, and the tendency toward business concentration along 5th av. A building at the corner of Bleecker and Greene sts is offered for sale. Five-sty, basement and sub-basement. (See the Want and Offer page.)

Mack & Tuthill, real estate brokers, 1900 Broadway, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Wm. Nathan Tuthill will continue the business at the same address.

The elevated railroads are getting consents for a station either at 37th or 38th st for the accommodation of the new 5th av stores, but there is much opposition from property holders in the vicinity.

That there is a good undertone in the real estate market, especially for suburban property, is borne out by the remark made by Charles M. Anderson, of the realty company doing business under that name at 71 West 125th st. While Mr. Anderson devotes most of his time to Harlem property, he has been buying and selling Bay Ridge property. Lots there are worth from $800 up, ready to build on.

The report that the Columbia College trustees have decided to remove the present restrictions on their holdings on the west side of 5th av, taking in Nos. 580 to 586, being the south half of the block front north of 47th st; also all the property between 49th and 51st sts, on the same side of the thoroughfare, is corroborated by good authority; also that the college has purchased 636 5th av, being the southwest corner of 51st st and occupying a plot of 36.1x131.

Paul Bultmann was the broker in the sale of 284 St. Anns av for H. Rosing and Morris Damsky, a 5-sty double flat, 27.6x100. Mr. Bultmann believes that the rents of old-law houses between 134th and 149th sts, 3d and St. Anns avs, will advance, and, as a consequence, the values of this class of real estate must also enhance in value. Third av is a busy thoroughfare along this section. He said that prices were high on this avenue and quoted where some full city lots in the vicinity of 149th st were worth $45,000 apiece, with perhaps old frame buildings thereon, while a plot 50x100 on the southwest corner of 145th st on the same avenue had failed to bring $72,000, owing to a long lease thereon, there being but 1-sty buildings on the site. Willis av is gradually giving way to retail business from the bridge to 149th st.

Old Elevated Car Barns Site Rapidly Building Up.

The site of the old elevated railroad car barns, bounded by 144th and 146th streets, between 7th and 8th avenues, is more than half built upon, with 6-sty new-law apartment houses. Besides these there are numerous other houses now ready for occupancy, filling about two blocks front on the east side of 7th avenue, between 145th and 147th streets.

As so many of these buildings are nearing completion at the same time, the success of the builders in filling their houses is somewhat problematical. There soon will be within a circumference of a few blocks from this point housing capacity for about two thousand more families. Many "to-let" signs can be seen on tenement property along these avenues and in the side streets.

Mr. Duff, of the firm of Duff & Brown, took a rather optimistic view of the situation, saying that he believed there should be no alarm about renting, as there are many families that have been forced to seek homes in the suburbs who are only too glad to get back to the city, and he quoted instances where families were paying the same amount of rent in Yonkers as they would here, together with the additional expense and time in traveling between their homes and places of business.

Principally the trouble in filling apartments on Washington Heights has been because landlords inflated rents in order to enhance the value of their holdings for the purpose of selling at a big profit. A number of these owners discovered their mistakes after the renting season had passed, and reduced the schedules when it was too late, suffering increased losses which otherwise might have been avoided. With the rents somewhere near normal, the houses are filling up.

Bronx Urgent that 3-Family Dwellings Be Taken off the Tenement List.

Clement H. Smith, 726 Tremont av, Bronx, considers Tremont av property is a fine investment. There is also an unsupplied demand for dwellings in the adjacent streets. If the 3-family houses were taken out of the hands of the tenement house commission he believes there would be a prodigious building movement in this line. There are builders now looking for ground to purchase for the purpose of erecting apartment houses in that section.

Ready Sale for Dwellings at Westchester.

F. M. Weiss & Co., Westchester, Bronx, reports at Westchester the demand for one and two-family houses to far exceed the supply. New houses sell as fast as they can be built. Fine days bring out numerous applicants for this class of dwelling, who are turned away as fast as they come, there being no alternative. Mr. F. M. Weiss said his office had averaged from one to seven sales weekly throughout the winter on unimproved parcels in proximity to the proposed Westchester av extension to Pelham Park. There are a few lots left at $1,500 each.

CORRESPONDENCE

Lease Subject to Mortgage.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

(1) If a mortgage is placed on property and shortly thereafter a lease is executed for a long term, and owner fails to pay interest or tax on the mortgage, and the mortgage is foreclosed, what would become of the lease, which is very valuable? Would the lessee have any remedy? If so, what? (2) If a single man of age owns real estate and thereafter marries one under age, and wishes to sell his property while his wife is still under age, could he convey with her with objection? Could she convey her dower right while under age? H. H.

Answer.—(1) The lease is subject to the mortgage, and when the mortgage is foreclosed the tenant should be made a party defendant in the foreclosure suit; and if this is done, and the property is sold under the judgment of foreclosure and sale, the lease is cut off, and the purchaser at foreclosure sale gets a good title from the lease. The tenant can only protect his lease by buying in the property at the foreclosure sale, or by buying the mortgage. If, however, there should be a surplus resulting from the foreclosure sale, the tenant would be interested in that surplus according to his priority over other liens, and for such sum as he could prove the lease to be worth; but not to an amount greater than the surplus, or the balance left of the surplus after prior claims upon said surplus are paid. (2) Neither the husband nor the wife, nor both together, can convey away the wife's right of dower while she is under age.

A Third Mortgage Case.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

A piece of property was purchased in September, the interest on the first mortgage was due the month previous and was left unpaid. A third mortgage was executed by the new purchaser. Foreclosure proceedings were started about three weeks after taking of title, on the failure of payment of said interest. This third mortgage was not filed until two or three days before the passing of title to the next purchaser on the foreclosure sale. The third mortgagee was not brought in the foreclosure proceedings, apparently because his mortgage was not recorded earlier. Is this property held by the purchaser on the foreclosure sale, subject to what was a third mortgage under the former ownership, or can any redress be had for the recovery of the amount of this third mortgage? W. G.

Answer.—(1) No. See Sections 240 and 241 of Chapter 547, laws of 1896, known as the Real Property Law. (2) No redress can be had against the purchaser at the foreclosure sale. If the mortgage recites a bond, the holder of the bond might obtain a money judgment against the maker of the bond.

Bronx Aroused on Transit Question.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

Determined to take steps to relieve the conditions of the transit facilities throughout Manhattan and the Bronx, the "Association of Bronx Real Estate Brokers" have issued a call to all the taxpayers' associations in both boroughs inviting the appointment of a "committee of three" from each, to form a "joint committee" to formulate plans for a mass meeting in the near future. It is not the intention of this mass meeting to merely denounce the present system, but to suggest plans for better service and to follow up through committee such suggestions, and demand the adoption of such plans as will afford relief.

All taxpayers' associations desiring to cooperate in this movement are invited to submit the names of their "three members" selected to Wm. I. Brown, secretary, Ass'n Bronx Real Estate Brokers, Morris Building, 634 East 149th st.

The conditions of the transit facilities, elevated, surface and subway in the City of New York are such as to cause indignation from any one forced to travel by the present existing means.

It is the purpose of this association to instigate a movement whereby all taxpayers' associations, and all interested in real estate and the development of the city, may unite their efforts in demanding relief by holding a mass meeting under the auspices of all such associations during the coming month.

If your association is in favor of such a movement send to the undersigned the names and addresses of three of your members as a committee, to confer with similar plans, as a joint committee for the holding of such a mass meeting. Respectfully yours,

WM. I. BROWN,
(Secretary Ass'n Bronx R. E. Brokers.)

S. W. Holbrook, successor to the firm of J. B. Ketcham, established 1883, continues to do business at 57 West 125th st, and said that he had a number of inquiries on the part of clients to purchase property, but that the management of the estates in his charge occupied most of his time.

Record and Guide Quarterly

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly contains all the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations. These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more accompanied by expert comments; also by a list of realty corporations created during the past two years, with officers and the enterprises in which they are engaged. The whole makes a volume of reference which no real estate man can afford to be without. It should be on every desk and in every library. Its cost is as nothing compared to its value as a time-saver. This important work can be obtained, with three quarterly numbers, for the comparatively small sum of $[illegible]. It is published by the Record and Guide, at Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., where interested parties may see it and have its uses explained to them. If you cannot call, drop a postal card to the Publisher, or call him up on telephone, 3157 Cortlandt.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed considertion, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyence, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, the the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

February 15, 16, 18, 19 and 20.

Building Operations.

MONTCLAIR.—Dudley A. Van Antwerp, architect, of Montclair, is taking bids for the erection of a residence for E. V. Cary, 118 Union st, same place. The building will be 2½ stories in height, of frame construction, 41x32 ft., with a stucco and shingle exterior, and contain eight rooms and bath. All modern improvements are called for, including steam heat, gas and electric fixtures. About $9,000 will cover the total cost.

MONTCLAIR.—About $12,000 is the estimated cost of a residence in course of construction at 99 Central av, Montclair, for C. E. Churchill, of Everybody's Magazine. The plans were prepared by Christopher Meyers, 460 Bloomfield av, Montclair, calling for a reinforced concrete building, 34x44 ft., two and a half stories in height. The owner has entire charge of the construction, and will accept bids on all contracts or material.

NEWARK.—Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation, which controls the State Line Traction Co., has stated, according to press reports, that the latter company has procured right-of-way for a trolley line five miles long from Hawthorne, near Paterson, to the state line, and which will nearly parallel the Erie Railroad. It has not been decided when the work of construction of the new electric line will be started.

CLIFFSIDE.—The Cliffside Park Realty Company has been recently incorporated in New Jersey with an authorized capital stock of $250,000, of which $100,000 or more will be immediately paid in in cash. Its field of operations will be the district of the Palisades below Grantwood. The company intends to erect dwellings of moderate cost. No architect has as yet been selected. Messrs. August E. Neumann and Frank E. Knox, of Grantwood, are the promoters.

WOODBURY.—George E. Savage, 401 Chestnut st, Philadelphia, Pa, has completed plans for the new warehouse for Blasius & Sons (pianos), to be built at Woodbury, N J. It will be 1 story and basement, 85x250 ft, of brick and slow-burning construction. The following have been invited to bid: Fletcher & Leslie, J. B. Best and Thompson Allen, of Woodbury, N J; George Bachman, of Camden, N J, and Alexander Chambley and George L. Sipps, of Philadelphia, Pa.

MONTCLAIR.—The Godfrey Land and Building Co., 149 Broadway, Manhattan, will erect 20 dwellings with stucco exteriors on their tract of about 30 acres near the depot at Upper Montclair. The buildings will cost from $5,000 to $7,500 each, and will be made very attractive. It is stated that the building company have in mind the construction of additional dwellings upon the completion of the above, making in all a total of about 100. No architects yet selected.

NEWARK.—Thomas Cressey, 800 Broad st, has completed plans and will receive estimates from selected bidders for the erection of a store building to be built at 791 Broad st. The building, which will be five stories in height, 20x66 ft., of brick construction, with a stucco extension, has been leased from plans to The Hilton Company, clothiers, at 142 Market st, this city. It is estimated that the total cost of construction will be about $30,000. The following firms are figuring: Henry Dickson, 22 Clinton st, and A. H. Clark's Son's Company, 45 Clinton st, mason work; John W. Vliet, 85 Academy st, carpenter work. The architect will superintend all contracts.

GUTTENBERG.—Directors of the First National Bank of Guttenberg have decided to erect a new bank building, and have awarded prizes and the contract for the plans. H. & K. Neumann, architects, of Jersey City, got the first prize, which was the contract to design the plans and superintend the work; McMurray & Quinlan, of Newark, were awarded a prize of $50, and Robert C. Gibson, of Weehawken Heights, was awarded a prize of $25. It is proposed to erect a 5-sty stone and brick building, 25x75, at a cost of $25,000. First two floors will be used by the bank, the third floor will be fitted up for offices and the fourth and fifth floors will be made into finely appointed lodge rooms.

PASSAIC.—The project for a great reservoir on the Passaic River, either at Little Falls or Mountain View has been advanced somewhat by the action taken by officials of the cities of Paterson and Passaic, N. J. One plan has been proposed by a State commission appointed to investigate the causes of the floods in the Passaic River, and the other has been proposed by what is known as the Potable Water Commission. At the meeting of the officials of the two cities it was decided that the cost of the work would be so great that it was not advisable for the construction to be undertaken except by the state, thereby throwing the influence of the two cities in an unofficial manner toward the project of the Potable Water Commission.

EAST ORANGE.—The Morris & Essex Realty Company has been organized with a capital of $30,000 to operate in real estate in Northern New Jersey, the stockholders being New York and New Jersey business men. The officers are Henry K. Hannah, of New York, president; J. M. F. Gibbons, of Montclair, vice-president; and Frederick H. Siegfried, of Glen Ridge, secretary and treasurer. The principal office is at 277 Broadway, Manhattan. This company purchased five tracts of land formerly owned by Samuel M. Dodd, of St. Louis, located on Prospect, Myrtle and Olive sts, Watsessing and East Orange, and has divided them into lots, a number of which have already been sold. Substantial building operations will be undertaken during the spring.

TRENTON.—Board of Water Commissioners, C. C. Haven, city engineer, Trenton, is contemplating the erection of a new reservoir, installing new pump and steel standpipe.

MOORESTOWN.—Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, Bailey Building, Phila., Pa., are working on plans for a handsome residence to be built at Moorestown, N. J., for I. Wayne Clark.

CAMDEN.—Franklin & Clark, engineers, Crozier Building, Phila., Pa., are working on plans for a warehouse to be built at Camden for McAndrews & Forbes. One-story, reinforced concrete.

GARWOOD.—Extensive additions are to be made to the large plant of the Hall Signal Co. at Garwood, N. J., and nearly $1,000,000 will be spent in constructing and equipping the improvements which will, it is announced, consist of practically a duplication of the company's present plant.

Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN.—It is reliably stated that the Consolidated Railway intends to enlarge its car barns in this city and possibly at West Haven, though no plans for this work have been drawn as yet.

HARTFORD.—The Board of Street Commissioners has decided to pave Village st, from Pleasant to Avon sts and Marsh court, from Village to Market sts, with Hassam pavement.—Joseph Buths, chairman.

MERIDEN.—According to press reports a well defined rumor has been going the rounds among real estate dealers and the law offices for the past several days an attempt is being made to organize a joint stock company here for the purpose of erecting a modern office block and theater. No names are yet given.

MILLDALE.—It is reported that the Quinnipiac Power Company has been incorporated by Homer A. Curtis, of Meriden; Clifford W. Leavenworth, of Wallingford; C. E. Jennings, of South Norwalk, and associates. The company will construct a storage reservoir at Milldale.

ANSONIA.—Murray A. Crossman has this week deposited at the Ansonia National Bank the sum of $50, the nucleus of what he hopes to become a sum sufficient to erect a new theater for this city. Mr. Crossman, with a few other citizens, has conceived the project of erecting such a building through the popular subscription idea.

MERIDEN.—The directors of Manning, Bowman & Co. voted to increase its capitalization from $50,000 to $150,000, and to erect a new factory on the east side of Catlin st, with a 45-ft. front on Pratt st and running back to Miller st a distance of about 250 ft. Architect Charles S. Palmer has been engaged. The building will be a 4-sty one, about 35,000 sq. ft. of working space.

NEW HAVEN.—The Univ. Corporation has agreed to give the Yale Swimming Association a site back of the gymnasium for the swimming tank which is to be built with the $40,000 donated by Andrew Carnegie. The tank is to be 75x30 ft., the walls of the building of brick, but the tank itself of marble. The building is to have a seating capacity of 400. Ogden Mills Reid may be able to give further information.

SCRANTON.—The officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad (General Office, 26 Exchange Place, N. Y. C.), are preparing specifications for the machinery that will be purchased for equipping the new shops at Scranton, Pa., and it is likely that the lists of requirements will be sent to the machine shops. The requirements for these shops will be of considerable magnitude, as the shop capacity in that city is to be doubled, the main building to be erected being 364x758.

PHILADELPHIA.—A 32-story office building, to cost $3,500,000, is to be erected on the site of Association Hall, southeast corner of Chestnut and 15th sts, and it is expected that when negotiations are completed the Philadelphia Stock Exchange will occupy quarters in the structure. Geo. B. Wilson is the owner. He also owns the Pennsylvania Building, at northwest corner Chestnut and 15th sts. Building operations will be begun either next October or in April, 1908. This will depend on the time of removal of the Young Men's Christian Association to its new headquarters in Arch st. The association has the privilege of vacating at either of these periods. The price paid the association for the site was $1,050,000. The building will be constructed of steel, reinforced with concrete. Granite facing will be used to the third story. Above that point will be terra cotta brick.

To Polish Nickel Ornaments.

Nickel ornaments on stoves, etc., may be kept bright by using ammonia and whiting. Mix together in a bottle and apply with a cloth. A very little polishing gives a fine lustre. It is good for silver-plated ware as well. We use pumice powder to polish tin pans when we use anything.

GREAT things were expected this week in Wall Street from the passage by the United States Senate of the Aldrich financial bill, but so far from the market going up, it went down, so that at one time it seemed dangerously near to demoralization. A baker's dozen of leading issues touched new low records for the year. Louisville and Nashville reached the lowest point since September, 1904, and Brooklyn Rapid Transit sold below what it has been at any time since the same month in 1905. Of course there was aggressive professional selling all along the line, and stop loss orders forced liquidation, especially in Reading. Mere news, whether favorable or unfavorable, did not seem to have any influence, though assuredly the revelations of Mr. Harriman and others before the Interstate Commerce Commission can scarcely be said to have inspired confidence. Incidentally, on the Curb Nevada-Utah mining stock was dealt in largely, and scored an advance. While, of course, it is impossible to predict what the immediate future of the action of Wall Street prices may be, yet we must not be blind to facts that in themselves are distinctly favorable. The leading authority on the Iron trade points out that, so far as the finished branches of the steel and iron are concerned, business is developing in a very satisfactory manner, the mills being full of work and specifications coming in steadily. No recessions have been made in prices that ruled at the opening of the week, and the markets in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Boston and Philadelphia have been quite active. There has not been much change in money rates, call loans going through at or under 4½ per cent. Time money was firm at 5½ to 5¾ per cent., concessions being withheld by lenders in view of the ending of negotiations for funds for the March disbursements. Apropos of money matters in connection with the Aldrich bill, the consensus of opinion of that measure is that, while it does not provide those changes in our monetary system which are so necessary and desirable, it is most certainly a forward step to general currency reform.

THE report of the New York City Improvement Commission has recently been issued in a handsome and fully illustrated volume; but it looks as if this volume would be the one substantial result of the labors of that body. It worked for a number of years; it took all the counsel it could get upon the problem of rearranging the plan of New York city, so as to make the city both more convenient and more beautiful; and the result is nothing more or less than a book—a book which will cost the taxpayers about $10,000. There is no use seeking to ignore or disguise the fact that the work of the Commission is, from every practical point of view, a failure. Its report provoked little popular interest. Not one of the various improvements it recommended has received any serious consideration on the part of the municipal authorities. If, in the future, similar improvements receive more serious consideration, there is no reason to believe that the work of the Commission will have any effect upon the plans which may be actually realized. The report, that is, did not carry with it anything like the authority which the report of the Washington Commission obtained, or the similar report which Mr. D. Burnham made for San Francisco. What is the reason of this failure? We do not believe that it is to be traced to the nature of the recommendations made by the Commission, because, as a matter of fact, the improvements suggested in the report were all of them sensible and desirable. The great trouble was that, from the start, an insufficient body of public opinion had been formed to support a plan which would have cost so much money. Furthermore, the Commission itself, while composed of well-informed and public-spirited gentlemen, did not carry with it sufficient prestige. The number of people who are, vitally interested in the "Better New York" are not very large, nor are they very influential; and the practical difficulties which any plan of improvement must overcome are so enormous that no such scheme, however well considered, will have any effect until a much larger proportion of prominent New York citizens are willing to work actively on its behalf.

THE existing real estate situation in the business section of Fifth av., Manhattan, is extraordinary. As was pointed out in the Record and Guide some months ago, the success which has attended the removal of Altman & Co. to that thoroughfare showed what an advantage it was for the better class of dry goods stores to obtain a location on Fifth avenue; but with this discovery came the further one that it was difficult, if not impossible, to obtain sites large enough for general business purposes. A big dry goods store needs a plot containing at least 10,000 square feet, and, so far as we know, there is only one plot of this kind to be secured in the best part of the avenue. It is equally difficult to obtain a small frontage on the avenue connected with a larger area on the side streets, because the property on the side streets is strongly held, and has been much improved. What the outcome will be, it is not easy to see. The firms still located south of Twenty-third street will, in the course of time, be obliged to move, but where can they go? The demand already existing is forcing many of the decorators and picture dealers who first occupied Fifth avenue to remove to Madison avenue or the side streets, but their removal does not cause any very considerable vacancies. At the same time, the need of space on the avenue for minor business purposes is so considerable that every available corner is being improved with tall buildings. One result will be that business will push further up the avenue than has seemed probable hitherto; but even these additional blocks will do little to fill up the gap. It certainly appears as if in the end some other avenue or district north of Thirty-fourth street would have to be pressed into service, and large fortunes are assured to those real estate speculators who can anticipate the direction of this necessary expansion.

Governor Hughes and the Legislature.

AMONG the reforms which Governor Hughes has proposed to introduce in the traditional methods of government at Albany was one concerning the procedure, whereby legislation, supposed to be in the public interest, was enacted. In the past, and particularly during the régime of ex-Governor Odell, it had become customary for the Governor to interfere actively in legislative business. He would propose the passage of certain bills in his Annual Message and then subsequently use all of his influence with the Republican leaders to secure the enactment of this legislation. His influence, official and unofficial, was so considerable that he was usually successful in persuading the Legislature to adopt his views. Governor Hughes proposed to change all this, because he did not like the idea of interference by the Executive with what was properly the business of another division of the State government. He also recommended a large amount of extremely important legislation in his message; and bills embodying his program will, of course, be introduced into the Legislature. But he has declared that he will do nothing actively to promote the enactment of these bills after their introduction. The Legislature must deal with them undisturbed and must alone take the responsibility for its action or its refusal to act. The Governor's constitutional duty in respect to legislation was confined to recommendation, and subsequently either to the approval or to the disapproval of any bills passed by the Senate and the Assembly.

The Record and Guide is inclined to think that in this respect the Governor is allowing a scruple about the letter of the constitution to interfere with his ability effectually to promote the public interest. It is true that his express constitutional duties in the matter of legislation are confined merely to recommendation, and then after passage either to approval or disapproval. But the practice which has come into existence of a more active participation of the Governor in the work of legislation met a real need, and a real deficiency in our constitutional arrangements. The individual members of our Legislatures have never proved adequate to their constitutional function either of originating the legislation needed in the popular interest, or of acting upon proposed legislation with that interest entirely in mind. Our legislators are usually small politicians, without any adequate political ideas or without any disinterested and intelligent devotion to the public welfare. They are accustomed to dictation by their party leaders, and the whole system which elects them to office implies such dictation. If they are left alone, and are allowed to pass only those bills which appeal to their judgment, the result will be that only useless or unwise legislation will be sent up to the Governor. It was to meet this situation that the practice has come into existence which Mr. Hughes does not like; and if an excellent Governor like Mr. Hughes abandons it, the result will be simply that his whole legislative program will fail. It would be a great pity that a purely partisan or half-corrupt Governor could secure the legislation he proposed, while an intelligent and public-spirited Governor would be condemned to failure and to inefficiency. We are unable to discover any good reason why a public-spirited Governor should not use the influence which his position gives him to secure the adoption of his legislative program. There are, of course, certain expedients, turning on the use of patronage, which have been popular at Albany, and which an honorable and public-spirited gentleman would naturally eschew; but there is every reason why he should seek by every legitimate means, to bend a stubborn or a merely partizan Legislature to his will.

In pursuing such a course Mr. Hughes would only be doing what other public-spirited executives have always been obliged to do. Our executives, whether of the nation or of a state, are usually a much more public-spirited and intelligent set of men than our legislators. They represent the whole people instead of only a little district; and they are much more likely to be independent in character, sound in opinion, and disinterested in motive. The legislation which they favor is usually the legislation demanded by the intelligence and the conscience of the community, and the bitterest opposition to such legislation nearly always comes from the petty politicians, who represent small districts and special interests in our senates and assemblies. The fact, however, that the Executive does represent the whole people, and has a large and loyal popular following, gives him a power over these petty politicians, which they frequently do not dare to defy. It is by virtue of his general popularity that President Roosevelt has succeeded in forcing through Congress a mass of legislation in the national interest, which his party associates would have refused to pass, in case they had dared to assume the responsibility of such a refusal. He has continually and actively interfered with the legislative work of Congress, and the consequence is, that he has managed to drag a number of his reluctant fellow-Republicans with him large enough to secure the passage of many of his bills. Governor Hughes is in precisely the same situation in this State. He was elected by the people just because he was an upright, public-spirited and disinterested man—just because he represented those things in our public life which the Republican machine at Albany had persistently and flagrantly disregarded. The Legislature, on the whole, represents this machine. It will reject just as much of Governor Hughes' programme as it dares to reject. The Governor should make them understand that he will not be trifled with. His own interests, the interests of his party and the interests of the public, all demand that his reforming bills should be enacted into law; and he should bring to bear all the pressure he can towards that end. Such men as our State Assemblymen and Senators are easily cowed and persuaded. They have no stubborn convictions to overcome, no valuable counter proposals to offer. They can be forced to act in the public interest for fear of the consequences which a refusal will entail, and Governor Hughes should not scruple to bring such pressure to bear. No matter what the precise constitutional limitation of his powers, the responsibility for the passage of the reform bills is on his shoulders, and cannot be evaded.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Its Effect on Real Estate Values

By Richard M. Hurd.

THE MOST noteworthy feature of the distribution of population in the United States has been the steadily increasing concentration of population in cities, which has raised the urban population from 3% in 1790 to over 33% in 1900, with every prospect that the figure may some day reach 50% or even 60% of the total population.

Such a rapid growth of cities has necessarily been accompanied by an increasing complexity of city life and a steady extension of the duties and functions performed by municipal governments. Whereas early in the life of American cities the City Council had but simple duties, now a city government manages the police, fire, water, health and tenement house departments, carries on street cleaning, builds and operates bridges, parks, docks, ferries and markets, and in some cities owns and operates street railroads and gas and electric light plants. The continual extension of municipal activities has but recently reached these latter activities so that when the problem of "municipal ownership" is mentioned it is generally municipal ownership of street railroads and light plants which is meant.

The broad ground on which the municipal ownership and operation of street railroads and light plants is urged is that they cannot be operated without a franchise from the city granting the use of the public streets, and since city streets are public property they should be kept for the benefit of the public and not turned over to private parties for private profit. In the same way that the product of individual labor belongs to the producer, the collective product due to the growth and prosperity of the community belongs to the collective body, so that it is obviously unjust for a few individuals to absorb the increasing revenues resulting from franchise privileges. Moreover, for a city to own and operate these utilities is not a step towards government ownership of private business but a step towards abolishing private ownership of government business analogous to the abolition in some of the older nations of the "farming out" of the collection of taxes, etc. It should not be overlooked that all municipal enterprises involve responsibility and are not to be lightly entered into. Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, gives four rules to test whether an enterprise is a fit subject for municipal ownership, these being (1) that it rests on a franchise; (2) that competition in it would not benefit the people; (3) that a heavy expenditure for a plant is necessary, and (4) that a performance of its functions for a long period of time is contemplated. Of these four rules the second one, which refers to the fact that the ownership and operation of a public utility franchise in a city is either inherently or becomes eventually a complete monopoly is the real basis for the necessity of municipal ownership.

The arguments for and against municipal ownership of public utilities may be briefly outlined as follows: If city governments were entirely honest all disinterested persons would probably agree that municipal ownership would be advantageous for the community. Opponents of municipal ownership, however, make their chief argument on the ground that city governments are so corrupt that it would be unsafe to trust them with additional powers. The answer to this would be that if our city governments are so corrupt it is the duty of all to work to improve them, and also that the added responsibilities of municipal ownership furnish new incentives for political activity. The second and more forceful answer would be that the chief cause of political rottenness in our great cities is the use of the great funds of public service corporations to purchase control of the franchise-giving bodies, in order to insure absence of competition. Hence complete municipal ownership would remove the main source of the political corruption which now forms the chief argument against municipal ownership.

It is claimed against municipal ownership that the operation of street railroads and light plants would be more expensive than under private administration. The answer to this is that it might well be more expensive than private management and yet the community be better off, since under private management the rates are maintained at a high point and any saving in operation goes to the private owners and not the community. Moreover, if more expensive operation was due to fairer treatment, namely, higher pay and shorter hours to employees, there would be some resulting advantage to the community.

It is stated that municipal ownership results in lack of initiative as to new inventions and labor saving devices, but the reply is that since the result of such merely adds to the profits of the companies and not to the benefit of the public the argument lacks weight.

It is argued against municipal ownership that the service is poor. The answer is that private corporations are apt to give as poor service as they dare, and that the best stimulus for improvement consists of a threat of municipal ownership, as recently seen in Cleveland, St. Louis and Detroit, where offers of better service and lower rates were quickly made by the local companies to avert municipal ownership.

It is claimed that municipal plants make no profits. The answer is that they should not be run for profit but should give low rates, good service and provide for maintenance and necessary extensions. The general basis for charges for any public service under municipal or private ownership may easily be compared. Under private ownership the charge must be large enough (1) to pay operating expenses; (2) to provide against depreciation and betterments; (3) to earn a fair dividend on actual capital invested; (4) pay dividends on securities issued in excess of the actual capital invested, and (5) to repay during the life of the franchise both the actual investment and the "water" as well.

Under public ownership the cost of service would only have to cover the operating expenses, provide for depreciation and extensions and create a sinking fund to retire the bonds which represent the cost of the plant. Also the expense incurred by a private corporation for enterprise, energy in getting the business, etc., can be entirely avoided under municipal ownership and the credit of cities is so much higher on the average than that of public service corporations that the capital could be obtained by a city for an average charge of about 4% as against 6% for private companies.

To sum up, the only strong argument against municipal ownership would be the incorrigible corruption of city governments. As one critic remarked, "There are not enough honest men in the United States to run municipal ownership in the cities." If true, this statement would apply equally to the general administration of National and State governments as well as of city governments, with the inevitable inference that democracy is a failure. This view, however, is not true. Municipal ownership removes the chief incentive to corruption in city politics, and sooner or later it is certain to come.

In beginning the consideration of the results which municipal ownership would probably bring to real estate values, we may start with the statement that value in real estate is a social conception having no necessary connection with the physical aspects of the land and buildings, but consisting solely of income capitalized. Any land which has never yielded an income has never had any value. If it sells at a price, such price is merely the discounting of future anticipated income. When buildings are added to land, if these yield no income, the aggregate of land and buildings has no value, regardless of the money cost of the buildings. In daily practice the value of a building is accepted as the cost of the building less depreciation, the substantial correctness of which is based on the fact that most buildings are suitable to their location. In proportion to their unsuitably to their locations the capital expended on them is wasted.

Income is the money expression of the use and occupation, in other words, utility is the feature immediately underlying income. Back of utility comes effective demand or the expression of competitive bidding for locations which set off against the supply of locations results in the market price or value of real estate. In other words income discounted or estimated ahead for a certain number of years creates capital and value.

The features which cause the difference of desirability and hence income of different locations are summarized in the social service rendered by the different locations or conversely the sacrifice which they save, land which is most convenient being first utilized and later that which is less convenient in proportion to its diminishing facilities. Thus the value of all city land ranges from that which least serves the smallest number of people of the lowest economic quality up to that which best serves the largest number of people of the highest economic quality.

Since gross rents are fixed by competition, the question arises, how do bidders determine what they can pay? The basis differs radically between business property which earns income for the occupant as well as the owner, and residence property which for the occupant consumes income only. The gross rents of business property consist of the normal proportion of what a location earns for the tenant. The proportion of location earning which a shop-keeper pays as rent varies according to the character and class of his business and also in part according to his ability as a tradesman, a fair average being from 20% to 40%. The better the loctation for retail trade the higher the proportion of receipts paid as rent. In retail trades the location and the consequent advertising perform the vital functions of selling the goods. In the wholesale trades but a small proportion of receipts is paid out as rent, but the saving goes to the drummers who sell the goods.

The gross rents of residences represent the proportion of income which various classes can afford to pay for house rent. Social ambition and the desire for healthy, safe and attractive surroundings for one's family are such powerful influences that all classes desire to live in the best neighborhoods which they can afford. The proportion of rent paid for residences is apt to vary inversely with the income, the very wealthy spending from 10% to 20% of their incomes on rent, while the poorest tenement dwellers spend 25%, 35% and 40% of their incomes.

From gross rents are to be deducted taxes, insurance, repairs, and in certain classes of buildings operating expenses, such as for light, heat, elevators, janitors, cleaning, etc.

Taxes vary widely on different properties in the same cities owing to irregular assessing by tax officials, but a fair average would be an annual charge of 1% of the actual, not the assessed, value of the property. The cost of fire insurance is a small item in first-class buildings, the rates running from 12 cents to 30 cents per hundred dollars per annum on fireproof buildings or brick private houses, and from 40 cents to $1 per one hundred dollars per annum on stores and office buildings of non-fireproof construction. Repairs average one-half of one per cent. of the cost of the building per annum for the highest type of fireproof buildings; 1% for ordinary mercantile buildings, and 2% to 3% for old buildings or those of cheap construction. An estimate of the proportion of total expenses to income of different classes of buildings would be as follows: 1 or 2 story retail buildings or wholesale buildings, 10% to 20%; residences, 15% to 20%; non-elevator office buildings and tenements, 25% to 35%; high-class apartments and fireproof office buildings, 45% to 55%.

Having now arrived at the net rents, the factor to convert them into capital is the rate of capitalization, which is broadly based on the interest rates for all classes of securities. In the same way that government bonds sell below a 2% basis; railroad bonds on a 3½% basis; municipal bonds on a 4% or 4½% basis, and various railroad stocks on a 5% to 6% basis and industrial stocks from a 6% to a 10% basis, so the rates of capitalization of New York City real estate incomes vary from 3½% for the highest class of office buildings and retail business property to 4% for high grade residences; 4½% to 5% for medium grade business property; 6% to 6½% for medium grade apartments, and 7% to 9% for tenements. In all classes of property where mortgage loans can be obtained at lower interest rates than the capitalization rate, the net rate of yield on the equity can be greatly increased. For example, with a property yielding 6% net, if two-thirds of the value is borrowed at 4½%, the net income on the equity is 9%, or with a property yielding 8% net, if two-thirds is borrowed at 5%, the net income on the equity is 14%.

The great power of capitalization rates on values is due to the fact that for every change of 1% in the rate of capitalization, values change from twenty to thirty times the difference in interest. For example, a property with a net income of $10,000, if sold on an 8% basis, would bring $125,000, and if sold on a 3½% basis would bring $325,000. The lower the capitalization rate the greater the effect of any further lowering of the rate, as for example, a drop from 8% to 7% adds 14% to the value of the property, while a drop from 5% to 4% adds 25% to the value of the property. As a city grows and becomes more firmly established and wealthy the vast mass of real estate values within it is probably created more by the lowering of capitalization rates than by the increased rents paid, since these increased rents in many cases represent interest on the cost of new and expensive buildings, the residuum only being capitalized to create the additional value of the land. In practice the rate of capitalization is ascertained by figuring backwards, that is by dividing average prices paid for real estate by the net income which the community is satisfied to receive on such investments.

The chief cause for the wide difference in capitalization rates seem to be the fact that many people desire to own high-class property and few desire to own low-class property. As reasons for such preference are the facts that as to high-grade property rents are more firmly established and easily collected, the property is more quickly convertible, it can be mortgaged at a lower rate of interest and for a larger proportion of value, the buildings depreciate less rapidly and the prospects of increase in value are usually better.

The directions which the results of municipal ownership on real estate values would probably take would vary chiefly according to whether the policy of the city administration would be to maintain rates for services rendered or to reduce rates. If the policy should be to maintain rates and supply excess earnings to lowering the tax rate, the owners of real estate would receive the first direct benefit, while if the policy should be to lower rates the benefits would be first distributed among the citizens. Take as an illustration the street railroads of New York, which have been consolidated into two great companies, one in Manhattan and one in Brooklyn, with the result foreseen by the advocates of municipal ownership, of an entire elimination of competition. These two companies are capitalized at $585,000,000, as against which the cost of their physical reproduction has been estimated at $202,000,000 by James Creelman in an article in Pearson's Magazine, leaving $383,000,000 to represent the value of their franchises. If the Interborough-Metropolitan and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit should be taken over by the city and fares maintained as at present, and if there should be a 5% net yield on $383,000,000 of franchise value, the result would be that nearly $20,000,000 a year would be contributed towards the city taxes. Since the total expenses of New York City range from $100,000,000 to $120,000,- 000, this would lower the annual tax rate from about 1.50 to 1.20 or 1.25. This reduction in the tax rate would make an equivalent increase in the net yield of real estate, and capitalizing this at 4% for the total value of New York City's property—assessed at $5,805,219,530 and probably worth about $8,000,000,000—would mean an addition of from $500,000,000 to $600,0000,000 in the value of New York City real estate.

On the other hand, if rates should be reduced such a real saving in the cost of living would strengthen the general financial condition of the individual members of the community, and if the saving were of considerable amount,—as it would be if derived from all the public utilities,—real estate rentals and values would be indirectly affected in that the residents of the city would have a larger margin to use as rent in bidding for desirable locations. There would undoubtedly be another result in the case of the street railroads if fares should be reduced, in that cheaper care fares would cause a wider distribution of population. Taking into account the extreme density of New York City's population, there seems little doubt that the street railroads of New York could be run at a profit on 3c. fares and universal transfers, and if such were put into effect there would undoubtedly be a movement of population from the congested districts into the outskirts. Any such movement, however, would be lessened among the tenement house population, first by the gregariousness of the various nationalities which form the greatest congestions on the lower East Side, and second by the loss of time occupied in the two daily trips. The poorest class of workers in New York work from twelve to sixteen hours a day, mostly at piece-work, and the loss of one or two hours each day would seriously cut into their incomes.

In the case of the street railroads also, there would be another important source of influence on the distribution of population and real estate values in the substitution of city government for a private corporation as the power determining what new lines were to be built and where they were to be placed. If it be objected that this is a dangerous power to put into the hands of city officials, it may be answered that real estate owners and private citizens are now in the hands of private corporations responsible to no one, and that there would be at least this lever in the hands of the public that city officials may be held responsible to public opinion. As to street railroad extensions, it is clear that if these lag behind the city's growth the tendency is for the city to remain within densely covered areas; if these keep pace with the city's growth the development is of the best type, and if these are built ahead of the city's growth there is an economic loss in the cost of building and operating, an investment which does not pay, and also vacant land speculations develop which are apt to be unhealthy because ahead of the needs of population. While transportation facilities are vital to the value of outlying land a fallacy exists in the supposition that the mere construction of a street railroad will add value to adjoining land. It not infrequently happens that where a million dollars is spent by a street railroad extension ten million dollars is added to the speculative price at which adjoining land is held. The fallacy here is shown by the fact that if this always held good vacant land owners could at any time add to the value of their lands ten times the cost of constructing street railroads to reach them. The removal of unsuccessful suburban street railroads furnishes another demonstration. Street railroads do not add a dollar to the value of land, but merely redistribute land values by forming a channel into which population and land values may flow, the general result being to add value at both ends of the line at the expense of the intermediate zone.

Let us take as another illustration the Consolidated Gas Company of New York, capitalized at $80,000,000 stock and $21,380,000 debentures, both selling on January 1st last at about 137, to which should be added underlying bonds of over $92,000,000 (Manual of Statistics, 1906), or a total of about $230,000,000. From the report of the Stevens Committee of 1905 the value of its physical property, based on the cost of reproduction, is given as $27,298,576. The difference between this sum and the market value of its securities—in round figures $200,000,000—represents the market value of the franchise. As a matter of fact, the majority of the franchises of the individual gas companies which now form the Consolidated Gas Company have expired, and if the City of New York should either build a new plant or purchase the property of the Consolidated Gas Company at the valuation put upon it by the Stevens Committee, it would not be necessary to earn and pay dividends on some $200,000,000 of "water." If we assume that the plant of the Consolidated Gas Company could earn 5% on its present capitalization, this rate on the "water" in its securities would yield about $10,000,000 to be applied in reduction of the taxes in New York City. This would lower the annual tax rate by about one-fifth of one per cent. and might add about $300,000,000 to the total real estate values of New York City.

If it be objected that the Interborough-Metropolitan, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Consolidated Gas Company are not now earning 5% on their estimated franchise value, being the difference between their capitalization and the estimate of their physical value, the answer is, first, that the financial reports of these companies are extremely complicated and obscure, so that it is most difficult to ascertain the real facts, and, furthermore, that if these companies are not earning such a yield the growth of the city will undoubtedly some day cause them to earn such a yield, which was undoubtedly in mind when the watered securities were issued.

The Consolidated Gas Company report the approximate net earnings of the company as being in 1903, $8,475,080; for 1904, net about $9,000,000, and for 1906, net about $11,000,000. Contrasting these approximate earnings with the estimate of the Stevens Committee for the physical value of their plant at about $27,000,000, would show in the case of the Gas Company net earnings of over 40%; but as stated in the case of practically all public service corporations, it is impossible for the public to ascertain correctly what their net earnings are. The incentive of promoters of such enterprises to water their stocks is clearly seen when it is considered that if such companies should pay dividends of 50% or more per annum, as they could easily do if the stock and bonds were not watered, there would be such public clamor as would swiftly bring about reductions in rates to possibly a 50c. rate for gas and 3c. fares on the railroad.

In estimating the results of municipal ownership on real estate values by capitalizing the decrease in taxes and the consequent increase in income, the broad ground only has been covered. Analyzing these effects in detail along the lines of Prof. Seligman's "Incidence of Taxation" we may note, first, that the tax on real estate consists of two parts, the tax on the land and the tax on the building. The case of the tax on the land is quite simple in that it falls on the owner and cannot be shifted. The owner who leases his land will always endeavor to get as much as possible for it, and since the supply cannot be increased, and since there is no question of cost of production, the change in price can only be effected by the change in demand. The generally accepted doctrine as to the tax on the building is that buildings represent the investment of capital and labor, and no one will enter into the business of building houses for investment unless he can count on a definite return which in general must be equal to the return from capital invested in undertakings of approximately the same kind. A tax imposed upon the owners of the building will generally be shifted to the occupiers; for, if the tax could not be shifted, it would reduce the profits of the owner below the customary level in similar investments. The result would be a cessation of building operations, a consequent scarcity of buildings, and a gradual increase in the rent of existing houses, until the tax should be shifted to the occupier in the shape of higher rents. This doctrine is qualified by two exceptions; first, where the property is decreasing in value, and second, where the tax is a general and not an exclusive one. In the case of property decreasing in value the house owner cannot shift the tax to the occupier because no actual diminution in the supply of houses is possible, and because by the supposition that there is no increase in the demand but rather the reverse. Not until a stable equilibrium has been reached will the building owner cease to bear the burden. Hence, if population is stationary or declining, a tax on existing houses will inevitably fall on the house owner.

As to the second case, the previous argument has been based on the assumption that the house tax is an exclusive tax. As soon as other forms of capital are also taxed the argument falls. The doctrine of the shifting of a house tax to the occupier depends on the assumption that would-be house builders would otherwise prefer to put their money in investments paying them better, thus bringing about a scarcity of houses and an increase of rents; but if other capital or profits are also taxed, there will be no reason for refusing to invest in houses. Hence, rents and values will not rise, and the tax cannot be shifted to the occupier.

If the laws taxing all property were generally enforced the real estate tax would without doubt be borne by the owner. In American cities the general property tax has become a real estate tax. In other words, city real estate bears the greater part of the weight of taxation, personal property being virtually untaxed. In proportion as city houses are taxed at a higher rate than other capital, the main condition under which the tax may be shifted to the occupier is present. This condition is increased in the proportion that the building tax bears to the total tax. Where the building is worth two or three times the land it is quite certain that the greater part of the tax is shifted from the owner of the building to the occupier. The one modification of this would be the unconscious spread of the Single Tax ideas which leads assessors to bear more heavily on land values and more lightly on buildings, so as not to discourage new buildings.

To sum up, in so far as the real estate tax in New York City is levied against the land only, this tax is paid by the owner of the land without shifting, but in so far as the tax is levied on the building, the tax is shifted to the occupier, especially where the value of the building exceeds the value of the land. The exception to this would be where the value of the property is declining, which is not the case in New York, or where personal property is equally taxed, which is also not the case in New York.

Applying these principles of the incidence of taxation to the effects on land values of a diminution of taxation, it follows that in so far as the tax has been levied against the land the removal of such tax directly benefits the owner of the land by its capitalized value, and in so far as the tax is levied against the building and shifted to the occupier the removal of such tax proportionately benefits the occupier by lowering rents. In other words, the benefit from a reduction of taxation due to municipal ownership would accrue both to land owners and to occupiers of buildings in New York.

The chief step towards municipal ownership, and yet one which may delay the actual accomplishment thereof, is the taxation of franchises of public service corporations. Under the recent Ford Law taxing special franchises these are assessed at such figures as the assessors determine, and are then taxed at the same rate as real estate; namely, about 1½% per annum. In practice the corporations have contested and refused to pay these taxes, and they are now running in amounts of many millions of dollars against the corporations. Within the past few weeks on the appearance of activity by the City Comptroller in proceeding against the corporations some of these franchise taxes have been paid. It is theoretically possible that if proper management of municipal activities could not be obtained, the best possible compromise would be along the lines of increased franchise taxation. The power to tax always includes the power to confiscate, and the State or City might in this way confiscate annually for the benefit of all the people the unearned increment in the value of these franchises due to the increase in population.

On the other hand, could honest and competent city administration be obtained there seems no reason to doubt that if New York City owned and operated all its utilities, street railroads, gas, electric lights, telephones, docks, ferries, markets, etc., the yield from the same at the existing or even lower rates would relieve real estate owners from paying any taxes. Under any circumstances it is difficult to see how municipal ownership would injure the value of real estate unless, of course, a city administration should plunge into expensive undertakings which were unproductive, thereby increasing taxes and lowering the city's credit. Barring this source of weakness, which alert voters with frequent city elections could prevent, it would seem to be safe to say that municipal ownership would be highly advantageous to both real estate owners and occupiers.

A Few Words About Structural Steel and Architecture.

ARCHITECTS are complaining that the beauty of their designs is often impaired or even destroyed by the horrid structural members. As a matter of fact, we must concede that it is not unusually the case where plans, carefully worked out to meet the requirements of the owner and present the most beautiful effects, are altered quite extensively, in order to satisfy the practical requirements of safety and economy.

The architect, in most of the cases, will blame the engineer for paying insufficient attention to his design and especially to his details, and on the other side, the engineer will explain matters, by trying to show what those brackets, gussets, deep girders with wide flanges, large columns, etc., are necessitated by the presence of great loads, wind stresses, or by the unsymmetrical concentration of loads, due to the location of columns, as given and insisted upon, by the architect.

As the building must be erected, a series of compromises will take place between the architect and the engineer, in order to avoid too much delay in working out the plans. The architect will usually be forced to reduce the height of a ceiling by "furring down," in order to conceal some unexpected deep beam; or to increase the diameter of a column in order to make it safe; or he will have to add some undesirable brackets or false arches in order to hide a knee-brace or gusset.

The engineer will put up a hard fight before he will make any changes, especially if the detailing of the steel work has been started. He will be forced, nevertheless, to reduce the lateral dimensions of a column and increase the metal area instead, in order to have the same radius of gyration; he will have to alter the design of a heavy girder, weaken its supports by omitting brackets, cut down the fireproofing and even revise the whole layout of the steel work in order to satisfy the architect.

All those changes will necessarily cause a lot of correspondence, conferences, telephoning and delay in preparing the working plans, therefore in erecting the building, besides other unexpected troubles and expenses.

The above mentioned troubles are very familiar to architects, but they are forced by circumstances to accept them with Oriental resignation and consider the structural steel as an unavoidable or necessary evil. If anybody would look into the matter more closely and with impartiality, he would discover that both the architect and the engineer are at fault.

It is a recognized fact that the architect nowadays must be an artist, a thorough business man, and above all know in all their details the requirements particular to each kind of building, and all the elements entering in the construction of buildings. To possess all these qualifications is an ideal very rarely reached. The constructional part of important buildings could be familiar in detail only to those who possess especial technical education and experience.

As a rule, architects in preparing their plans have in sight two things; first, to satisfy the requirements of their clients, and second, to embody their own ideas of beauty. The plans are sent to the engineer which has to design the steel skeleton to fit the plans as worked out by the architect.

The engineer in designing his steel work will have in view considerations of safety and economy, but very, very seldom will he be allowed to carry them out, as the consideration of economy would require that the architect should revise somehow, if not entirely, his plans. In such conditions even the safety of the building is secured at an increased cost, as unusual, and therefore expensive framing is forced upon it.

As soon as the shop drawings are submitted to the architect, new troubles are in store for him, as the detail steel work often interferes with the architectural details; and if those unexpected lugs, knee-braces, or beams are not detected in time, terrible blunders are caused, terrible because very seldom and only at great cost and risk can they be remedied.

In the two years of experience as an architectural draughtsman (although being at that time already civil engineer) I had many opportunities to see architectural failures due to the steel work, failures which could have been easily avoided.

As the general as well as personal welfare requires that we reach the best results in the shortest way and with the least waste of energy and material under any form, it is desirable that a better and more logical cooperation should take place between these two important factors of our civilization—the architect and the engineer. It is desirable that the architect should not stick too much to his first layout of plans, but should pay more attention to the arguments and suggestions presented him by the engineer.

Engineers, as it is commonly admitted, are too little familiar with the special requirements and peculiarities inherent to each class of buildings and designs. In most o fthe cases it is quite true, and that is why architects show a reluctance in accepting any changes in their plans suggested by the engineers.

Civil engineering has a vast field, and it is quite natural that a man experienced in railroad work, bridge construction, subway or water works could not be very familiar with the special requirements to be fulfilled by the structural steel in a high-class apartment house, hotel or bank building.

All the considerations of economy, possible and justified in the designing or detailing of a bridge, would be often causes of delay, trouble and increase in the final cost of the building.

Building construction in order to be of real value in architecture nowadays must become a specialty. The designer of the structural members of a first-class building must be very well acquainted with its architectural and practical requirements and details, and with even plumbing, heating and ventilating, without being necessarily an expert in those lines.

Cases are not seldom where elaborate ceilings in important rooms have to be lowered considerably in order to conceal plumbing and heating pipes, or ventilating flues, which had to run across a very deep beam or girder, a mistake which could have been avoided if the designer of the steel work could have foreseen that difficulty and consequently could have arranged differently the floor beams, without increasing in the least the cost. A reduction of a few inches or a foot in the height of an important room may not seem very appreciable to some people, but, in fact, it reduces the beauty of the room, and not seldom it causes a revision of all detailed plans for interior decoration.

The fear of such complications forces a good many architects to start the detailing of the interior work after the detailed steel plans are approved as satisfactorily, which means a good deal of time wasted besides inconveniences for the contractor. Architects having their own engineering department could testify that the steel plans worked out in harmony with the architectural features and details do not cause trouble, increase in final cost of the building or waste of time.

As very few architects can afford to have a permanent engineering department, they are forced to have the steel work designed outside of their own office, incurring all the above-mentioned risks. In order that the steel work should be designed and detailed to fit the architectural features of a building, besides satisfying the requirements of economy and safety, the engineer must be in close and continuous contact with the architect, and as this is very often even a physical impossibility, the only thing to be done is that the engineer should understand the spirit of the design and its details, besides the practical requirements of the building itself. Then, and only then, his suggestions will seem acceptable to the architect, and the design will be carried out to the satisfaction of everybody.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Plans for the Enlarged Martinique.

BROADWAY.—The Record and Guide was informed on Tuesday at the office of W. R. H. Martin, owner of the Martinique, 56 West 33d st, that operations for the proposed addition to that hotel which will mark the completion of Mr. Martin's original plans for that structure are to be commenced as soon as the new "Marbridge" building, now under course of erection at 6th av, northeast corner 34th st, is ready to open. The present hotel, a 16-sty building, occupies the plot fronting 67.10 ft. at Nos. 54-58 West 33d st, having a depth of half the block, or 98.9 ft., with an "L" in Broadway at Nos. 1264-1268, 39.2 ft., having a depth of 74.2 ft. The new portion will occupy the northeast corner of Broadway and 32d st, now occupied by the Rogers-Peet building, a 5-sty brick structure, which will be demolished as soon as the Rogers-Peet Co. move to the 6th av and 34th st corner. In June, 1905, it will be recalled, Mr. Martin commissioned Henry J. Hardenberg, of 1 West 34th st, to prepare plans for these improvements. It was estimated at that time that the cost of the new portion, and alterations to the old, would total $2,500,000. The building contract has not yet been awarded. Chas. T. Wills, of 156 5th av, has been Mr. Martin's builder in previous operations. The improvement of the southeast corner of Broadway and 33d st, 118.6 ft. on Broadway and 97.4 ft. on the street, with the 20-sty hotel which Geo. B. Wilson and Felix Isman, of Philadelphia, Pa., are to erect, will complete the block, making this the largest hotel district in Manhattan. This structure is being planned by Architect R. E. White, of Philadelphia, Pa., and is estimated to cost about $2,000,000. (See issue Feb. 9, 1907.)

Marvel of Beauty is Mexican Postoffice.

CITY OF MEXICO—The first of a superb group of government buildings, most of them already under construction, has just been finished in Mexico City. The new post office building, the cornerstone of which was laid on Sept. 14, 1902, now awaits only the special furniture ordered from the United States to be complete.

Architecturally the new post office is unexcelled by any building in the country, and as a thing of real beauty surpasses, in the opinion of many, even the Congressional Library at Washington. It is far superior to any office building owned by the United States government.

The interior of the building is in rare marbles, mosaics and bronze. Every bid of decoration is of the finest material, and the imitation stone and marble which have so often been remarked in otherwise handsome buildings in Mexico are nowhere to be seen.

The new post office building is the first government building in Mexico of any architectural design worthy of the name. It is of fireproof construction, its frame being the first steel frame to go up in Mexico City.

Erie Railroad Improvements Under Way.

From all appearances the Erie Railroad is now making active preparations for the construction of its proposed terminal shops at Jersey City. The company purchased property in Jersey City for terminal purposes over a year ago. Plans have been prepared and reconsidered time and again, but from all accounts they have not been entirely approved, and beyond the fact that the company proposed to spend about $1,000,000 in shop construction and equipment at that point the trade has learned but little about the actual plans. It is now stated that the company is filling in the property at Jersey City for the proposed terminal with material excavated in connection with the work in constructing the open cut through Bergen Hill, and making other excavations for a four-track system through that section. The company is pushing work on its suburban division with a view to increasing its passenger facilities, and it is probable that the terminal shops will be rebuilt in connection with the railroad's plans for adding to and improving its New Jersey system.

Carrere & Hastings to Beautify Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY., N. J.—Messrs. Carrere & Hastings, No 28 East 41st st, Manhattan, have been appointed architects to prepare plans for the beautification and partial transformation of Atlantic City. The hotel men have formed a combination to supply capital for the undertaking. The avenues are to be widened, unsightly structures razed, and a great boulevard paralleling Pacific av, now the chief drive of the resort, laid out midway between the latter thoroughfare and the ocean front at an estimated cost of $478,000. Ornamental pavillions inclosed in glass and steam heated are to be erected at convenient intervals along the five-mile promenade. The architects will devise a system of illumination, and are to submit their plans to a general committee comprising the city government, hotel proprietors and business men in about two months. The actual work of improvement will be undertaken in the fall.

Plans for the New Nineteenth Ward Bank.

34TH ST.—William Emerson, of No. 281 5th av, has been commissioned to design the plans for the new branch building which the 19th Ward Bank, 953 3d av, is to establish at Nos. 152-154 West 34th st. The structure will be fireproof, two stories in height, similar in construction to the 72d st branch, which was erected last year. The exterior will be in limestone, with a tile or gravel roof. The interior will be fitted in Caen stone, resembling an artificial marble, with tile and marble trimmings. Work will not begin demolishing and clearing the site before Oct. 1. Four buildings will be torn down. Mr. Emerson will receive all figures, awarding all contracts.

Chinatown to Have an Arcade.

MOTT ST.—Maximilian Zipkes, architect, 147 4th av, has been commissioned by Commissioner J. It is intended to build an arcade which will connect these streets and construct booths on each side. The improvement is estimated to cost about $20,000. No estimates will be taken until condemnation proceedings have been settled; this property being in the centre of the ground intended to be used as a park.

Philadelphia Builder Gets Belmont Contract.

George F. Payne & Co., No. 401 South Juniper st, Philadelphia, Pa., has obtained the general contract to erect the new $500,000 mansion, 152x109 ft., which Hon. The structure will have an Indiana limestone exterior, with carved facades. Horace Trumbauer, Philadelphia, Pa., is architect. Mr. Belmont denies the report current in real estate circles that he has sold his town residence, No. 580 5th av, Manhattan. He says no negotiations for its sale are pending.

Proposed Plan a Substitute for Bridges.

Contractor D. D. McBean, of No 13-21 Park Row and the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, has prepared plans for a type of tunnel as a substitute for bridges. The scheme is advocated especially for a system of thoroughfares under the East and North Rivers. Mr. McBean proposes to construct a tunnel at least 100 ft. in width, with sufficient room for roadways for teams and automobiles, four car tracks and sidewalks. Such a tunnel is estimated to cost less than any bridges of equal capacity. For the terminals a system of elevators is proposed for cars and teams as well as passengers.

The Brick Market.

When brick manufacturers came to balance their books after navigation closed on the Hudson, it was generally found that the past season had not been a profitable one. Labor strikes in the spring time and the sudden fall of prices in midsummer to a very low level—where they have since remained—counteracted the good market of the early part of the year.

Reports state further that manufacturers consider the outlook for brick in the immediate future as discouraging. This is their interpretation of the statistics of plans filed as published in the Record and Guide. They note that last week's report showed only $7,220,000 worth of work planned in Manhattan so far this year, against $19,740,000 worth in 1906. In the Bronx the total is only $2,495,000. Brooklyn building projects are away ahead of last year, but Brooklyn is another story—for most of her material she goes to the lumber yard, rather than to the brick dealer.

Brick values are expected to rule very low as far into the season as anyone can now see. An immense need for new work exists and builders are eager to proceed. But a stingy money market curbs enterprise. As more favorable monetary circumstances are confidently expected ultimately, manufacturers are saying to builders that if they can otherwise arrange matters the present is a good time to make contracts for material.

Sailors' Snug Harbor Leaseholds.

HAVE THE TRUSTEES ADOPTED THE TRUST IDEA?—TENANTS COMBINE, HOLD MEETINGS AND APPOINT COMMITTEES.

Tenants of the Sailors' Snug Harbor property are having trouble over their leaseholds similar to or worse than the Columbia College tenants. Faced with demands for an advance in ground rents they are asking if it is the intention of the corporation to adopt the "trust" idea? David B. Ogden, a corporation attorney, has been appointed by the trustees appraiser of the land values. So high are the ground rents which are now asked, the tenants have combined and are holding meetings to see what is best to do. Committees have been appointed to appeal to the trustees for fair treatment. "You must appoint your appraisers in accordance with the terms of the lease," is the answer of the trustees.

Mr. Wm. Henry Folsom, an appraiser in the Sailors' Snug Harbor district, when asked for some account of the state of affairs, said that "never before were old and good tenants so unfairly treated. The Sailors' Snug Harbor income has now become so large that a freeze-out policy seems to have been adopted, in order to secure the ground leases of such tenants as refuse to accept an 11 years' lease at 30% increase in the ground rent, while the building, with its lease and renewal rights, is to revert at once to the Sailors' Snug Harbor trustees." Mr. Folsom added:

"Granting that the 'trustees are not responsible for tenants' bad bargains,' what will the Sailors' Snug Harbor do without these tenants, to whom this great accumulation of income is due? If a fee lot in this section (improvements deducted) sells for $42,500, when not surrounded by leaseholds and susceptible of improvement with a ten or more story building, surely a lot surrounded by 300 leaseholds, whose terms expire at different periods, is worth, you must appreciate, proportionately much less, but how much less, with all the covenants and restrictions which the lease contains, is a study. This question has been asked publicly by Mr. John H. Dye. In my judgment it is worth nearer 50% less than 33⅓%.

"The value of the land is largely based on the income it can produce, but where is the fool tenant, who, HAVING the money to improve (FOR IT CANNOT BE BORROWED), would expend it on a leasehold property, except for his own business occupancy? Wanamaker has done so, and this, we agree, is a different proposition, until the time comes for cashing up."

"Where is the joker in the Sailors' Snug Harbor ground lease," Mr. Folsom was asked.

"That is simple and has just been forcibly shown up to one of the tenants. A 'know-it-all,' having one house, has gotten together a combination of eight or ten other tenants and induced them to bow down and accept 11-year leases. One of them, on receiving his new cast-iron lease for 11 years, showing no ownership in the building, found that not only must it be kept insured to its full value in favor of the trustees, but that one-third of the taxes for the last year of the term must be paid, though this would not become a lien on the property for five months thereafter. Therefore, having discovered the onesidedness of this lease, he refused to execute it, and decided to sell his property rights for the first spot cash offer. His neighbor, desiring to protect her own property, though she had refused to take less than a 21-years' lease for it, was the accepted purchaser. What happened? This woman, though an old tenant, was refused by the attorney for the trustees consent for the assignment of this lease, unless she accepted an 11-years' lease on her own house, even though she had named her appraiser and obligated herself to pay his fee. This refusal not having the desired effect, she, a widow with children, was told further that 'even if you appoint your appraiser, and the appraisers their umpires, you shall not have a 21-years' lease on your lot (the house where she was born), for who shall exercise our rights to pay for the improvements?

"This is your perpetual lease joker, for of all the ground leases in the City of New York, the Sailors' Snug Harbor leaseholds have always been considered the nearest to a perpetual ground lease."

Another group of tenants held several meetings and appointed a committee of three to personally visit the trustees. This committee, after seeing the trustees and endeavoring to explain the seriousness of their position, were simply referred to their leases and advised to appoint their appraisers. One appraiser was selected and he called on Mr. Ogden, but failed to secure satisfactory results.

After a long argument, the nearest these two appraisers could come together was the trustees' representative demanding an increase in the ground rental of 350%, and the tenants' appraiser conceding to a raise of 240%. The tenants on receiving the report of the appraiser, acceding to an increase of 240%, declared it was an outrage, and that the property could never be made to pay at such a figure.

"What was the answer from the trustees' appraiser?"

"I don't agree with your figures. Appoint your umpire. Mr. Blank (a corporation attorney) would be satisfactory to me."

Facing the Cathedral it is thus insured with perpetual light, air and the imposing view of its massive work of art, the Union Club occupying the northeast corner of 51st st, with the beautiful Frick-Vanderbilt mansion on the opposite corner. Mr. Hall recently bought the Schley dwelling, No 628, on the same block through Taylor Brothers. This is separated by 630 and 632, and owned by Henry Clews and Russell Sage, respectively. It is not believed that Mr. Hall is endeavoring to secure control of the entire block front, as it is stated that Benjamin Altman, who owns 626, at the northwest corner of 50th st, would not consider selling out.

Mr. Hall would neither deny nor affirm any report at his office, although it is learned from good authority that if the present negotiations are successfully closed, the present buildings will be razed and upon the site a handsome high-class apartment hotel will be built, which may outrival the St. Regis.

A. contends that he should receive 50% commission on all deals made by B. & Co. with X., since he, A., was the first to procure X. as a client for B. & Co. A. claims that were he in a commercial line X. being his customer in the first transaction with B. & Co. should continue to be his customer in all future dealings with B. & Co.

Answer.—The case referred to is not covered by any of the conditions named, and A.'s contention cannot be supported by his contract, and we know of no custom in the sales of real estate to support A.'s contention.

Tax Department Methods

By LAWSON PURDY.*

Contrary to the usual opinion, we find a good many persons who desire to pay taxes that cannot legally be exacted. We do not approve of this attitude, for we are not in charge of a donation party, and if any persons desire to make presents to the City, their gifts should be known as such, and not contributed in the form of taxes. There are men who have paid personal taxes for years who were not liable, and who knew they were not. The assessments on some of these very men have been publicly criticized because they are regarded as small. Unfortunately, many people think that a large income is evidence of liability to personal taxation. The reverse of this is the truth. Wealthy men can arrange their investments so as to escape legal liability to personal taxation, while it is often difficult for a merchant with a small stock of goods to avoid a heavy assessment. The practice of paying taxes that are not lawfully required is an evidence of generosity, but it does positive harm by conveying a wrong impression and giving a false appearance of strength to a weak, unwise and unjust system.

Years ago, when the Commissioners were fewer in number, it was sometimes necessary for persons applying for a reduction to wait a long time for attention. In recent years this has seldom, if ever, happened. Unless people come in unusual numbers just before the books close, we do not anticipate that any one will have to stand in line a moment or wait more than a few minutes to be heard. The hours are from ten until twelve on Saturday, and from ten until two on other days. To ensure the orderly work of the office and to prevent any appearance of favoritism, the Board has adopted a fixed rule that no one not present at the closing hour will be heard later. If any one finds it more convenient, however, to come earlier, he will always find a Commissioner in the office by 9 o'clock who will be glad to hear his statement.

The suggestion has been made that it would be an improvement if the Tax Department sent to the persons assessed blanks to be filled out and mailed to the Department. This would require a change in the law, and would not, as a rule, be desirable. It is now the practice in the case of corporations, and most of the mistakes giving rise to litigation occur through imperfect statements sent by mail. The law is complicated, and many people, if unadvised, would make serious mistakes.

THE ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE.

The Department is bound by the law of the State and the Charter of the City, and by recent practice, to assess real property at its ordinary selling value, and every effort will be made to meet this obligation. In some parts of the City the value of land is practically stationary; and in some it is even less to-day than ten years ago; in other parts the increase in value is very rapid, amounting to even 20 per cent. a year. The utmost vigilance is needed to keep pace with these rapidly advancing values, and unless this is done those who own property that is stationary or declining in value bear a grossly excessive burden.

Unfortunately it has become the fashion to omit the true consideration from deeds. In the County of New York last year only about 5 per cent. of the deeds contained what appeared to be the true consideration for the transfer. The Department is thus deprived of about 95 per cent. of the best evidence of value, and is obliged to depend to a great extent on mortgages and such unofficial information as can be obtained regarding rentals and prices.

In the old City of New York for many years the owner of real property whose property was assessed at a higher percentage of the true value than the average, but not more than its market value, could obtain no relief. Under the present Charter relief can be given on the ground of inequality as well as on the ground of over-valuation. At the same time, it is exceedingly difficult for the Board to grant such relief, unless the evidence clearly shows that the property is over-assessed as compared with property in the immediate neighborhood. It may be that some sections of the City are assessed at a higher rate than the average, but it is physically impossible for the Board to re-assess a whole district in order to equalize assessments. Unless an applicant can show discrimination against his property as compared with his neighbors there is little chance of his obtaining a reduction. Applicants for reduction should state clearly and concisely facts, if any exist, tending to show discrimination, and in every case should state whether in their judgment the over-assessment complained of relates to the land or the improvements.

No matter how faithfully and intelligently the Department may do its work, it can never achieve the best results without the hearty co-operation of those who are acquainted with values, and who will give the Department the benefit of their knowledge. This co-operation can best be given by furnishing the Department with information of under-assessments, particularly of under-assessments covering whole districts. No one need feel that if he gives such information he is placed in the light of an informer, for he need not even know the owners of the property, but may be well acquinted with the true and the assessed value. Any information coming to the Department of this nature will be treated as confidential, and no names will be disclosed. We welcome intelligent criticism, and will be very thankful for facts which will aid the Deputies in making fair assessments. The members of the Real Estate Board of Brokers better than any other body of men have the information which would enable the Tax Department to improve the standard of assessment; if they do not help the Department they should be slow to criticize its shortcomings.

The citizens of New York do not generally know that their Tax Department costs less in proportion to the income of New York than the Tax Department of any other large city in the country. Judged by any basis you please,—population, area or revenue,—the New York Tax Department spends less than one-half as much as Boston, and Boston is generally recognized as a well-administered city. In the course of time we shall ask for more Deputies and more money for our Deputies. The Tax Department lays the foundation for the City's whole financial system, and this foundation should be strong and honest and fair; if it be not sound, the City cannot prosper.

*From an address by Hon. Lawson Purdy, President of the Board of Tax Commissioners, City of New York, at the Waldorf-Astoria, Feb. 18, 1907, before the Real Estate Board of Brokers.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

The Nicoll estate is reported to have sold 40 East 53d st, a 4-sty brownstone dwelling, 18x100.5.

David Adler, real estate broker, has removed his office to the Bennett Building, 99 Nassau st, room 703.

Messrs. Schindler & Liebler announce that Mr. J. W. Schultz was associated with them as broker in the sale of 1430 to 1434 2d av.

Lewis M. Thiery, real estate, insurance, begs to announce the removal of his office to 2780 Broadway, corner 107th st. Telephone, 1963 Riverside.

Albert H. Frankel, the buyer of 11 Water st, is the owner of the adjoining property, 7 and 9. Mr. Frankel now controls a plot of about 4,000 sq. ft.

Hulbert Peck & Sons were the brokers in the sale of the two 5-sty brownstone double flat houses 122 and 124 West 102d st, 26x87x100.5 each, for Emanuel E. Fox.

J. Edgar Leaycraft & Co., the old established firm of real estate brokers and appraisers, have opened a down-town office in the Washington Life Building, 141 Broadway.

Ex-Mayor Seth Low has mortgaged his business property 502 and 504 Broadway, Manhattan, a 5-sty building, to Nathaniel Whitman for $300,000. The mortgage has three years to run at four per cent. interest.

Raphael Carero loaned to the Bankers Construction Co. $630,000 on the property north side 32d st, 420 ft. west of 5th av, and extending through to 33d st. A 12-sty studio office and mercantile building will be erected on the parcel.

The Baltimore & Ohio R. R. is getting ready to accommodate 10,000 freight cars at Arlington, in the Borough of Richmond. This is an indication of the large volume of freight business the company expects to handle on Staten Island in the near future.

By mutual consent the contract for the purchase of 198 Broadway has been cancelled. Max Marx, the reported purchaser, demanded a reformation of the agreement, but the seller, Isaac H. Clothier, of Philadelphia, offered cancellation of contract, which was accepted.

Mr. Ashley M. Herron, for the past twelve years a representative of the firm of Fred'k Southack and Alwyn Ball, Jr., real estate and insurance brokers, announces he has opened an office in the St. James Building, 1135 Broadway, for the transaction of a general real estate business.

Golde & Cohen, 171 Broadway, offer a tract of East River water-front property on advantageous terms. The plot is 200x200, and is situated on the north side of Stanton st, from Mangin to Tompkins st. It is the largest stretch of water front for sale to-day on the island south of 14th st. (See advertisement.)

Wm. P. Rooney, 773 8th av, near 47th st, commenting upon the innovation of the proposed colored department store, which is to be located at the northeast corner of 8th av and 47th st, believes that there will not be enough patronage on the part of the people of their race to support such an elaborate enterprise. He thinks that its influence will not better the condition of the neighborhood, but will have a tendency to hurt the respectable restaurants, saloons and other stores in the immediate vicinity, as the shoppers going to and fro will necessarily have to stop by the wayside to rest and refresh themselves.

Large Estate at Auction.

The Eliza Mulry estate is to be sold at public auction on Wednesday, March 6, by order of the executors, Thomas M. Mulry, Esq., president of the Emigrant Savings Bank; Harold Swain, Esq., of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co.; Dr. Joseph H. F. Egan and Thomas F. Mulry, Esq. The property comprises numerous holdings on the lower East Side, among them

Annual Entertainment of Employing Plasterers.

On last Thursday evening the International Employing Plasterers of the City of New York held their second annual entertainment and reception at their club house, 74 West 126th st. The entertainment, which consisted of all professional talent and Prof. Kelly's Lifeograph, proved a grand success under Secretary John F. Niebuhr, who acted as master of ceremonies. After the entertainment the club house was all open to the guests, who consisted of all the well-known people in the building trades, among whom was seen Messrs. Crooker and Traxtell of the Rockland-Rockport Lime Co.; Mr. Benj. Darrow, of the firm of Rufus Darrow & Sons; Theo. Woods, Mr. N. Wise, Mr. Young, of the Manhattan Lime Co., and William Caldwell, Jr., of the Kelly Island Lime Co.; Mr. John Shanassey, cashier of the United States Exchange Bank, which is at 23 West 125th st, and is open until 10 P. M. every night; Mr. Pelham, of the Pelham Hod Co.; Chas. F. Russell, John Kingston, M. J. Monahan, Plumb & Scott, Adolpf Wishing, all employing lathers, and Alderman Dunwoodie, of the 34th District. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner. This association was formed for the purpose of creating a better feeling in the trade and has a membership to-day of over sixty, who meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 74 West 126th st. The officers of the association are: Thomas J. Mannion, president; John McCahill, vice-president; Joseph Van Note, treasurer; John F. Niebuhr, secretary; Thomas Brennan, sergeant-at-arms. On and after March 1, 1907, the initiation fee of this association will be $100.

Remarkable Activity in Waldorf-Astoria Section.

No part of Manhattan is at present attracting so much attention as that section of 5th av lying below 42d st, familiarly termed "the new shopping centre." The character and volume of the trading along that thoroughfare during the past two weeks has been little short of phenomenal, and abundantly bears out the predictions of many brokers and investors of prominence who have wisely chosen the Waldorf-Astoria section as their field for operations. In the light of the occupation of 5th av by many leading merchants and tradesmen, and owing to the improvements in new mercantile and office buildings which naturally follows a movement of this kind, an increase in realty trading is to be counted upon; but some causes other than local are attributed to the recent purchasing by those professing to be authority on values in the locality. One well-known broker advanced the opinion that the much talked of improvement believed to be projected by the N. Y., New Haven & Hartford R. R. is responsible for the sudden activity of last month. Others credit the movement to the desire of business firms to become their own landlords, thus following the precedent recently established by several well-known merchants on lower Broadway. One feature of the sales in question is the disparity between the prices obtained per square foot for corners and those obtained for inside lots. In the latter instance sales have been reported at about $160, $117, $125 and $134 per square foot, as against $130 obtained for the northeast corner of 31st st. Perhaps the most interesting sale of the week, however, was the purchase by John Hoge, of Zanesville, Ohio, of 481 5th av. 17.4x100, at a price reported at $200 per square foot, which nearly equals the sum paid for the southeast corner of 42d st when bought by Felix Isman last fall, for about $211 per square foot.

Taxpayers' Dinner.

The members and guests of the East Tremont Taxpayers' Association enjoyed the fourth annual banquet on the eve of Washington's Birthday at Proessel's Hall, which was largely attended. President Frank Becker was the toastmaster of the occasion and delivered the address of welcome. Other speakers were Mr. William Gill, Hon. J. F. Murray, Charles Forbach, Charles A. McRae and J. A. Dougherty.

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & C. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Cliam deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existingg ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

February 21, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28.

WALL STREET has had a severe shaking up this week, and as with former upheavals and movements of a similar character, the inevitable upturn should come if the future is to be judged by the past. Obviously the wild selling movement was started with a view of demoralizing the market and precipitating, if not a panic, at least panicky conditions. The action of stocks on Wednesday undoubtedly indicated that the bears, for the time being, were routed, and in their efforts to cover they made things lively. That there is an enormous short interest cannot be doubted for a moment. Wall Street, which is always full of surprises, has been indeed treated this week to an almost unprecedented spectacle in the advance in Reading on enormous dealings. It rose eleven points from 114¼. Upward of 700,000 shares were dealt in, the total transactions in all issues on Wednesday amounting to about 2,400,000 shares. The improvements in other stocks after the earlier slump included advances in Great Northern 5⅛, Atchison 3⅜, Northern Pacific 2⅞, Union Pacific 1⅝, Southern Pacific 2½, Tennessee Coal & Iron 3, American Smelting 2⅛ and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 3½, the bears naturally suffering in consequence. As Reading was the storm centre there were, of course, all kinds of rumors flying about with regard to it. It was currently reported that the property had been captured by Frick and Harriman. Philadelphia and Reading, together with the New Jersey Central Railroads, would thus, with Mr. Harriman's other holdings, give him complete control of a transcontinental railroad system, which is figured as follows, with the total mileage of upwards of 32,000, stocks and bonds $2,360,000,000 and the different properties respectively, Southern Pacific, Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central, Reading and Central Railroad of New Jersey. It is but fair to say, however, that Mr. Harriman makes a practice of neither denying nor confirming rumors regarding his business dealings and does not seem inclined to throw any light on the question of the Brobdignagian deal. All indications point to the fact that there are grounds for the belief that something of the kind has been accomplished, though brokers in touch with the parties concerned deny all knowledge of such a coup. On the other hand friends of Reading say that the stock went up for two reasons, one because of the large short interest, and the other because of the tremendous business it would do in the present year. There has been little or no change in money rates, call money ranging between 5¼ and 6 per cent., with a prevailing rate of 5½ per cent, and the rates for time money are not excessive. To sum up, it may be said that although certain capitalists indulged in bearish talk the reports of iron trade organs are hopeful and we are told that the bargain hunter is abroad in Wall Street.

THE introduction of the measures drawn up under the direction of Governor Hughes providing for the constitution of two public utility commissions raises questions of the gravest importance for New York City. The proposed legislation places all transit, electric and other corporations, operating under franchises in New York City, under the control of a commission appointed by the Governor. The powers of this commission would be enormous. They would include not only all the functions now resident in the Rapid Transit Commission, but also all and more of the powers now resident in the State Railroad Commission. It would not only plan extensions to the subway system, but it would overlook the actual operation of the railways in this city, their financial transactions, and all other possible matters of public interest in connection with them. In this respect the proposed commission is undoubtedly a great improvement upon the existing machinery of supervision. The powers over the railroads in this city, which the bill confers upon the proposed commission, should have been granted to the Rapid Transit Commission long ago; and the provisions of the bill in this respect are unquestionably deserving of all approval. When, however, the relation of this commission to the municipal administration of New York City is carefully considered, the provision of the bill in this respect raises many doubtful questions. The commission would be a body appointed by the Governor and responsible to the state authorities. At the same time it would have partial or exclusive authority over a large number of exclusively local matters. In all business connected with rapid transit extension, for instance, it could do nothing without the cooperation of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and it is entirely possible that two Boards deriving their powers from such different sources might frequently clash. The bill, that is, sets up a vital piece of local governmental machinery in New York City without any sufficient reference to the spirit and the machinery of the existing charter; and we do not believe that in the long run it will work smoothly. There is no objection to government by commission, and the members of such a commission should unquestionably be appointed rather than elected; but they should be appointed by the Mayor and not by the Governor. While Mr. Hughes, himself, would doubtless name an excellent commission, the quality of the appointments made in the past by Republican Governors has not been such as to inspire much confidence in the people of New York. They would rather run the chance of bad appointments with a Mayor, who is responsible to them, than with a Governor, who is not. Opposition to the Governor's measures will be concentrated on this point, and it would be a great pity, in case the whole scheme falls through, because it is defective in this minor respect.

THE patience with which the people of New York submit to the evils and embarrassments of their defective means of street communication is extraordinary. During the past winter the common topic of conversation at almost any gathering of New Yorkers has been the delays they had encountered and the trains they had missed owing to the congested condition of the streets. Yet in spite of this ferment of protest and the real seriousness of these delays, no voice has been raised in public demanding that the municipal government take some measures which will relieve this congestion and enable the streets of New York to serve their purpose. The city of New York is in this matter riding for a fall. People complaian that the railroads have not been sufficiently forehanded in arranging for a future increase of traffic; but the railroad companies have been models of fore-sighted management compared to New York City. And every successful year of delay makes the problem more difficult and more expensive to solve. The very congestion increases the values of real estate in and near the centres thereof, and this increase of real estate values makes any adequate plan of relief almost impossibly expensive. Ten years ago a tolerably comprehensive plan of street widening and extensions could have been adopted and carried out at a cost which would have been large, but not out of the question. At the present time a similarly comprehensive plan could not be carried out except at double the cost, and it is no wonder that the municipal authorities flinch at the idea of spending the money which the sufficient improvement of the streets of New York City would demand. On the other hand, the business interests of New York are undoubtedly suffering severely from the existing congestion. Every business, for instance, to whom the quick receipt and delivery of goods in trucks and wagons is of great importance, has been put during the past winter to large extra expenses, and there can be no doubt that such kinds of business will, in the course of time, be impelled, if possible, to move out of Manhattan. Surely it is time for the business men of Manhattan to form a serious organization devoted specifically to the purpose of improving the street layout of the borough. The plain fact is that the existing street system of New York has broken down. It is wholly inadequate to the strain which is being placed upon it; and the longer the necessary improvements are delayed, the more dangerous and costly the consequences will be. The traffic problem of New York is quite as important as the transit problem, and it should be dealt with in a similar manner. A Board of Street Improvements with powers similar to the Rapid Transit Commission is not necessary, because the Board of Estimate has most of the necessary authority; but if the Board of Estimate will not act on its own initiative, it should be forced to do so by public opinion.

DURING the past week one of the large factory buildings which are being constructed by the Bush Terminal Company has been opened for business in South Brooklyn, and its several floors have been rented to manufacturers who have been running their shops in Manhattan. In all probability this is the beginning of a process, which, during the next fifteen years, will gather increasing momentum. As the price of land becomes more and more expensive in Manhattan, rents will increase to such an extent that manufacturers, who require a large amount of space, will have a strong and increasing inducement to move; and the inducement will be all the stronger because locations for factories in South Brooklyn and elsewhere will have many other advantages besides comparative cheapness of rent. In the first place, buildings such as those being erected by the Bush Terminal Co. are very much better equipped and very much more conveniently arranged for manufacturing purposes than are the older buildings in Manhattan. But of still greater importance is the cheapness of handling and the ease of shipment which manufacturers in Brooklyn would enjoy. In New York the cost of trucking and the expense of handling, resulting from the insular situation of the borough, have always been heavy charges against a manufacturer's business. These charges will, in the course of time, be very much smaller across the river. The convenience of the factories to the new piers in South Brooklyn already makes the export of many articles extremely inexpensive, and when the connecting railway and the other improvements of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are completed, Brooklyn will possess facilities for the cheap handling and distribution of freight which cannot be approached in Manhattan. A great deal could doubtless be done towards a cheaper system of handling freight in Manhattan than the one now in use. An elevated freight railroad on West Street, connected by spurs with the piers and with factories and warehouses situated on the side streets in that part of the city, might keep a great deal of business in Manhattan which otherwise would go elsewhere, and most assuredly something ought to be done to make the handling of freight in Manhattan less expensive. Still in the long run there can be no doubt that little by little a large amount of manufacturing which in the past has been carried on in Manhattan will be transferred to other boroughs, and particularly to Brooklyn and Queens. The transit and transportation improvements now under way will tend little by little to reorganize the whole economic and domestic system of New York City. Manhattan will lose certain manufacturing industries which can be more cheaply carried on elsewhere, and it will also gradually lose in its superiority in population over the other boroughs. On the other hand, Manhattan will hold the vast amount of wholesale and clerical and financial business from which it now benefits; and it will doubtless hold also many kinds of light manufacturing work. The goods will be sold and the accounts settled in Manhattan, and the interests and volume of its business life will increase. The prices of real estate in certain parts of the borough may temporarily be effected by the diminishing volume of its manufacturing business, but in the long run Manhattan will obtain great indirect benefits from the growth of the greater city as a manufacturing centre, which is bound to be the result of an increasing cheapness of production.

—It was pointed out by a writer in a recent magazine, that when the Brooklyn Bridge was opened, it was used by only 10,000 people daily. That was in 1883. In 1898, after the consolidation of Greater New York, it was used by 300,000 people daily. At the close of 1906, it was used by more than half a million daily, notwithstanding the fact that other channels had been provided by the completion of the Williamsburgh Bridge and by the addition of a great number of boats to the various ferry lines. This writer also makes a statement which is a fact, that to-day Brooklyn has a larger population than Manhattan had when the bridge was opened.

The National Banks and Real Estate.

THE House of Representatives recently bestowed its approbation by a decisive vote on an amendment to the national banking law permitting the national banks to invest a proportion of their assets in real estate loans. The amendment has the appearance of being a conservative one, inasmuch as no bank is permitted to invest more than twenty-five per cent. of its capital and surplus in such securities, or to loan more than fifty per cent. of the value of the property, but it is none the less a very radical departure from the principles which determined the framing of the national banking act. Previous to the establishing of the existing system of national banks, the great weakness of the banking system of the United States was due to the extent to which its assets were invested in real estate securities. The successive periods of speculative inflation in real estate values which culminated in 1837 and 1857 were financed by the local banks, and the resulting panics paralyzed the whole credit system of the country. The national banks were not allowed the same opportunity of lending on real estate, because at the time the act was passed our National Legislature had the liveliest recollections of the abuses which had resulted from permitting such real estate loans. Experience had shown that in times of speculation the security becomes dubious, and the inability to realize on it immediately is another important drawback. Congress, consequently, should have the very best of reasons before it consents to alter the traditional policy in this respect of the national government, and it will be well to examine closely the motives which apparently have instigated the change.

These motives are betrayed plainly by the limitation placed upon the kind of real estate security which a bank may accept. The amendment authorizes the lending of money upon "farm lands," only, and the question is: Why are the banks permitted to lend on farm lands and forbidden to lend on urban land? The reason given was that the value of real estate on the outskirts of cities is at times so speculative in its nature, that the security would be insufficient; and this reason undoubtedly has its force. But it is equally true that the value of farm lands is, at certain times and in certain places, equally speculative in its nature; and it is, moreover, subject to all manner of wide fluctuations. The value of farm lands all over New England, the Middle States, and some of the more Southern States which do not grow cotton, is much less than it used to be. Prices shrink sometimes so largely that the limitations of the loans to 50 per cent, of their value by no means guarantees adequate security. One can never tell what radical changes in methods of culture, in sources of supply and in the intensity of competition may not change the farming of a whole region from a profitable into a relatively unprofitable undertaking. English land was once considered the best possible investment, whereas now it is practically a burden. Moreover American methods of cultivation tend to exhaust the land—as it has already been exhausted in Maryland and in Virginia. In many of the Western States such a process of depletion is already under way and will, in time, convert prosperous agricultural communities into comparatively poor ones. In truth the value of farm lands in a speculative community like the United States is subject to many and wide variations. Just as a matter of security improved real estate in a city of any size is much the more stable kind of real property; and if it were desirable in the interests of the banks to permit a larger range of investment, improved urban real estate could present the strongest claims for consideration. The limitation to farm lands, on which the House of Representatives has insisted is an unfair restriction and reveals unmistakably the motive for the proposed amendment.

Ever since Congress has permitted the organization of national banks with a capitalization of $25,000, an enormous number of these banks have been started in the small towns all over the country. In such towns the amount of business is restricted and it is doubtless difficult for such banks to find the necessary security for loans without depending to some extent on real estate, whereas, when a capital of $50,000 was required, national banks were established only in larger communities, whose trade and industry afforded a bank abundant opportunity to lend its assets to advantage. It is this extension of the national banking system into communities whose business is almost entirely agricultural which has resulted in this new amendment. If the directors of the small banks are permitted to make such loans, they will undoubtedly be much more useful financial agents than they are at present and probably more profitable ones as well. But at the same time the change will undoubtedly impair the perfect security which has attached as a whole to our national banking system. The trouble with real estate as the basis of a credit system is not that the value is not present, but that men can, with the best intentions in the world, so easily over-estimate its stability. The ordinary security upon which a bank lends money, such as a note or stocks and bonds, has or should have a definite market value, so that while errors may occasionally be made, any large losses from such loans must be due either to gross incompetence or dishonesty. But the opinions, even of experts, as to real estate values, differ considerably; and in a country like our own there is nothing about which men may either deceive themselves so easily or else be so easily deceived. Wave after wave of real estate speculation sweeps over the United States, under the influence of which prices are inflated; and this applies as much to farm as it does to urban land. The proposed change in the national banking law would mean that the small national banks might hereafter become involved in these speculations, the collapse of which might injure, not merely one bank, but those of a whole region. From every point of view the wisdom of the original restriction against real estate loans by national banks cannot be impeached. The truth is that the lending of money on real estate is a special business, which needs a special organization, wholly different from the organization of a national bank. An institution lending its money in this way must have expert appraisers, on whose judgment it can rely, and who know too much to be carried away by a fever of speculation. The great advantage which the title companies and the savings banks in large cities have over other possible lenders is that they have the best possible equipment for the business. It would not pay a national bank, lending only a small proportion of its capital, to build up a similar organization. It is, consequently, very much to be hoped that the Senate will refuse to concur in the amendment passed by the House; but if it does concur, the limitation of the loans to farm land is absurd. Urban land values, particularly when the land is improved, are much more secure than those of agricultural land; and the restriction makes a discrimination which plainly gives away the motive of the proposed change.

Legislative Digest.

SUMMARY OF BILLS PROPOSED BY THE STATE SPECIAL TAX COMMISSION.

The report of the State Special Tax Commission, submitted to the Legislature January 15, 1907, has now been printed. Accompanying the report were eleven bills. Seven of these bills were recommended in the main report of the commission and were substantially agreed to by all of the members, though three members dissent from some details. Four of the bills are recommended in supplemental reports.

Two of these bills were introduced Feb. 11th. They provide for a graduated inheritance tax (No. 1), and for a partial listing system (No. 6). The other bills have not been introduced.

Listing Bill.—Recommended by seven members of the Special Tax Commission:

6. An Act to amend the tax law (Sec. 36) relative to the taxation of personal property (Senate Bill No. 420, introduced by Mr. Cassidy).

Provides that any person applying for a reduction of a personal property assessment shall file a statement containing an accurate list of all property he owns; and if a reduction is sought because of indebtedness, the statement shall contain also a list showing the amount of each debt, with the name of creditor and date when debt was contracted. Such statement to be sworn to, and false swearing to be punished as perjury.

This is an attempt to bolster up the personal property tax by a partial listing system that applies only to the persons who happen to be put on the assessment roll. That so many persons escape assessment entirely is the excuse for the bill given in the supplemental report, but the bill provides no remedy for that condition. It makes the case of those caught by the assessors worse, but does not attempt to get on the roll every person liable to assessment. The report says that this amendment would stop the "enormous reductions in the amount of personal assessments in the great commercial centers of the state, of which the public have annual exhibitions."

Evidently, from this remark, the bill is aimed at the City of New York, although the tax department of this city is practically the only one which is now doing substantially what the bill would require.

Graduated Inheritance Tax.—Senate Bill No. 421 introduced by Mr. Cassidy. This imposes a tax based upon each individual share received from an estate, and graded according to relationship and to the amount. Beneficiaries are divded into three classes. The first class comprises those near relatives who under the present law pay 1%. The second class comprises relatives such as first cousins, uncles, aunts, nephews and nieces; the third class distant relatives or strangers. "Primary rates" are established for these classes of 1%, 3% and 5% respectively. Bequests in the first class are exempt up to $2,500, second class to $250, third class to $100.

2. An Act to amend the tax law relative to the taxation of corporations for state purposes. Affects domestic and foreign business corporations, public service corporations and trust companies. The principal changes proposed are: A further alteration of Section 182 in regard to the classification of business corporations for the annual franchise tax; an increase in the tax on gross earnings of various public service corporations to 1½% (and repealing the tax on dividends in excess of 4% to which some are now subject), two-thirds of the tax to be returned to cities and towns; an increase in the tax on trust companies to 1½% (but allowing deduction for real estate occupied and owned by company), giving two-thirds to localities. Certain administrative features relating to payment and reports are amended.

The Tax Reform Association says the changes in Section 182 relating to business corporations make the law still more uncertain than the amendments of last year. "All of the tax on trust companies now goes to the state; as 95% is paid by the City of New York, the provision to return two-thirds to the localities is a step in the right direction, but the increased tax would be an additional burden on the commercial interests of the city. The commission offers no figures to show the effect of the changes in the tax on public service corporations. The administrative changes proposed seem advisable as they diminish the discretion of an executive department and leave it to the courts to determine whether failures to report are intentional."

3. An Act to revise and amend the tax law relative to the taxation of corporations for local purposes (title misleading).

Affects savings bank deposits, life insurance policyholders, holders of bank shares, and domestic corporations.

This bill makes a number of changes in the exemption sections of the tax law, the chief of which are: Limiting the exemption of savings bank deposits to the sum of $1,000 for any one depositor in any one bank; and repealing the present exemption of accumulations held by domestic life insurance companies for the benefit of the insured.

4. An Act to amend the tax law relatives to the taxation of special franchises. Provides that if special franchise tax is not paid within sixty days after its final determination the right to such special franchise shall be forfeited.

The Tax Reform Association says regarding this that it is impracticable and unconstitutional. The rights of mortgage bondholders must be considered.

5. An Act amending the stock transfer tax. Makes the basis of the tax the selling price of stock instead of face value.

9. An Act providing for a tax on occupants of habitations.

Provides that supervisors or aldermen may exempt personal property (of individuals only; not of corporations) by substituting a habitation tax. This is to be assessed upon every "occupant" (as head of household) of a dwelling, and is graduated from 3% to 20% on the annual rent paid above an exemption ranging from $600 in first-class cities down to $100.

The Tax Reform Association's comment: "If no other relief can be obtained from the gross inequalities of the personal property tax, such a measure might be desirable, and is better than an income tax. But a graded habitation tax would tend to diminish the demand for high class dwellings and apartments and thereby affect real estate values. So far as the City of New York is concerned, it would be cheaper and simpler to abolish the personal property tax on individuals entirely and raise the additional $3,000,000 for local revenue from real estate as in Pennsylvania cities."

10. An Act providing for a tax on incomes. Substitutes for the personal property tax on individuals, a tax on incomes above $1,500 ranging from 1% to 10%.

The United Real Estate Owners' Associations have selected the following special committee to represent them at Albany regarding the desired amendments for the Tenement House Law, viz.: James L. Conway, Dr. Abraham Korn, Thomas Krekeler, Ira J. Ettinger, Adolph Block and Chas. H. Schnelle. The bills to be introduced are the Discretionary Power, Basement Amendment, Power of Injunction and Fire Escape amendment bills.

The New York Tax Reform Association proposes a bill providing for the apportionment of State taxes in accordance with local revenues. This is a simple way of providing for any deficit in the yield from special taxes, and it leaves the money in the counties until it is wanted. This is better than taxing people's money into the State Treasury, where it is not wanted by the State, on the theory that when it amounts to a large sum the counties will get some of it back. The bill provides also for exemption or a lower rate for such classes of property as any county thought wise. It has been endorsed by the press and the leading commercial organizations of the State. This bill provides the most practicable cure for the defects of personal property taxation.

A New "Uptown" Section

Until a short while ago New York had a suburb known as "Kingsbridge," a relic of Continental days, when the Albany stage-coaches took their last relay of horses there before proceeding to the end of their journey down the Bloomingdale road to the City Hall. Almost over night this ancient suburb was changed to a new up-town section when the subway crossed the Harlem Ship Canal and opened its stations at West 225th st (Marble Hill) and West 230th st (Kingsbridge) for an "all-day and night" business.

Now, old New Yorkers, waiting at down-town subway platforms for their respective trains to Harlem, rub their eyes and stare when they see and hear the well-known signs in the car windows reading—and hear the uniformed guards shouting, "Broadway-Kingsbridge Express!" It forcibly reminds them of the time when Harlem was a suburb until the advent of the "L" roads changed it into—"Up-Town." Just what the "L" road has done for the Harlemite at 125th st, the subway is doing now for the Kingsbridge and Marble Hillite at 225th st, and just as then the horse cars distributed the suburbanite from the terminus of the "L" roads to the Bronx, just so do the trolley lines now carry thousands of people from the terminus of the subway at Kingsbridge to Yonkers and beyond.

The opening of the Subway Broadway express service is bringing daily scores of would-be tenants from the lower sections of the city to Kingsbridge, expecting to find an unlimited supply of vacant houses or apartments to choose from, each one under the natural illusion that he or she is the first one to discover a new territory. Their looks of incredulous consternation when to their stereotyped question for "a list of vacant one or two-family houses," the none the less stereotyped reply is made that "there are no vacant accommodations" (with the accent on the "no") can, therefore, easily be imagined.

Here then is a lesson for the builders, big and little, who indiscriminately rush up houses and flats in the over-built sections of the Bronx and Washington Heights, where overproduction brings competition, and demands for "free" rent have to be acceded to in order to induce tenants to move into these empty houses—while at Kingsbridge and vicinity applicants for rooms have to be turned away by the hundreds, owing to the "under-built" conditions existing in this settlement, which for accessibility to-day equals any other up-town section and which "to-morrow" will far excel it. For while the subway is now actually in operation, it is but one of three rapid transit systems with which Kingsbridge will be served in the very near future. There is, first, the electric system of the N. Y. Central from the Grand Central Depot, and then the electric through-service via the West Side "L" roads and the Putnam Division of the N. Y. Central, all of which will carry passengers to and from Kingsbridge for a 5-cent fare at 10 minutes' headway. Thus, while other portions of the City are clamoring for ONE Rapid Transit line, Kingsbridge has one NOW and two more in course of construction, to say nothing of three or four trolley-lines, radiating from Kingsbridge in all directions of the compass. Meanwhile, almost all streets of Marble Hill and some in Kingsbridge have been graded, curbed and flagged, sewered and paved, and are therefore ready for immediate building operations of a solid character.

LOT VALUES.

Owing to a limited supply of building sites, lot values on improved streets have reached $5,000 and upward per lot. On Broadway, below the Harlem Ship Canal and the Spuyten Duyvil Creek, the main business thoroughfare, about $15,000 each. Both the N. Y. Central Depot and the Subway stations are located on this street where the Drawbridge crosses the Ship Canal. Rents equal to Harlem are readily obtained here, and inasmuch as an investment in land requires only about one-third that required at Harlem or Washington Heights, there is a wide margin of profits in favor of Kingsbridge. "A word to the wise ought to be sufficient."

New Jersey's Industrial Boom.

WHY ALL THE TOWNS WITHIN FORTY MILES OF NEW YORK ARE BOUND TO GROW.

"The industrial area of northern New Jersey, which is confined to the territory traversed by the great trolley system of the State and the steam trunk lines within a radius of forty miles of New York, will enjoy a greater boom during the ensuing year than has ever been experienced before," said an officer of the Paterson Business Men's Association at the Hardware Club in this city recently.

"I don't see it," retorted a New York manufacturer whose factories are in Long Island.

"You will have to admit that New Jersey has more factory lands, better factory lands, and cheaper, situated close to more railroads than any other Eastern State," said the New Jersey man.

"Yes," the New Yorker admitted, reluctantly.

"Well, I will tell you the rest of my argument, then," rejoined the Jerseyite.

"The reasons are several: (1) My State has more territory for factories along our trunk lines and more room for sidings than any other adjacent State. The other day a real estate man told me that the present railroad lines in northern New Jersey have room for 3,000 miles of factory sidings without laying an additional mile of main track. (2) The experience of our manufacturers proves that the labor available in New Jersey is of a higher class than in any neighboring State, and that cheap labor cannot compete against ours. The greatest industries of New Jersey have been so long established that son succeeds father at bench and loom, much as is the case in Europe. After a time skill at a good occupation becomes inborn.

"The existence of an industrial community, such as ours, is due to the extension of our transportation facilities which bind town to town and enable wage-earners to obtain comfortable residences away from the smoke and soot of the factory towns."

Durability of Steel Buildings

OBSERVATIONS OF FRANK B. GILBRETH AT SAN FRANCISCO—MERITS OF VARIOUS FIRE AND RUST PROOF MATERIALS TESTED.

There is no reason to fear structural damage in tall buildings in San Francisco or anywhere else by an earthquake as severe as that of April 18th, 1906, provided these buildings are properly designed and constructed. This is the opinion of Frank B. Gilbreth, the New York contractor, who is reconstructing the eight-story steel frame Mutual Life Building in San Francisco. Mr. Gilberth has been in San Francisco for several months, where he is taking a leading part in the work of reconstruction, and during that time has had exceptional opportunities for studying the effects of seismic disturbances and conflagrations upon various types of structures.

The Mutual Life Building, which is taller than the average ten-story building, was erected thirteen years ago on made ground, and survived the earthquake without a structural blemish. During the subsequent conflagration, however, it sustained damage sufficient to necessitate the removal of the upper six stories.

When it was known that Mr. Gilberth had received the contract for reconstructing the building, he was at once besieged for information. Engineers and architects wished to know about the condition of the steel frame. Paint manufacturers and dealers inquired as to the brand of protective paint which had been used to prevent rust, while representatives of other lines overwhelmed him with questions as to what had happened to other materials which had been used. The evidence collected by Mr. Gilbreth is of high value to the building industry, as this is one of the first cases where it has been found possible to make a thorough investigation as to the condition of structural steel and iron after it had been imbedded in a building for a term of years. Mr. Gilbreth, due to his investigations, believes that:

1. A steel frame, properly painted and buried in masonry, will not rust enough in thirteen years to affect its strength to any measurable extent.
2. The better the steel is coated with mortar the less it will rust.
3. Portland cement is better than lime mortar for imbedding steel to prevent it from rusting.
4. Unpainted iron rods buried in mortar composed of lime and a large proportion of Portland cement rust very little, certainly not enough to impair their strength.
5. Columns should be of such cross section that they can be thoroughly imbedded in Portland cement, avoiding a hollow column unless latticed and filled with very soft concrete.
6. Wherever possible, preference should be given to those shapes of steel that present the least surface to the action of rust.
7. If steel is not thoroughly cleaned from rust before it is painted, the paint will not greatly retard the progress of the rust.
8. It is much easier to cover steel thoroughly with concrete than with brick masonry. If brick masonry is to be used, the bricklayer should thoroughly plaster the steel work ahead of the brick work.
9. The quality of the paint used, though important, is not so important as surrounding every part of the steel with Portland cement.
10. Interior columns do not rust as much as exterior columns.
11. Cinder concrete does not injure to the slightest degree a steel floor beam that has been painted.
12. No pipes or wires should ever be placed behind fireproofing, as they will buckle with the heat and push off the fireproofing.
13. This building probably could have been saved intact if it had had fireproof exterior door and window-frames with wire-glass and an emergency water-tank on the roof.
14. Neither marble nor any of the well-known kinds of plaster will withstand heat. There is a tremendous demand for some durable material that can be worked as easily as can wood or plaster, but which will resist great temperature.

THE REAL ESTATE BOARD OF BROKERS OF NEW YORK AND GUESTS AT THE WALDORF-ASTORIA, FEBRUARY 18, 1907.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

New Revision Commission.

A commission to prepare and report, in conjunction with the Committee on Buildings of the Board of Aldermen, a Building Code in amended and revised form, was appointed and duly constituted at this week's meeting of the Board. The resolution appointing the previous board of experts having been rescinded, the city fathers finally came to an agreement as to the membership of the committee. The following resolution was passed at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen:

"Resolved, That, in pursuance of the provisions of section 407 of the Greater New York Charter, the following experts in their respective callings, each of whom is a resident of the City of New York and has been engaged not less than five years in his said calling, are hereby appointed a Commission to prepare and report, in conjunction with the Committee on Buildings of this Board, a 'Building Code' in amended and revised form, providing therein for all matters concerning, affecting or relating to the construction, alteration and removal of buildings or structures erected or to be erected in the City of New York, to wit:

"Architects—Charles H. Israels, Electus D. Litchfield, Ulrich J. Huberty and Clarence Luce.

"Engineers—Rudolph P. Miller, Charles O. Brown, Charles G. Smith, representing the Board of Fire Underwriters, and J. Clark McGuire.

"Builders—Theodore Starrett, George Vassar, Jr., Thomas J. Brady and Thomas L. Hamilton.

"Mechanics—George Harsch and T. J. Cosgrove.

"Plumbers—P. F. Kenny and Joseph Duffy.

"The said Commission shall consist further of the several Borough Presidents, or their respective Superintendents of Buildings when so formally named, and the Chief of the Fire Department of the City of New York, but they shall have no vote.

"Resolved, further, That the Committee of Buildings be and hereby is authorized to appoint a clerical force necessary to the proper conduct of the business of said Commission."

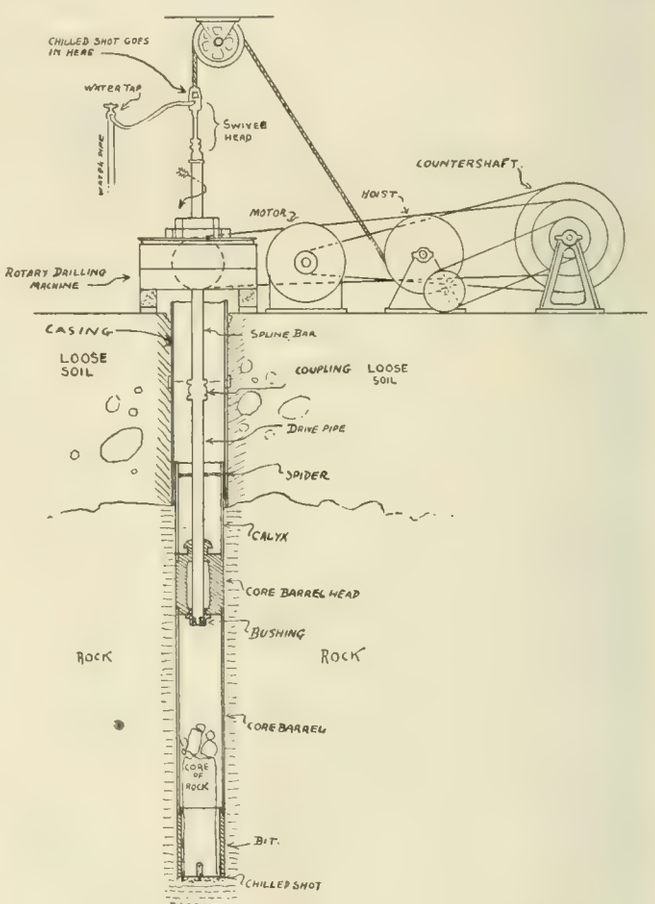
The new commission has not yet been called together.

Largest Front Brick Contract.

The largest front brick contract ever given out was recently awarded to the Sayre & Fisher Company, through its representative, Mr. Woodruff Smith. The contract aggregates in the neighborhood of two million front bricks, which are to be used in the City Investing Building, now in course of construction in this city. To show, by way of illustration, the magnitude of this contract, we would cite the quantities of front bricks used heretofore in New York's largest buildings, viz.:

Bowling Green Building, Nos. 7-9-11 Broadway, 700,000; No. 60 Wall st, 650,000; Park Row Building, No. 21 Park row, 300,000; the Mills Hotel No. 3, now nearing completion, and in which the Sayre & Fisher Company's front bricks are being used, 600,000.

The Sayre & Fisher company own and operate the largest and best equipped brick manufacturing plant in this country, if not in the world, and their long connection with the building interests, both here and elsewhere, has fully demonstrated their ability to successfully handle the largest contracts in the trade. Many of the important buildings throughout the country, east of the Mississippi, stand as monuments to the progressive policy followed by this firm, who recently completed their fiftieth anniversary in the manufacture of clay products.



The company's offices are and have been for many years at No. 207 Broadway, this city, but, owing to the increasing demands on their business, and with a largely augmented office force, they have been obliged to secure more commodious quarters. For that purpose they have leased and will occupy on and after May 1st, 1907, a spacious suite of offices in the new Smith-Gray Building, No. 261 Broadway, corner Warren st, overlooking City Hall Park, in which building their front bricks were used. Here they will have a thoroughly equipped and well-lighted showroom for the display of their many varieties of enameled, front, Harvard, common, fire and hollow bricks, as well as moulded shapes. The office will, as heretofore, be under the supervision of Mr. Arthur J. Fletcher, who has represented the firm for upwards of forty years. The red brick department will be under the supervision of Mr. A. Wilfred Tuthill.

—While there have been many new ideas advanced as to how to keep air in offices at an even temperature during the hot months of summer, but few of these so far tried have succeeded; that is, without the installation of expensive machinery and running expenses. To keep the hot atmosphere of summer at a low temperature is a difficult problem, though the Electric Air-Cooling Co., No. 1 Madison ave, will shortly place on the market a mechanism and system which it claims will solve it. The details have not as yet been made public.

How the Wells for Standard Plunger Elevators Are Bored.

No doubt many people who have ridden in the elevators of the Trinity Building have noticed the large plunger which supports the car from underneath and the easy motion of the car. This plunger, as it is called, extends as far down in the earth when the car is at the ground floor as the height of the run, which is the case in the Trinity Building and in all other buildings where standard plunger elevators are used.

The hole or well in which this plunger operates constitutes the one distinct feature that distinguishes it from all other elevators. Its great depth and method of boring is remarkable and interesting to every engineer who has had the opportunity of seeing. The device by which it is drilled is called a "rotary drilling machine," and is composed of a motor, hoist, counter-shaft and swivel head, to which the "spline" bar is attached. Then by a coupling which extends down in the hole proper the drive pipe is coupled. To the drive pipe is attached the heavy core barrel-head, and then the core barrel and bit, which has a notch on opposing sides, as shown in the picture.

The operation of this contrivance is similar to a jump drill, as it revolves and at the same time rises and falls, while a steady jet of water passes through the feed pipe to the bit where the chilled shot is carried, and cuts away the rock as each particle comes in contact. Of course where the hole passes through loose soil the operation is somewhat different, it being necessary to sink steel casing, as was the case in the Tribune Building, New York. At this building the 16-in. steel casing was sunk to a depth of 168 ft., and proved very difficult, though successful when completed. The operation required an apparatus similar to a pile-driver, which sinks the casing, then the loosening of the soil inside, after which it was removed by the use of sand buckets.

In boring through rock, as the main subject of this article, stone cores are formed, which are removed when the drill is raised after it reaches 20 ft. The cores weigh many pounds, as in the boring of the Trinity annex building, where the work has only recently been completed. One core reached 20 ft. 7 ins., while numerous others have averaged from 15 to 18 ft.

Some of the recent holes bored for Standard Plunger Elevators are as follows: Trinity Building annex, 303 ft. (4 holes); Boreel Building (15 holes), 303 ft.; Tribune Building, 168 ft.

BUILDING NOTES

Do you want to know how you can surely save money on your water bills? Costs you nothing to learn. Address Water Supervision Co., No. 3 Park row.

Christian J. Wolfe, for the past seventeen years in charge of structural and ornamental work in the drafting department of the J. B. & J. M. Cornell Co. Iron Works, has opened an office as structural engineer and contractor at 31 Union square.

Milliken Brothers (Inc.), No. 11 Broadway, started making "I"-beam sections on their new 28-inch structural mill at Staten Island on the morning of March 5. These were the first "I"-beams made, and the first bars proved perfect, something very unusual. The mill turned out that day on single turn 191 tons. The following day this same mill turned out 276 tons on single turn, beating all records. It is claimed that no new mill rolling a new and difficult section, such as 15-inch "I"-beams, even in the Pittsburgh district, can show any such results, and Milliken Brothers are justly proud of this record.

Mr. George W. Lewis was elected president of the Master Carpenters' Association to succeed Mr. Lewis Harding at the annual election. Other officers and delegates for the ensuing year are: Vice-president, John H. MacDonald; treasurer, A. H. Hamilton; secretary, Robert Christie, Jr.; trustees, Wm. A. Hoe, 5 years; John A. Sinclair, 3 years; Wm. Sloane, 3 years; representatives to board of governors, Hugh Getty, John A. Sinclair, Robert Christie; alternates, S. M. Randall, E. Outwater, Wm. S. Miller; general arbitration board, George W. Lewis, John H. MacDonald; alternates, Walter E. Thompson, and Rufus H. Brown.

Our readers, requiring engineering advice, may be interested in our advertising columns containing the professional card of Philip E. Raqué, of 280 Broadway, consulting engineer in steel structures. For many years identified with the building and manufacturing interests, experience in the design and construction of many of the largest modern structures qualifies him to render valuable services to architects, contractors and owners in all matters where economy in design and knowledge of the building law are desired. Lawyers may consult him advantageously as technical expert in cases at law involving the strength of materials and safety of structures.

United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on March 27, 28, 29, to secure eligibles to fill a vacancy of electrical engineer and draftsman in the supervising architect's office, at $1,200 per annum, and several vacancies as they may occur during the period of eligibility, at prices ranging from $1,200 to $1,600 per annum; also, on March 20, to secure eligibles to fill three vacancies in the position of triangulation aid in the Geological Survey, at salaries ranging from $900 to $1,200 per annum. Also, on March 13-14, to secure eligibles to fill 20 to 25 vacancies in the position of topographic aid in the Geological Survey. The salary of this position is $900 per annum. Age limit, 20 years or over on the date of the examination.

The large column plant of Hartmann Bros. Mfg. Co., manufacturers of the Koll's Patent Lock-Joint Columns, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., was entirely swept away by fire on Feb. 27th. They are well able, however, to take care of their Eastern trade by taking advantage of the unsurpassed facilities of their new Chicago factory, where they have been turning out over 600 columns per day. This is believed to be the largest column factory in the world, devoted exclusively to the manufacture of wood columns. They ask that all communications be sent to them direct at Mount Vernon, N. Y., as heretofore. They were fortunate enough to preserve their entire office furniture, books, order records, etc., and can duplicate any previous order without difficulty.

The members of the committee on the revision of the arbitration agreement are holding weekly meetings, and at the last session such progress had been made that the committee expected to be prepared to report sometime this month. The convention will reassemble when the committee has completed its labors. So delicate a task has the adjustment of certain provisions in the agreement been that the Association Bulletin says the members of the committee, determined that the revision shall be satisfactory to all concerned, have not hastened the work unduly. Sub-committees were appointed by the last convention as follows: Committee on Rules—D. W. O'Neil, Gilbert C. Brown, Charles J. Kelly, C. G. Norman, F. L. Union, Thomas Nolan, Charles Dinsmore, James H. Hatch, W. H. Storer and James Schofield; Revision—Lewis Harding, George H. Morris, Otto M. Eidlitz, John A. Sinclair, R. F. Tucker, Henry D. Moeller, A. F. Schmid, John Geraghty, Richard Walsh, William Humphreys, John Manning, Edward Dunn; Membership—Thomas J. Wheelan, Thomas Lynch, Edward McElligott, W. W. Klaber, F. K. Fertig and O. G. Scolley.

Referring to remarks in this paper last week upon the new post-office buildings in the City of Mexico, a correspondent calls attention to another fine edifice in the same city, and on the same block—the Mutual Life Insurance Company's Building.

The F. W. DODGE COMPANY, Inc.

NEW YORK CITY PHILADELPHIA
PITTSBURGH BOSTON CHICAGO

A. R. Whitney, Jr., & Co., 135 Broadway, Manhattan, as engineers, contractors and builders, started the construction of this building for the insurance company. The Post-Office Building, as our correspondent writes, "was pretty well up and had been under construction for nearly a year." Yet Whitney & Co. finished the building, President Diaz formally opened it and the insurance company moved into it in April, 1905, nearly two years ago, so expeditiously was the work done, while the Post-Office Building has only recently been finished and still awaits its furniture. The Mutual Life Building is also a very handsome structure, both architecturally and in the matter of construction and finish, as can be judged from a photograph enclosed by our correspondent. These two fine buildings standing on the same block in the national capital are indicative of the progress which Mexico is making in material lines, and the help which American builders are giving thereto.

A Practical Guarantee Against Water Waste.

We note the organization of the "Water Supervision Company," of No. 3 Park row, with Mr. Nathan Hirsch as president and Mr. L. Napoleon Levy as vice-president. We understand that the service which this corporation is intended to perform will go beyond mere financial activity and reach what may be termed a public function. Doubtless every owner of improved realty has had his vexations and extra expenses on account of the deficiencies of the water supply, or trouble with the water-pipes in his buildings, or annoyances connected with water-bills and rates.

Of recent years worriments of this kind seem to have multiplied with the rapid growth of real estate interests. One hears frequently of particular cases of losses sustained by owners of large properties through defective meters and plumbing, and the public know in a general way that a great deal of water runs to waste in this city, either through the carelessness of tenants, or the inattention of owners and janitors. In apartment houses, factories and commercial buildings, and wherever water is paid for at meter rates, water-waste is a serious matter for the party who pays for it, and all the more so because the leaks are usually so long in being discovered and have cost somebody a great deal of money before he finds it out.

One of the foremost architects of the city, who is very familiar with the internal economy of buildings, besides being a large property owner himself, recently related to friends the circumstances of a very costly experience. Water had been running away in his apartment houses and stores for years, costing him an immense amount of money in the aggregate, which might have been prevented by a timely and competent inspection.

The Water Supervision Company proposes to make monthly inspections of properties registered at their office, to send a correct reading of a meter once every month, with the amount computed in dollars and cents, to tell when the meter is out of order, or when water is being wasted through faulty plumbing, and exercise in the interest of the responsible parties a supervision over all matters connected with the water supply in buildings, and to do this for a fee so low that every owner may avail himself of the service as a measure of economy.

The movement is one which, we believe, should be supported. Merchants well known in the world of finance are interested in it, and it differs entirely from many small companies that have reason to deal with real estate propositions, as the men at the head of it and behind it are of the highest standing, and are already connected with large corporations. Moreover, the service is one which should be of particular use for real estate brokers and owners, by reason of the fact that the company will endeavor to present a water bill at any date desired and to guarantee the accuracy of their reading for any period. As sometimes the closing of titles is delayed by uncertainty in regard to water bills, real estate interests will readily appreciate this convenience.

Heralds of Spring have been manifested pleasantly in the Real Estate market this week in an amount of business fairly typical of the season, and in which the public have participated in a larger measure than has been usual this winter. While there have been a few transactions of note, most of the 182 sales which are reported this week in these columns may be classed as ordinary business. South of 42d st yielded 56 sales, and all north of 42d, 87, while the number of deals in the Bronx was 39. One of the deals on Broadway disclosed a project which in all probability means the erection of a high office building at the southwest corner of 29th st. This determination has not been admitted, but as the removal of the buildings now on the site is intended, the new owner is thought to have this type of improvement in mind, especially as he has before him two very successful examples in the same neighborhood, namely, the St. James and Mohawk buildings. The site of the old Bloomingdale Reformed Church was the subject of another deal that is intended for a building improvement, the Rhinelander Estate having bought from the City Investing Company for the purpose of erecting a building of some sort not yet decided on, but probably for business purposes. A growing tendency among builders to come south and seek opportunities in the lower East and West Sides of Manhattan is noted. A large amount of tenement house rebuilding is probable in those sections, and in the course of another year may assume large proportions. The decision of the Columbia College trustees to remove the leasehold restrictions against business houses on their Fifth av frontages probably means an era of rebuilding and alterations between 48th and 51st st, to begin very soon. Another fortnight and spring will have opened, and another season's building work begun. Structural material prices, on the whole, are expected to be decidedly more favorable to builders than last year.

The well-known Doherty estate, consisting of the real property owned by the late Patrick Doherty, will be sold at auction by Jos. P. Day on March 26, at the Exchange Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey st. THE QUESTION OF
WATER TAX BILLS

If you own an apartment house, a factory, or a business building, and your water bill was $25 for the past six months, what assurance have you that it will not be $250 for the next six months?

When will the next bill be rendered?

Is the meter out of order and will the new bill be "pro rata"?

Has a meter been ordered and been put in by the City at a cost which you deem exorbitant?

Why have you not been supplied with a water bill for the last year or two?

Did some tenant, for revenge or spite, let the water run for a week or more, making you liable for a bill that may run into hundreds of dollars?

Does your tenant, who agreed in the lease to pay the meter charges, regularly pay the same?

Does your water supply run to waste by reason of defective plumbing or otherwise?

You Cannot Answer these Questions

But the Water Supervision Company Will

We will REGISTER your property, send you by mail a correct reading of the meter EVERY MONTH, tell you when the meter is out of order, tell you what bills you owe, GIVING THE AMOUNT IN DOLLARS AND CENTS, and advise you generally in reference to acts and omissions of tenants in relation to water charges, and advise you as to repairs to meters, when needed.

We give you this service at a nominal figure, beginning at $6 per year, and grading in accordance with the value of our service to you.

Upon request, we will gladly send our representative to explain full particulars. Write or 'phone.

It is said that the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad will double-track its Amboy division and that 8 new locomotives and 24 passenger cars have been ordered.

A largely attended regular meeting of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association was held Friday evening, March 8, in the New York Turn Hall, 85th street and Lexington avenue.

The purchaser of the block front on Columbus av, between 103d and 104th sts, sold through Goodwin & Goodwin, is Morris Schinasi, of Schinasi Brothers, cigarette manufacturers, who has bought the property for investment.

Sam Golding, of 230 Grand st, is the buyer of 313, 315, 319 and 321 East 12th st, reported in last issue. Mr. Golding is also the owner of 317, which gives him a plot of 100x100.3 for the erection of 6-sty improved tenements.

Minturn Post Collins has had offers on eight parcels (which he recently purchased) to sell them on contract, which bids he declined, refusing thereby profits amounting to $50,000. These properties are between 32d and 50th sts.

James Kyle & Sons were the brokers in the sale for Mrs. Wilson of the two private dwellings 727 Lexington av and 135 East 58th st. They were also the brokers in the sale of 247 East 45th st, a 5-sty flat, for Mr. Harris E. Goldstein.

Mr. W. D. Morgan, the well-known Washington Heights real estate broker, entertains hopes for activity in that section in the near future, especially along Broadway, where he says property is the cheapest on the hill. While the demand on the part of clients is active, the values placed upon unimproved and improved properties by their present owners are so high that it is difficult to persuade bidders to buy.

By the approval of the Connecting Railroad franchise by the Board of Estimate on Friday the company is now empowered to proceed with the construction of a freight line under and over certain thoroughfares in the boroughs of Bronx, Queens and Brooklyn, as well as over Randall's island and Ward's island. The effect of this action will no doubt be highly beneficial to the value of real estate along its route, especially in the factory district of Queens, and in the Bush Terminal section of Brooklyn, where a noticeable enhancement in values is already manifest.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society loaned to the Brunswick Site Company $300,000 on the property situated on the east side of 5th av, between 26th and 27th sts, now occupied by the new Brunswick office building. The structure is 12 stories in height and occupies a plot 197.6x130, about 31.106 sq. ft. It is generally understood that the building cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The Brunswick enjoys the advantage of permanent light, being opposite Madison Square Park. It will be remembered that it was originally the intention of the Brunswick Site Company to erect a 20-sty hotel at the above location, but at a meeting in Dec., 1906, it was decided to substitute a modern office building. The contract to build was awarded to Chas. T. Wills, of 156 5th av.

Schindler & Liebler, of 1361 3d av, near 78th st, announce having already rented about two dozen apartments out of 74 in the new building at the southwest corner of 3d av and 74th st, of which they have charge. The house is built upon a plot of 105x100 ft.; the larger dimension being on the avenue. The rents range from $16 to $27 per month for three and four rooms, having all improvements, with steam heat for the halls and bathrooms only. Seven out of eleven of the inside stores are rented. The rents of these are $65 apiece. The houses will soon be ready for occupancy. Mr. Liebler says there is an increased inquiry on the part of clients to purchase property, but owners are holding out firmly for their prices, which are too high to tempt the buyers. Anything with any kind of a margin of profit would be immediately snapped up.

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & C. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Cliam deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existingg ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

March 1, 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The most desirable class of tenants are those who can afford to pay a good rent. They usually wont unless the store has all the modern improvements. If it hasn't Luxfer Prisms it is not up-to-date. Make your property more valuable by increasing the amount of real daylight into it. Let us explain matters to you either by mail or personally.

WHAT may be called a series of severe earthquake shocks have taken place this week in Wall Street, which at this writing is still in the throes of seismic disturbances. Wednesday there was a general break in prices and enormous selling brought such widespread liquidation that scarcely any security escaped serious loss. Then came a slight rally, but the floodgates of distrust and want of confidence were open, and Thursday's and yesterday's market began to assume quite a panicky aspect, verging on collapse. Union Pacific, Steel and Reading were the principal sufferers. Speculation as to the cause of this state of things is useless in view of the actual facts. In the Northern Pacific corner May 9, 1901, the average drop of a score of railroad stocks was over $8 a share. This week's slump was considerably more than that. Rumors, no doubt, helped to bring about the decline, but these rumors, as it was subsequently proved, had little or no foundation. It was said that London was talking of the probability of an increase in the discount rate of the Bank of England, but even had this been the case, that would fail to explain the precipitate drop in prices. Then it was stated that the Bank of France was going to raise rates, and from Germany there was talk of the impending failure of a large banking firm in close relation with a prominent house in New York. Both concerns, it was alleged, held enormous amounts of American securities, especially those that had had their paper values seriously impaired. It subsequently transpired that there was no element of truth in these rumors, but the mere publication had evidently done its destructive work, or at least had helped to do so. The decline certainly began abroad. London sold Americans for its own account almost simultaneously with the receipt of the New York orders, and thousands of shares were sold for the account of European centres of finance. The actual amount of shrinkage or depreciation in the stock market this week cannot be far from $400,000,000, if it does not exceed that sum. Money, as a matter of course, fluctuated considerably. It opened on Wednesday at 6 per cent., then advanced to 7½, and as liquidation progressed, it reached a maximum of 15 per cent.; only to decline later to 5 per cent. Until Wall Street, therefore, has settled down to normal conditions, it is futile to discuss the question or what rates for money may be. It is claimed by some Wall Street authorities that the "panic" was made to order by railroad magnates in order to frighten everybody and make President Roosevelt declare what his intentions were regarding railroad legislation.

SENATOR PAGE has introduced a bill into the Legislature, providing for the appointment of a charter-revision commission, and in as much as Governor Hughes and Mayor McClellan have both approved the idea, it is to be expected that the bill will pass. Its passage, moreover, would be an excellent thing. The charter of this city is a very much revised instrument; but much as it has been revised, it is still very far from being perfect. Moreover it is imperfect chiefly because its revisers have in the past failed to apply certain fundamental and fruitful principles in a thorough-going manner. A city needs, above all, a strong, centralized, responsible and efficient government—a government which possesses full powers and can be held to strict accountability. Experience has proved that a City Council cannot, under American conditions, be made the basis of such a government, and that the necessary powers and responsibilities are too considerable to bestow on any one man. They can, however, be bestowed upon a commission, and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment should be granted just as much authority over the affairs of the municipality as have the Board of Directors over the affairs of a private corporation. The Mayor and the other executive officials should be the servants of the Board. The Aldermen should be abolished entirely, because they at present are a costly and even a baleful excrescence. The Borough Presidents should be deprived of seats on the Board and should be appointed rather than elected officials. Their powers should, moreover, be considerably reduced, and their present independence substantially curtailed. Their independence has not worked advantageously, because they have no interest except in their own boroughs, and their sole purpose is to get as much money as possible out of the city to spend in their special localities. The Board of Directors of a railroad might just as well make a division superintendent an independent official. Finally the revised charter should be framed so that in the powers it grants to the Governing Board, the paramount importance of general street improvements should be recognized. The present local boards of improvement have worked inefficiently and always will do so. Alterations in the lines of streets are of much more general than they are of local importance, and local interests should not be allowed to block improvements which are of the utmost importance to the whole city.

The Situation in Respect to Rapid Transit.

NOW that the Seventh and Eighth Avenue subway routes are coming up for final decision, many voices are again being raised against the opportunity which is offered by the character of the route to the Interborough Company. It is being violently asserted that the city should not make it so easy for the Interborough Company to bid, and that the interest of the people of New York demands new subways which complete rather than connect with the existing subway. The Record and Guide entirely and emphatically dissents from such an opinion. The interest of the people of New York City will be promoted by the gradual extension of the existing subway system, provided the Interborough Company will lease these extensions on terms which are fair to the city. New York should not submit for a moment to any proposal on the part of the company which looked in the direction of a longer lease than that provided by the present rapid transit law. If the Interborough Company refuses to bid for an operating privilege running twenty years with an extension running the same period, the city must simply stand pat and seek another bidder. If such another bidder cannot be found the city should itself build and equip an independent belt line and lease it for as many years as may be necessary to an independent operating company. Not on any account should New York alienate the new subways for a longer period than forty years, because the experience of other large cities convincingly proves that a longer lease is simply giving money away to the operating company. But if the Interborough Company will accept a lease for twenty plus twenty years, there is every reason in the world why the city should permit the new subways to be connected with the existing subway. Other things being equal, it is far better for New York to be served by a single rapid transit company, whose lines connect one with another and whose system can be operated as a unit. New York would be cutting off its nose to spite its face in case it discriminated against the Interborough Company in planning its subway extensions. That company is in a position, by means of transfers and connections, to give the travelling public a far better service than could any other corporation, and every proof should be given that the city is not only ready but willing to do business on fair terms with Belmont & Co. Such is the real meaning of the chance for alternative bids which is offered by the peculiar character of the proposed new Seventh Avenue and Lexington Avenue routes. The Interborough Company is offered thereby an opportunity to enter into relations with the city, which may be very profitable both to New York and to the company, while at the same time competition is stimulated by affording an independent company the chance of building and operating a wholly independent system. If the Interborough

Company is favored by this arrangement, that is only because its control of the existing subway, the elevated roads and the surface cars give it an initial advantage, which no independent company can possess.

It remains to be seen whether the Interborough Company will have the good sense to take full advantage of the strength of its strategic position. Its behavior in the past has not been such as to encourage any confidence in the good sense of its management. The Interborough Company apparently took over with the lease of the elevated roads the old narrow grudging policy of the Manhattan Company—a policy which consisted in claiming everything and making no concessions to which it could not be legally coerced. The same policy applied to the existing complication would mean either a refusal to bid for a franchise which ran for twice twenty years, or else in case it did bid for such a franchise, to make the shortness of the term an excuse for a refusal to offer in exchange for the franchises any considerable transfer privileges. If the Interborough Company acts on either of these alternatives, it will simply prove anew that its management is incompetent and that the city of New York cannot do business with it on fair terms. In that case it should be the policy of the city to build up an effective competing system and to refuse absolutely all further concessions to the Interborough-Metropolitan Co. There is, however, at least a chance that the management of the corporation has become convinced of the folly of its past attitude. The election of Mr. Shonts to the head of the company's management has been heralded as the beginning of an attempt to placate public opinion and to coöperate with the municipal officials; and the Record and Guide will await with curiosity the translation of the pacific words into action. The directors of the company should realize that in order to placate public opinion they will have to meet the municipal government a good deal more than half way; they will have to be really liberal in their dealings with the public. They will have to proclaim the policy of giving, in every respect, the best possible service instead of giving the worst service that the public will tolerate. Since Mr. Shonts has assumed control, the management of the company has not made any noticeable attempt to improve the quality of its service, so that we must wait until the bids are put in for the subway extensions in order to test the sincerity of his public declarations. If the company refuses to accept or to offer liberal terms for the short-term franchises, the inference will inevitably be that its management has not passed beyond the old benighted ideas—the idea that capital invested in street railway enterprises is entitled eventually to an income of thirty per cent. or more. As a matter of fact, the limitation of the franchise to twice twenty years is all in the interest of the Interborough Company. It can make the operation of such a subway pay far better than can any independent company, and consequently it should be willing to offer extremely liberal transfer privileges as compensation. It is by means of such transfers that the subways can become most serviceable to the public and consequently most profitable to the company.

The possibility which has been recently announced, that the New Haven Company may bid for the Lexington Avenue subway offers an interesting field for speculation. The New Haven Company is one of the few corporations which might be able to offer the city better terms than could the Interborough Company. Its credit is very much better than that of the subway corporation; and it could build the tunnel with its own credit quite as cheaply as with the credit of the city. In that respect it would have a considerable advantage, and if the management of the New Haven Company is really very anxious to abandon the Grand Central station and have a terminal of its own, it would have the strongest kind of a motive in offering very good terms to the city. On the other hand the limited term of the franchise would be a much graver handicap to the New Haven Company than it would to the Interborough Company. The New Haven Railroad is in the same position as the Pennsylvania Railroad, which would not build a terminal in New York except on the basis of a perpetual franchise. It would be a grave risk for the New Haven to make its entrance into New York City contingent upon the possibility of reaching an agreement with the municipal authorities forty years from now. It is true that the connecting railway through Queens might form an alternative entrance; but such an alternative would not be of much use for the large and growing suburban traffic of that railroad. On the whole it looks as if the Interborough Company has the better cards to play in case it had to meet the competition of the New Haven Railroad. The transfer privileges which it can offer would be of much more value to the people of New York than would the offer by the railroad company of its credit, and it is very doubtful whether the city ought to permit the use of the Lexington Avenue subway for any part of the present traffic of the New Haven Company. The present subway is already choked with traffic during the rush hours, and a tunnel under Lexington Avenue would immediately obtain a similar density of traffic. Under such conditions, would it be advisable to have either the local or the express trains of the New Haven Co. use the proposed new tunnel? That tunnel is intended primarily for the travelling public of New York City, and no arrangement should be made which would diminish its service ability for this primary purpose. In view of the fact that the regular trains of the New Haven Company would tend to crowd out the ordinary subway trains, the franchise should be granted to the New Haven Company only on the condition that guarantees had been received for the early construction of a Third Avenue subway.

Limit Building Height.

VIEWS OF A LEADING ARCHITECT—OBJECTIONS TO THE EXTREME STYLE, AND ADVANTAGES OF MODERATION—CERTAIN PROBLEMS CONSIDERED.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

WHEN New York stood aghast at the prospect of a building twenty stories high, it was suggested by some imaginative person that perhaps even a forty-story building might some day be a possibility, and now that a structure of forty-six stories is about to be an accomplished fact, is it not pertinent to ask why should not the next skyscraper be eighty stories? Is it not, at least, altogether probable that every block in the financial district will have within the next ten or fifteen years a half a dozen buildings of thirty or forty stories? To their owners, the commercial advantage of such buildings when skilfully planned may hardly be doubted, and it matters not to them that the light and air gained by lofty elevation is stolen from the public streets and their lower neighbors, who must suffer without recourse, unless they be able to build even higher.

Perhaps when our curiosity is satisfied as to what a forty-six story building may look like, we shall begin to ask what this sort of thing really means.

The high office building or skyscraper, and by this I mean the building over twelve stories in height, owes its existence largely to its value as an advertisement, and to the desire of business men to be near together and near the center of trade. Its possibility, moreover, enhances the value of land throughout the commercial district. We, therefore, find among a certain class, considerable opposition to any limit being placed on the height of buildings or their curtailment in any respect. Let us frankly acknowledge these advantages of the skyscraper before turning our attention to what is now coming to be common talk amongst those not financially interested.

In the first place, as an advertisement the skyscraper, as such, has largely lost its value. It is now the big building, not necessarily the high building, that advertises its owners as men of financial strength. In fact, the low building on valuable land is actually a more startling advertisement than its giant neighbor.

Again, the advantage the high building has, of compacting the business district, and thus bringing business men nearer together, was never so little of a real advantage, and so increasingly, as it is to-day, when every man talks from his desk to whomever he wills, and rides from the Brooklyn Bridge to the Grand Central Station in seven minutes. Moreover the man whose time is very valuable, rarely does much personal visiting from office to office under any conditions.

In relation to the third point of advantage—the potential value of real estate in the commercial district—we may observe that if a limitation of height of buildings is imposed, of course, property owners who have already improved with high structures will be benefited. Again, as the value of the skyscraper is due largely to its being higher than its neighbors, only about one plot in three, otherwise available, is capable of this sort of improvement; and further, what is lost in value of land in the present financial district will be gained in adjacent districts.

But the multiplication of the skyscraper is forcing upon us more serious problems. Has not the allowable limit of congestion in the downtown business streets and in transit facilities, to and from the financial district of New York, been already more than reached? Since the advent of the tall building, have the transit facilities ever been able to keep pace with the requirements; are we not and will we not be constantly under the delay, the crowding and the strain of inadequate means of transportation on every trolley, train, bridge or boat that serves the lower end of Manhattan?

The detriment to health due to the nervous strain of overcrowded streets, and the contamination of the air and spread of disease, where people are herded together in cars or boat cabins, are matters in no way secondary to the loss of time, inconvenience, and even hardship incident to the congestion of traffic and transit.

How many young men and women are now suffering from impaired eyesight and other serious ills, by being obliged to work 300 days in the year under electric light in offices, where, due to the cannon-like formation of our streets, sunlight never penetrates and fresh air is unknown? Consider for a moment the immense amount of sunlight that even the morning and afternoon shadow of one forty-six story building will take from its neighbor's windows.

How many young men and women use a large portion of their stock in trade—their available physical strength—in standing night and morning during the entire trip from their homes to their places of business? From my own observation, I should be forced to put high the figures representing the numbers of these indirect sufferers from the high building.

Aesthetic considerations are, unfortunately, of little weight to the average citizen of New York when commercial interests are involved, for he forgets that even from a sordid point of view, beauty is an actual commercial quantity. There is no question that Paris, Brussels, Vienna and a score of other cities derive great financial benefit from the orderliness of their streets, the beauty of their parks and buildings, and their ample thoroughfares.

Frankly, could anything be more freakish, more monstrous than the heterogeneous aspect of lower Manhattan? I imagine that an old Greek would turn in his grave could he see his beautiful orders plastered on one side of a huge pile, and the other three sides built in stupid ugliness. Knowing full well that the character of a people can be easily read from the character of their buildings, I imagine he would go further and raise his hands in horror and deprecation of an age and a people whose building showed such unmistakable ostentation, individualism, and lack of decent control.

The purpose of the building laws of Greater New York is to protect every individual in his rights of life and liberty from the transgression of his neighbor. They provide that this neighbor shall pay for damage to adjacent foundations; he must build so that life will not be jeopardized, and must keep to such horizontal boundaries that the rights of the public in the streets shall no suffer, nor the light and air of adjacent buildings be cut off by his building covering the entire lot.

Is there any conceivable reason then, why in simple equity, these laws should not prohibit trespassing upon the rights and the comfort of the public by the man who transgresses reasonable vertical dimensions in his building?

It is not necessary, however, that we should return to the pre-elevator type; New York needs the reasonably high building. The present provision of the tenement house law which limits the height of buildings to one and one-half times the width of the street, if applied to the office building with slight modifications, would allow skyscrapers facing parks, open squares and the water-front, where they do no harm, and would restrict them to more rational proportions elsewhere.

As an amendment to these provisions, however, might be added permission to build on corners, twice as high as the width of the widest street, for structures so located can well be higher than in mid block, without corresponding damage to adjacent property. Moreover, this would tend to give a certain architectural distinction by relieving the uniformity of the center of the block by emphasis at the corners.

Paris, London, Boston, and a dozen other cities, including even trade-wild Chicago, recognize the gross injustice of excessively high buildings and impose restraint accordingly. When will New York wake up?

Our building laws are about to be revised—could there be a more suitable time? WILLIAM O. LUDLOW.

Legislative Digest.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Association of Bronx Real Estate Brokers, held Thursday, March 7th, the "public utilities bill," fathered by Governor Hughes, and known as the "Page Merritt bill," was unanimously approved.

It need scarcely be stated that the Sheridan bills amending the Tenement House law will be strenuously opposed. The friends of the bill have attempted too much. A measure leaving the 3-family house out of the tenement category might have passed, but the proposition to establish an independent commissioner in each borough and give him discretionary power is not likely to be seriously considered by the Legislature. (See Record and Guide Feb. 16, page 356.)

Many inquiries have been made of the officers of the Allied Real Estate Association as to the probable action of the Legislature in reference to the various amendments proposed by the association and embodied in the bills introduced in the Senate and Assembly by Senator Alfred R. Page and Mr. J. Mayhew Wainwright, respectively. They have been represented by counsel before the Senate and Assembly Committee on Taxation, and they have also conferred with the State Board of Tax Commissioners on the defects in the law and the proper method of correcting the same. While President Allan Robinson does not desire to be placed in the position of forecasting the probable action of the Legislature in reference to these amendments, he believes that they will be enacted substantially as proposed. There seems to be practically no opposition to the provision permitting old mortgages, that is, those recorded prior to July 1, 1906, to come within the provisions of the Recording Tax Law, and secure exemption. It will be remembered that in the first bill prepared by this association last year there was a provision permitting such mortgages to be registered, but in deference to the expressed wishes of Governor Higgins, and in order to secure the passage of the bill as a whole, it was deemed advisable to omit that provision. The officers of the A. R. E. A. have been in touch with different parts of the state since the Mortgage Tax Law was enacted, and their information is to the effect that there is an almost universal demand that old mortgages be allowed the right of exemption, and be placed in the same class with mortgages recorded under the Recording Tax Law.

Assembly bill No. 92, for the widening of Livingston st, Brooklyn, has been passed.

Recording Tax Law Has Reduced Interest Rate

By A. C. PLEYDELL,
Secretary New York Tax Reform Association.

THE records of mortgage loans in this city show that, as predicted, the recording tax law has attracted money to the mortgage market and reduced interest rates. For eight months from July 1, 1906, when the law went into effect, to March 1, 1907, the average rate of interest stated on mortgages recorded in New York County was 5.15%. For the corresponding period under the annual mortgage tax law the average rate was 5.54%, or about 4-10 of one per cent higher.

Considering the state of the money market and the increased demand for capital in other lines, this decrease in the mortgage interest rate is an excellent showing for the new law. And the amount of money loaned was nearly twice as large as under the annual tax law. The following table gives the figures for corresponding periods under the recording tax, the annual tax, and the previous year, when mortgages were liable to taxation as personal property:

NEW YORK COUNTY (MANHATTAN AND BRONX).

Eight months, July-Feb., inclusive.	Total amount of mortgages recorded.	Amount in which interest rate was stated.	Average. rate.
1904-5 (old law).....	$265,801,499	$229,318,157	5.12
1905-6 (annual tax)....	160,944,878	138,637,021	5.54
1906-7 (recording tax)*.	306,874,021	257,068,670	5.15

The effect of the new law on the rate and on the amount of money loaned in Brooklyn has also been gratifying. Because of the confusion of the records in Kings County for July, 1905, it has been impracticable to compute the average interest rate for the time immediately after the annual tax law went into effect; therefore, the period beginning October 1st has been taken, so that exact comparisons can be made. The rate has been 2½ mills lower under the recording tax, and the amount of money loaned was increased, being nearly half as much again.

KINGS COUNTY (BROOKLYN).

Five months, Oct.-Feb., inclusive.	Total amount of mortgages recorded.	Amount in which interest rate was stated.	Average. rate.
1904-5 (old law).....	$65,021,630	$53,481,692	5.24
1905-6 (annual tax).....	50,082,483	40,600,275	5.69
1906-7 (recording tax)..	73,442,995	70,029,026	5.43

Not only was the average rate of interest higher under last year's annual tax, but the amount of money loaned at rates over 5 per cent. was much larger, especially in Brooklyn, as will appear from the following comparison:

AMOUNTS OVER 5%.

	New York County. 8 months.	Kings County. 5 months.
1904-5.....	33%	26%
1905-6.....	68%	88%
1906-7.....	33%	59%

All these calculations have been made from the weekly tables published in the Record and Guide, and are a summary of detailed tables similar to those in a pamphlet issued by the New York Tax Reform Association a year ago, which showed that the annual mortgage tax law of 1905 had increased interest rates and diminished loans.

It is gratifying to be able to show that the recording tax law has lowered the average rate of interest, that it has increased the amount of money loaned at 5% or less, and that it has brought more money into the mortgage market; and this, despite the admittedly adverse conditions of the money market.

*The figures for this period do not include the $100,000,000 mortgage of the Hudson & Manhattan R. R. Co. at 4½%.

GREATER PLAN FOR COURT HOUSE SITE

Favors Additional Area to be Condemned and Resold, so that Net Cost of the Main Improvement may be Reduced.—Map of Site and Assessed Valuation of Parcels

FIFTEEN million dollars is so large a sum of money to pay out of hand for a court house site, without counting the cost of the building, which will be several million more, there is a strong opinion abroad that an effort should be made to reduce the net cost of the undertaking by a method followed in various large cities of Great Britain and the Continent. The method is to condemn more area than is actually needed, with the object of reselling at an advance, so that the city itself may bank the benefit of enhancing the value of neighboring property; as it is assumed this would be the effect of so grand an architectural undertaking. No doubt the necessary power of condemnation could be obtained from the Legislature, and we find the New York City Improvement Commission recommending that immediate steps be taken to this end, as well as a very general assent to the method as a whole from property interests—if the city really means to aim for such a magnificent architectural effect.

Union Square East at this era is a neighborhood particularly fitting for such a huge operation, even more so than the alternative and less costly site on Madison Square which the able and far-sighted Comptroller has brought forward. Supposing the costs of sites equal, would not the public prefer to have the building squarely face the open place with its whole frontage rather than give it a position where it can only squint at the park; and it is surmised that with this larger power of condemnation the Union Square location might be made to cost the city finally no more than the other. The effect of leveling the three city blocks of buildings would be nearly the same as adding them to the park, and there is no disputing that the Judiciary and the Bar would be preeminently positioned in their granite-walled and marble-lined palace, with Union Square for a dooryard. Also, it is assured that interests allied to theirs, besides their own, would colonize in the vicinity—that there would be a migration from the lower part of the city, a rising of office buildings and choice residences, and a pressing demand for sites in the vicinity, all having the effect of multiplying values. But there is no sound reason, it is declared, why individual owners exclusively should realize an increment exclusively derived from the city's expenditure.

A map of the three squares which it is proposed to take is herewith given, together with a list of property owners of record, and the assessed valuations, as they appear on the assessors' books. The total assessed value is $6,068,000; the market value, as appraised last August by Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown & Co. is $8,913,500, divided as follows:

VALUATION OF UNION SQUARE SITE.

The Block bounded by Fourth avenue, Irving Place, Fourteenth street and Fifteenth street—
Land	$3,085,000
Buildings	444,000
Total		$3,529,000
The Block bounded by Fourth avenue, Irving place, Fifteenth street and Sixteenth street—
Land	$2,210,000
Buildings	705,500
Total		2,915,500
The Block bounded by Fourth avenue, Irving place, Sixteenth street and Seventeenth street—
Land	$2,037,000
Buildings	432,000
Total		2,469,000
Grand total		$8,913,500

While there are only a few buildings of superior importance, the average quality is, for an old section, very fair. Whatever the environments may once have been, they are, apart from the amusement halls in Fourteenth street, quite unobjectionable now. Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, both east and west of Irving place, have much of the quiet and substantial aspect of the Gramercy Park region. The houses are mostly private dwellings in good repair, among which are a few hotels, a few business houses, a theatre or two, and a few apartment houses. The principal buildings are the Union Square Savings Bank, which is the one new structure, and architecturally the most pretentious; Steinway Hall, facing on Fourteenth street and running back to Fifteenth; the Union Square and Westminster hotels, a theatre at Irving place and Fifteenth street, and the old Singer Building at Sixteenth street and Fourth avenue. It is not essential to particularize farther. Structurally, with the exception of a very few alterations, the district is now as it has been for many years; on the whole, rather a choice place to live, but seemingly forgotten in the northward flight of the rest of Society.

Nearly three years ago it was rumored around that the new Court House would be planted on the east side of Union Square, but the intelligence made no particular impression on values, and there has been at no time any recognizable anticipatory movement. In fact, property interests have been quiescent for many years, and so far as Union Square East is concerned, the buildings on that line have for a long period been remarkable only for the number of "to-let' signs they have carried. No one appears to have counted on such a large area being condemned, or on financial contingencies so immense. Since the report of the Court House Commission there has been a sharp rise in prices, among the residences in the blocks surrounding the three to be taken, and a few owners have actually refused prices for which they were willing to sell a short time ago.

The court house site recommended by the commission measures approximately 700 feet north and south by 425 feet east and west, except at the southwest corner, where Broadway cuts off a triangle. The total area covered is about 286,000 square feet, or somewhat over six and a half acres. The natural and most important approach is from the west, and it is presumed that the principal facade of the edifice will be on that side. As it has been proposed by the City Improvement Commission that Fourteenth street be widened from Broadway to

PROPERTY TO BE TAKEN FOR COURT-HOUSE SITE.

Fourth avenue, this would be an opportune time to carry the improvement through to Irving place and so still further beautify the surroundings; and if Irving place should in the same process be extended southward to meet Fourth av, this would also add to the speculative value of the greater condemnation scheme.

REQUIREMENTS OF THE BUILDING.

The building will be gigantic. It is needed for County Clerk's office, Commissioner of Jurors' offices, City Court, with judges chambers, library and clerk's offices, Naturalization Bureau, Supreme Court, with judges chambers, library and clerk's offices and jury rooms, and rooms for counsel, clerks, stenographers, etc. They want 35 court rooms, 37x53 feet, judges' chambers, 17x12; 30,000 square feet for the County Clerk's office, 25,000 for jury rooms, 30,000 for twelve city court rooms, 48,000 for corridors, stairs, walls, etc., and in all 350,000 square feet.

It is proposed that the court house shall have, besides a basement for the County Clerk's office, three floors for court rooms, and an attic or roof story, five floors in all, besides the sub-basement for power plant, which will require a ground area of sixty-five to seventy-five thousand square feet. Four types of buildings are being considered, one of which is the H-shaped plan, another shows four wings enclosing a vast court 200x210, and a third type has four intersecting wings enclosing a court chiefly for lighting corridors.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

New York Law School's Building in Fulton Street.

FULTON ST.—Working drawings and specifications are now well under way by Architect C. P. H. Gilbert, No. 1123 Broadway, for the 12-sty office structure which the New York Law School, 35 Nassau st, is to erect at Nos. 172 to 174 Fulton st, opposite St. Paul's Churchyard, on a plot 54x78 ft. The structure, of course, will be strictly fireproof and equipped with the best modern office building appliances. The facade will be of light stone and brick, and plans will be ready for estimates in the course of a week or ten days. The Law School will occupy only a certain portion of the building, the remainder will be fitted up with offices and banking rooms, etc. All contracts will be awarded through the architect, and all matters pertaining to the building operations will also have to be obtained through Mr. Gilbert. No contracts have yet been issued. The school now occupies a large part of the two upper floors in the German-American Building at Liberty and Nassau sts. Prof. George Chase is dean of the school. The price paid for the new site was about $325,000. On the lots at present are two old 5-sty buildings. These parcels were sold at auction less than a year ago for $232,000 to the Century Realty Co., which resold them about a month ago to the Admiral Realty Co., who now sells to the Law School.

Plans for the Lotos Club Improvements.

The club plans to renovate the entire building inside and out with all modern and up-to-date club conveniences. The secretary stated on Tuesday that no architect has yet been commissioned, plans drawn or contracts let. From the sale of its present building, Nos. 556-558 5th av, the Lotos Club realized $750,000, and for the new 57th st site they paid $260,000, so that a handsome surplus will remain after paying for the property and making all the contemplated improvements.

Movement for a Crosstown Subway Through Central Park.

The urgent necessity for some better means of communication between the East and West sides of the city in the district between 59th and 125th sts, than now exists, is very apparent.

To meet this necessity, the Metropolitan Street Railway has tried to extend its road through West 86th st from Central Park West to Riverside drive, but owing to the unwillingness of the property holders of West 86th st to allow tracks to be laid on the surface of the street, nothing further has been done, so that all efforts to obtain this improvement have remained in abeyance. In order to overcome the difficulties heretofore existing, a plan to obtain this much-needed improvement is suggested that is without doubt feasible.

The plan is to have a subway built under 86th st between Central Park West extending into the subway under Broadway. This subway is to be entered by the present 86th st surface cars by an incline at some distance east of Central Park West on its cross road through the park, with exits and entrances at Central Park West, Columbus av, Amsterdam av, and using the present subway entrance already in existence at 86th st and Broadway.

It is asserted by the advocates of this subway that it should be built by the city and leased to the Metropolitan Street Railway. The building of this short subway is comparatively an inexpensive undertaking, as it is for two tracks only for the surface cars, and the work could be carried out quickly without any interruption to traffic or business, as 86th st is a broad street. It has therefore been suggested that an 86th Street Improvement Association be formed for the purpose of obtaining the necessary influence to carry out this project, and a preliminary meeting was held for permanent organization at the office of Leon S. Altmeyer, No. 62 East 86th st.

Townsend Wandell and Leon S. Altmeyer were elected chairman and secretary. S. B. Altmeyer suggested that the Interborough Company might be empowered by a franchise from the city to run electric stages from Central Park West to the 86th st station of the subway, transferring its passengers both ways on the surface lines, "without extra charge," until the proposed spur could be completed, thereby alleviating the present distressing condition without further delay. A resolution was adopted to have a committee of fifteen named, whose duty it would be to focus matters into such shape that they may be presented to the proper authorities for approval. Mr. Minturn Post Collins, who was called upon to express his views, said that he merely attended the meeting in the interests of humanity, and was fully in accord with the project. Among others present were H. Seymour Eisman, representing about eight hundred members of the Freundschaft Society; also Gustave A. Myers, representing the Aschenbroedel verein, another equally large association.

A Unique Pipe House.

Down in South Brooklyn, at 51st st and 2d av, there is a building recently erected in a style of construction decidedly original. It has attracted considerable attention around that locality, as there is nothing like it in Greater New York. The walls are made of vitrified blocks, 3 ft. long and 13 ins. thick, and from the outside, which look like square stoneware pipe, being of the same length, color and material. In fact, that was the intention of the owners, the J. P. Duffy Company. It was in the nature of a standing monument to the business—a stoneware pipe house.

When asked how the experiment of building a house of pipe had succeeded, one of the officers of the company said: "Well, it was a long, hard struggle to build the old-established pipe house of J. P. Duffy Company, but this new building here, which is to be our principal Brooklyn office, was an easy success from the start. We used only the best of materials. Of course that was experience, but when we do a thing, we want it to last, and we calculate this will be a landmark in Brooklyn for a good many years—the sign of the pipe house of Duffy."

This company has been known to the trade for over eighteen years in Manhattan and Bronx, and their Brooklyn branches, established under the same management, have held their own through the keenest competition in the borough. The new office will be the company's headquarters for all business, keeping in direct touch with their yards at Newtown Creek and Grand st, as well as the block front they occupy on 2d av, from 50th to 51st sts, in the heart of one of the most rapidly developing sections of South Brooklyn.

They will handle as heretofore, Flue Pipe, Sewer Pipe, Fire Brick, Terra Cotta and Plaster Partition Blocks, and other Clay products, together with the famous "Duffy" Plaster Boards.

Room for Blackwell's Island Bridge.

The Board of Estimate has passed a resolution favoring the following: Widening 2d av, from East 57th st to East 59th st, by adding 65 ft. to its westerly side; widening 2d av, from East 60th st to East 61st st, by adding 67 ft. to its westerly side; laying out as an approach to the Blackwell's Island bridge the entire block bounded by 2d av, 3d av, East 59th st and East 60th st, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

The bill introduced at Albany for the purpose of placing the center parkways on Broadway, between 59th and Manhattan sts, under the control of the Commissioner of Parks, has unanimously passed both houses and now awaits the Mayor's approval.

Charles W. Ogden is the buyer of the Central Park View apartment house at the south corner of Central Park West and 86th st, sold recently by the Monticello Realty Co. Mr. Ogden was represented by David H. Taylor, as attorney. The Chatham Court was bought by H. L. Felt, president of the Monticello Realty Co.

The Home Builders' Exposition scheduled to be held under the direction of the Long Island Real Estate Exchange during May, at the Grand Central Palace, is postponed until 1908. It was announced on Tuesday that this change in the programme is due to the request of prominent exhibitors who found it impossible to prepare their exhibits in time.

The most recent addition to the long list of tenants in the new United States Express Co. Building at Rector st and Trinity pl is the General Education Board, which is custodian of the original $10,000,000 fund established by John D. Rockefeller, as well as the recent endowment which amounts to $32,000,000. The Board has engaged a large suite of offices.

Throughout the Borough of the Bronx and the upper sections of Manhattan many "To let" signs and posters are conspicuously displayed on flat and apartment houses; due, no doubt, to the many new buildings which have recently been completed, affording the tenants a larger number to choose from, and so increasing for a time the vacancies in the older buildings.

In the records that have been filed this week in the Register's office is a "Notice of Sale," an instrument that is recorded under a law passed in 1887 and which is somewhat in the nature of a lis pendens or foreclosure suit. It is the first of the sort to be printed in this paper. The property affected is No. 557 East 118th st, running through to 119th st, which, according to this notice, will be sold on June 7.

Mr. Victor M. Earle, Lincoln Trust Co. Building, 72d st and Broadway, has advertised for a week for the purpose of purchasing a private house for a client between Broadway and Riverside drive, including West End av, and excluding Riverside drive. The only answers received were either so far north or south that they were entirely out of the question, and the locations were also objectionable. Prices, he said, regarding other properties were simply prohibitive.

Mechling & Daycock, 81 and 83 Fulton st, have secured the selling agency in the East for the Edwards Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, manufacturers of all sheet metal goods. Mr. Mechling was connected with the Wheeling Corrugating Co.'s New York office as department manager for about ten years, and Mr. Daycock was connected with the same firm for about twenty years as assistant manager. They are thoroughly conversant with the trade, handle many specialties and are prepared to furnish "anything from a tack to a steamship."

The reason ascribed for delaying the sale of the buildings on the property acquired by the city for the bridge approach between Tryon row and Chambers st is that the city has no immediate need for the land, not being prepared to proceed with the improvement; besides, the Comptroller argues that it would be an unnecessary hardship for the tenants to be compelled to move at a time when it would be difficult for them to obtain other accommodations. The Staats-Zeitung structure, together with one of the other buildings, will probably not be razed until after July 1.

The United Presbyterian congregation, which bought the building of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church in 12th st a few weeks ago, after selling their own edifice on 7th av, netted about $75,000 by the change. They sold their old church to the Adams Express Co., receiving, it is reliably said, $150,000. The express company will use the church substantially as it stands. The First Reformed Presbyterian congregation will probably unite with the Scotch Presbyterian at 96th st and Central Park West. Many church societies in this city have made good money in real estate, by selling old sites.

F. Schuyler Dunne, 2904 Broadway, at 113th st, says there are fewer apartments and private houses to rent on Morningside Heights than there has been in eight years. Plans are being drawn up for an elevator apartment house, to have nine and ten rooms and two baths each, to be erected on a plot of 100x125, at the southeast corner of 113th st and Broadway. Lots in 113th st, between Broadway and Amsterdam av are said to be held at $17,000, while west of Broadway they are being held for $22,000, with very few of these to be had at all. There are a number of 50 ft. lots, but comparatively few 75-ft. frontages.

Maximilian Zipkes, architect, 147 4th av, has purchased the northwest corner of Washington av and St. Pauls pl from the Zipkes Construction Co. The house, which is only open for occupancy three months, has already 30 apartments occupied out of a total of 36. Mr. Zipkes expects to have the house entirely filled with tenants before the expiration of this month. He has purchased the corner for speculation, Washington av having proved a successful street for all houses erected by him for various clients. Among the buildings erected on Washington av by Mr. Zipkes as architect are three on the corner of Washington av and Wendover, one on east side of Washington av north of Wendover, two on west side of Washington av north of 163d st. Mr. Zipkes is a firm believer of the future and success of the Bronx. Among the buildings erected by him were two 5-sty buildings on Bathgate av north of 174th st, two on Trinity av south of 165th st, five on Cauldwell av south of 156th st, and 14 2-family houses on Morris av, between 165th and 166th sts, also six 5-sty and basement houses on 138th st corner of Cypress av.

QUESTION BOX

Restrictions on Morningside Heights.

To the Editor of Record and Guide:

Will you kindly inform me at your earliest convenience in regard to restrictions (if any) on the vacant property in 113th st, north and south sides, between Broadway and Amsterdam av?

The restrictions in 113th st are against all kinds of buildings except private dwellings not less than four stories in height until 1909. On the south side of the street the boundary line of the restricted territory begins at or near 100 ft. east of Broadway and runs easterly about 300 ft. On the north side the boundary line begins approximately 100 ft. east of Broadway and runs eastward 400 ft.

The north side of 112th street is also restricted from about 100 ft. east of Broadway 200 ft. eastward. These lands were formerly owned by the Society of the New York Hospital, whose holdings included everything (with the exception of a few lots) between 112th, 120th streets, 10th av and Broadway boulevard, together with a large piece west of the Boulevard, north of 116th st, leaving only a comparatively small number of lots for private owners. In 1886 the Episcopal Church authorities bought the site between 110th and 113th sts, Morningside and 10th avs, from the Leake and Watts Orphan Asylum for $850,000; upon this site the great Cathedral of St. John the Devine is being built. It was but a year later when St. Luke's Hospital acquired the title to an adjoining square. Columbia University soon followed, purchasing four blocks.

A Commission Earned.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

I wish to submit the following question: A employs B, a broker, to procure for him a piece of property, for which the owner would be willing to accept in part payment a piece of property which A owns. B, the broker, procures such property, which after due consideration and lengthy negotiations, A finds satisfactory. All conditions relating to prices, terms, etc., being satisfactorily arranged between A's lawyer, who has been designated by A as his authorized agent for that purpose, and C the owner of the other property: B, the broker, being present. These prices, conditions and terms were then submitted to A, who pronounced them satisfactory and expressed himself as willing to make the deal. Both minds have then met. The next day A decides not to consummate the deal, as he had decided over night to keep his property and not offer it at all, admitting at the same time to B, the broker, that his decision is not due to the fact that C's property or the price or the terms is not satisfactory, but simply that he decided not to part with his property. Can B, the broker, recover from A the commissions involved in the deal?

Answer.—Yes.

Prices Often Too High to Tempt Buyers.

Mr. Conger, of the firm of Duff & Conger, whose uptown office is at the southeast corner of Madison av and 86th st, notes a good indication for high-class private dwellings between 92d and 94th sts, 5th and Madison avs; most of these houses were built twelve to fifteen years ago. They are mostly 4-sty and basement houses, occupying approximately 19 or 20-foot frontages by half the block. As 5th av is all bought up, many of the well-to-do are seeking homes in proximity to this choice thoroughfare, which he considers a good investment at prices from $60,000 to $75,000. While the demand for cheap grade tenements and flats has fallen off, the valuations are kept too high to tempt the buyer, and the owner by remaining firm prevents the agent from closing more deals.

Death of Capt. John R. Foley.

Announcement has been made of the sudden death on Monday, March 11, at Aiken, S. C., of Captain John R. Foley, of the firm of John R. & Oscar L. Foley. The funeral was held from the church of the Holy Innocents, Broadway and 37th st, on Friday morning and was very largely attended by representatives of real estate interests, the military and other circles in which he moved, and in all of which he was exceptionally well esteemed.

Captain Foley was a member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers and Adjutant of the 69th Regiment, formerly a member of the military staff of Governor Higgins, and also a veteran officer of the 201st N. Y. Vols. in the Spanish War. Company H, of the 69th, acted as escort at the funeral.

Captain Foley succeeded his father in the real estate firm at an early age, and was successful and prominent in his business relations, which were along large lines. This present winter he was one of the lecturers before the West Side Y. M. C. A. real estate school.

So well known are the salient points of his useful life that they need not here be enlarged upon. It is rather for us to refer to those exceptional qualities which combined to make him most esteemed in business and society. He attracted and held friends

Lester be appointed a committee to attend his funeral at the Church of the Holy Innocents, 37th st and Broadway, on Friday, March 15, 1907, at 10 a. m.;

Resolved (3), That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and a copy thereof engrossed and presented to his family and a copy sent to the Record and Guide.—Edward L. King, Secretary.

THE QUESTION OF

WATER TAX BILLS

If you own an apartment house, a factory, or a business building, and your water bill was $25 for the past six months, what assurance have you that it will not be $250 for the next six months?

When will the next bill be rendered?

Is the meter out of order and will the new bill be "pro rata"?

Has a meter been ordered and been put in by the City at a cost which you deem exorbitant?

Why have you not been supplied with a water bill for the last year or two?

Did some tenant, for revenge or spite, let the water run for a week or more, making you liable for a bill that may run into hundreds of dollars?

Does your tenant, who agreed in the lease to pay the meter charges, regularly pay the same?

Does your water supply run to waste by reason of defective plumbing or otherwise?

You Cannot Answer These Questions, but the Water Supervision Co. Will

Upon request, we will gladly send our representative to explain full particulars.

Futile Attempt to Keep Business Out of 37th Street.

The action of Schefer against Ball was one brought by Mr. Carl Schefer, of 40 West 37th st, against Mr. Thomas R. Ball, of Best & Co. Mr. Schefer is a member of the firm of Schefer, Schramm & Vogel. Mr. Ball had purchased two pieces of property at 36-38 West 37th st and filed his plans for the erection of a 10-sty office building. The foundations had been laid when Mr. Schefer, who resided next door, brought this action to enjoin Mr. Ball from proceeding with his building, on the ground that some sixty years ago, in June, 1846, all of the owners on the block, with one or two exceptions, had joined in a restrictive agreement. This agreement restricted all buildings on 37th st. between 5th and 6th avs, to private dwellings, and to houses sitting back not less than 7 ft. from the street line. Mr. Ball's proposed building violated this agreement in both particulars.

The action was tried before Mr. Justice Vernon M. Davis in January, at Special Term, Part V. Mr. Elkus, of James, Schell & Elkus, who appeared for Mr. Schefer, insisted that the restrictive agreement was still in force, and endeavored to prove that it had been recognized during the past sixty years by various owners on the block. Mr. Merrill, of Merrill & Rogers, who represented the defendant, contended that the restriction was invalid, on account of being improperly executed—and that it had been disregarded and violated in a majority of instances.

The court has now rendered a decision sustaining the defense and dismissing the complaint. The importance of the decision lies in the fact that the tendency of that section of the city is to change from residence to business. The value of every house on the block will be increased now that the restriction is held invalid. Expert evidence was offered, among others that of Minturn Post Collins, to show that property that would be worth $2,500 a front foot if restricted to residences would be worth $4,500 a front foot for business purposes.

New Tract to be Developed on Palisades.

A vacant tract of approximately 35 acres on the Palisades, opposite 150th st, lying between Palisades av on the east and Anderson av on the west, about three-quarters of a mile north of Grantwood-on-the-Hudson, formerly owned by Henry H. Walker and LeMontte D. Smith, of Jersey City, and later sold by them to Edward H. Ryan, has just been purchased by Wallace W. Slocum and associates, who will immediately develop the tract and place same on the market.

The Architectural Record for March.

In the current issue it has, as ever, been attempted and perhaps with some degree of success to give to the contents of the magazine as wide and representative a character as possible. To make the subject-matter of a magazine such as the Architectural Record interesting and most readable to a very large number of people, and in this way pave the way for at least some measure of popular interest in the architectural profession, is indeed a commendable task.

While the other learned professions are being brought within the understanding of those of us who are non-professional but nevertheless just as interested, through the medium of the various popular magazines and newspapers, no such service has been even attempted in architecture. There must be a very large class of people who want to know something about the profession which most directly affects each living individual in the civilized world.

There are other architectural periodicals, it is true, but they are not of the purpose that we are pursuing above. Yes, architects have their own narrow professional organs, chronicles of the doings and interests that any one not an architect cannot reasonably be expected to show interest in. Then there is another class of architectural literature, the whimsical, ephemeral, effeminate sort which, no doubt, despite its defects, has distinct merits in evoking at least some enthusiasm for the subject.

The contents for the current month include illustrated considerations on the College of the City of New York, and Westminster Abbey, the latter by W. G. Fitzgerald; on Examples of Georgian and Greek Revival Work in the Far South, by J. Robie Kennedy, Jr., and a biographical article on Dr. William Rimmer, the sculptor, by Edward R. Smith.

Great Building Movement Probable Along the West Shore.

Frank E. Knox, president of the Columbia Investment & Real Estate Company, Times Building, Manhattan, says they are hurrying along the buildings now in course of construction at Morsemere and Grantwood, on the Palisades, in anticipation of an increased demand for homes, which is due to the improved transit conditions. Mr. Knox believes that a great building movement is inevitable along the west shore of the Hudson as a result of the recent granting of a franchise to the West Shore Traction Co. to construct a high speed trolley line from Tomkins Cove southward with connections with the McAdoo tunnel.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existingg ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.
